Red Sailor's Peace Bid In A Bottle

A Russian sailor's message of peace, cast into the waves in a green wine bottle somewhere in the Pacific, has washed up on Marin's Point Reyes Peninsula.

The bottle and its contents were found last Thursday by two youths from rural Petaluma, Walter David Roush Jr., 19, and Charles Holybee, 20, as they were target shooting on the Kehoe Ranch, where both are employed.

The youths were on the ocean side of the 1,500-acre ranch, which spans the peninsula, when they saw green bottle and noticed something was inside.

The contents proved to be two picture postcards and a rolled-up note, written in two languages.

The English version of the note read:

"Americans! How do you do? Russian don't want a war!!! Peace and friendship! Goodbye!" It also bore the name of the ship, Trudowiye Rezervy, and the date Sept. 9, 1967.

A Petaluma High School teacher to whom the pair took the note said the Russian version was the same.

The postcards showed a view of Petropavlovsk, a port city on the Kamchatka peninsula in Siberia, and a ship moving past the Kamchataka peninsula.

The message of peace must have floated far. The Coast Guard said it has no record of a ship of that name being sighted near the American coast.

Western Democrats Asking Convention Choice Loyalty

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Western Democrats today called for adoption of a loyalty oath at the party's 1968 national convention. All delegates would be required to pledge support of President Johnson if he runs for re-election—as expected.

The oath would be aimed at "peace" delegates opposed to the Vietnam war. Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey told a meeting of the National Committee at the Washington Hilton Hotel that the Vietnam war will be "the big issue" in the presidential race next year.

Shortly before Bailey's speech, national committeemen from 13 western states and Guam caucused and unanimously supported a rule to require delegates to pledge loyalty to the ticket selected at the convention next August in Chicago.

"Before delegates would be seated, they would have to pledge support for the convention choice," said Eugene L. Wyman of Los Angeles, national committeeman from California. It is all but certain Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will be renominated.

Wyman said there was no attempt to bind delegates to support Johnson before the convention meets. "We just don't want them to have it two ways," he said.

The western Democrats plan to press the issue of the loyalty oath at a meeting tonight of the equal rights committee of the national committee, headed by Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

In his speech, Bailey acknowledged that controversy over conduct of the Vietnam war has put the heat on Johnson.

But Bailey, in a report to the Democratic National Committee, predicted that a "bloody gang fight" for the Republican presidential nomination will pave the way for Johnson's re-election.

"Twice daily, some Republican presidential hopeful comes up with another new plan for Vietnam," Bailey said. "Second guessers, the experts at changing their minds, are after the President in full force."

He warned Democrats not to be "stampeded by pollsters" whose surveys indicate John-

Principal Suspended In Marijuana Smoking

Nicasio School District trustees took an action yesterday they never dreamed they'd have to take.

They suspended Mrs. Garnet Brennan, 58-year-old, gray-haired principal of their small rural school, a well-regarded member of the staff for six years.

The cause, even more unbelievable to them: her admitted marijuana smoking for the past 18 years.

After a flurry of weekend meetings, including a talk with Mrs. Bennan, trustees suspended her "until further notice pending review by this board."

Community reaction and further review is expected when trustees meet at 8 p.m. today at Nicasio School.

Trustee Nick Kobseff said the board filed charges against Mrs. Brennan on the grounds that she had admitted that she had repeatedly violated state laws "relating to use and possession of marijuana."

The charge reads "immoral conduct," but specifically it was Mrs. Brennan's admission by affidavit that she has used marijuana, Kobseff explained.

Trustees were stunned Saturday when it was published that Mrs. Brennan had signed an affidavit that she had smoked marijuana since 1949.

Mrs. Brennan said yesterday she didn't know yet whether she would attend tonight's board session until she received the advice of Attorney Molly Minudri.

Mrs. Brennan was one of 46 Bay Area residents who made San Francisco Court depositions in support of Melkon Melkonian, 34, of 424 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, who was convicted two months ago of "aiding and abetting the sale of marijuana."

Mrs. Brennan, who teaches third, fourth and fifth graders, admitted smoking "one or two marijuana cigarettes every evening," but said she has never smoked marijuana at school.

She said she is a friend of Melkonian, and feels that the law on marijuana is unconstitutional. Mrs. Brennan, who has been a teacher for 30 years, lives at Sinaloa Avenue, Forest Knolls.

Mrs. Brennan quickly drew the attention of Marin county law enforcement agencies. Marin Undersheriff Sidney

Cab Driver Blows Smoke —Arrested

Peter Lee Arbuthnot, Mill Valley cab driver, was arrested Saturday noon for blowing smoke in a policeman's face.

The smoke, according to Mill Valley Patrolman Robert J. Dyche, came from a marijuana cigarette.

Dyche said Arbuthnot walked into the Mill Valley police station at 12:10 p.m. smoking a yellow-paper cigarette and said he wanted to protest California laws against marijuana.

He then blew smoke toward Dyche's face, according to the officer. Dyche reported the smoke "had a peculiar odor," and he asked Arbuthnot if it was marijuana. Arbuthnot said it was, Dyche reported, and Dyche arrested him for possession of marijuana.

He was held at Marin County jail in lieu of $550 bond and was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

While being booked, Arbuthnot handed Dyche a letter, which Dyche said indicated the incident had been planned for some time.

Reagan Calls Special Reapportioning Session

High Court Advice Heeded By Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today "reluctantly" called a special session of the legislature, convening Nov. 6, to reapportion California's congressional districts.

Reagan heeded the recommendation of the State Supreme Court after discussing the matter with legislative leaders of both parties in his office earlier today.

The court said last Friday that it would reapportion at least some of the state's 38 U. S. House districts if the legislature failed to by Dec. 7.

Reagan agreed with legislators who thought reapportionment should wait until after the 1970 census is completed so the redrafting of district lines can be based on up-to-date population figures.

"I'm sorry this decision was made," Reagan told a hastily called news conference. "I think all of us are agreed. This is a task to be done after the 1970 census."

THIS IS PROPER

But in view of the court decision, he added, "this is the proper function of the legislature."

Reagan said he hoped the "troops will be out of the trenches before Thanksgiving."

Sen. James Mills, D-San Diego, chairman of the Senate Elections and Reapportionment Committee, said the only plan that could get through the legislature would be one that would favor incumbent congressmen, Republicans and Democrats alike.

COURT DECISION

Most legislators, although they disputed the court decision, had urged the governor to call the session.

"I think the legislature would prefer to do this rather than have the court do it for us," said Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan of Tracy, the Assembly Republican leader.

Republican Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch indicated over the weekend that the legislature would be called back to Sacramento a week from today.

The State Supreme Court ruled Friday the legislature would have to redraft some district boundaries by Dec. 7 or the court would do the job itself.

The 1967 legislature put off congressional reapportionment this summer, contending any action would be meaningless before the 1970 census figures are available.

But the court said action must be taken now to meet the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man one-vote rulings.

The population of California districts vary from extremes of 310,172 to 591,822 compared with an "ideal" district population of 414,000, the court said. This means residents of some districts theoretically have more voting power in the U.S. House of Representatives than those in other parts of the state.

"Time is of the essence," the court said.

West Marin's Density Plan Is Reopened

By WAT TAKESHITA

Over the objections of County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, the Marin County Planning commissioners today decided to reopen the West Marin density question at a workshop session next Monday, Oct. 16.

The workshop will be held at 9 a.m. in Room 400 at the Civic Center to see how the West Marin Master Plan could be applied under a density of 1.15 units per acre instead of the .88 density provided in the present West Marin interim ordinance.

"If you expect to hear from the staff, next week is too early," said Zucker. "If the commission wants to discuss it among themselves and with the public, then it would be appropriate."

ZUCKER OBJECTION

"Then let's discuss it among ourselves," suggested Dr. William F. Upton.

"The thing I'm objecting to is that the commission does not seem to be requesting the staff's views," complained Zucker.

Commissioner Walter F. Freitas wanted to take immediate action, recommending a change in density from .88 to 1.15 and sending it back to the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Niels Schultz Jr. proposed that the county planning director prepare a proposal to change the density from .88 to 1.15.

Red Sox Defeat St. Louis, 3 To 1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gentleman Jim Lonborg rescued the staggering Boston Red Sox with his second straight victory over the St. Louis Cardinals today, 3-1 and sent the World Series back to Boston for at least a sixth game Wednesday.

Lonborg shut out the Cards until Roger Maris homered with two out in the ninth.

The handsome 24-year-old right-hander, who blanked the National League champions with one hit Thursday, cut the Cards' edge in games to 3-2 with a three-hitter in the fifth game before a dazed crowd of 54,575 fans at Busch Stadium.

It was the lowest hit total by a pitcher in two consecutive Series games.

Ken Harrelson, the fellow who was fired by Kansas City's Charley Finley only to sign with Boston for $75,000, drove in the first run of the game with a single in the third inning. It was an unearned run off 22-year-old Steve Carlton, the Cards' lefty starter, as Harrelson's hit followed a single by Joe Foy and an error by Mike Shannon on Mike Andrews' sacrifice bunt.

A Red Sox two-run rally in the ninth seemed to be only frosting on Lonborg's cake at the time but it meant the ball game after Maris hit his sixth Series homer in the last of the ninth.

Ron Willis, the third Card pitcher, loaded the bases in the ninth with a walk to George Scott, a double by Reggie Smith and an intentional pass to Rico Petrocelli.

After Willis threw one ball to Elston Howard, Jack Lamabe came on to face the veteran catcher. Howard singled to right, scoring Scott, and Smith also came home when Maris' throw to the plate was high. Both runs were charged to Willis.

The Cards were luckly to get out of the inning on a double play involving a complicated rundown play at the plate.

Lonborg, who admitted he had the sniffles, simply was superb all through the cool sunny afternoon. He said he felt he was home free after the Red Sox got the two runs in the top of the ninth.

Polls To Open 7 A.M.; Will Close At 7:30 P.M.

All voters in Tamalpais School District will have at least one finance measure on which to ballot tomorrow. Those in San Anselmo and Sausalito Elementary School Districts — both included in the Tam district — will have more.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and will have an unusual closing time — 7:30 p.m., a half-hour later than usual.

The issue before all voters in the high school district is whether it should be authorized to issue $12,315,000 in bonds for two new high schools and expansion of the three existing ones.

The bond issue — which would bond Tam High District to its legal limit for at least five years — would finance buildings of new schools on sites already purchased in Tiburon and the San Geronimo Valley. The former would be developed for 1,150 students; the latter, for 800 — of an eventual expected enrollment of 1,500.

The funds would also pay for a covered eating area and science laboratories at Sir Francis Drake High School; new classrooms and remodeling at Tamalpais High School; a music and arts building at Redwood High School, and a $60,000 expansion of the district administrative office.

These additions are projected to take care of the district's enrollment through 1977.

In San Anselmo School District, woters will decide the fate of a local bond issue and tax limit increase, as well as balloting on the Tam High District bonds.

The San Anselmo District proposes a $950,000 bond issue to finance four more classrooms at Red Hill School, multi-use rooms at Red Hill and Hidden Valley schools, two kindergarten rooms at Sleepy Hollow School, a district administration office at Red Hill, and remodeling of Isabel Cook and Wade Thomas schools.

The tax measure would authorize an increase of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the district's general purpose operating tax. The limit for this purpose is now $2.25, authorized by voters several years ago to continue indefinitely. The district board proposes it be raised to $3. Supt. Stephen L. Parodi has predicted 25 cents of the increase will be needed next year.

These additions are projected to take care of the district's enrollment through 1977.

In San Anselmo School District, woters will decide the fate of a local bond issue and tax limit increase, as well as balloting on the Tam High District bonds.

The San Anselmo District proposes a $950,000 bond issue to finance four more classrooms at Red Hill School, multi-use rooms at Red Hill and Hidden Valley schools, two kindergarten rooms at Sleepy Hollow School, a district administration office at Red Hill, and remodeling of Isabel Cook and Wade Thomas schools.

The tax measure would authorize an increase of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the district's general purpose operating tax. The limit for this purpose is now $2.25, authorized by voters several years ago to continue indefinitely. The district board proposes it be raised to $3. Supt. Stephen L. Parodi has predicted 25 cents of the increase will be needed next year.

Much-Married Manville Dies In New York

TOMMY MANVILLE
First wed at 17

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. (UPI)—Marrying millionaire Tommy Manville, who once locked his 11th wife out of his home because he said he was tired of her "fussing around," died yesterday with her at his side. He was 74.

The widow, German-born Christina Erdlen, 26, married the heir to asbestos millions in 1960 soon after he met her when she was working as a waitress at a restaurant in nearby White Plains, N.Y.

HEART PATIENT

Death came to Manville at his secluded home in this fashionable New York City suburb. He had been a frequent heart patient at Doctors' Hospital in New York City during the past two years.

Mrs. Manville is expected to inherit the bulk of her husband's fortune estimated at $30 million. Manville had no children and the only other survivor is the daughter of his sister.

The fortune, inherited from his father who was the founder and chairman of the Johns-Manville Corp., has been reduced by about $2 million by marriage settlements and lawyers' fees.

13 MARRIAGES

These were run up during a half century of marriages and divorces that left his final score at 13 marriages, 11 divorces, 11 wives and innumerable separations. He married two of his wives twice and was widowed once when his wife died in an auto accident. In an effort to thwart annulment action threatened by his father, Manville married wives No. 1 and No. 6 twice.

Manville's rocky road of matrimony started in 1911 when he was 17.

He married showgirl Florence Huber, several years his senior. The marriage lasted until 1925, longer than any of his others. After her, his wives changed frequently.

The funeral will be private.

Freshmen Held Best Aim For Top Professors

STANFORD (UPI) — Universities should direct their best resources and most talented professors toward freshmen, a Stanford research professor concludes after a four - year study.

"We constantly underestimate the intelligence and autonomy of people of all ages," said Joseph Katz of the Institute for the Study of Human Problems, adding that "we must enlarge the opportunities for freshmen to act independently."

Katz' observations are based on a four - year study of students at Stanford and the University of California at Berkeley. The study, released yesterday, included test and questionnaire data for more than 3,000 members of the classes of 1965.

Katz said the entering freshman is "much less a theoretical person than an ideological one." He said this presents a problem because the student finds himself faced with academic values out of keeping with his adolescent status.

"In the freshman year this ideological bent should be given full chance of expression," Katz said. "This may go against the grain of academic orientation. The professor is aghast at the inaccuracies, grandiosities, vaguenesses, confusions and emotionalities..."

Katz said the freshman year should end in "some feeling of success, competence, something new learned, some new capacity for enjoyment acquired."

Attlee Dies At 84; Ex-Prime Minister

EARL CLEMENT ATTLEE
Bout with pneumonia

By HARRY STATHOS

LONDON (UPI) — Tributes from the world's four corners poured in today for former Prime Minister Earl (Clement) Attlee, who died in his sleep yesterday after a bout with pneumonia.

Attlee, Winston Churchill's deputy in World War II and the man who led the Labor party to victory over Churchill after the war, had been in London's Westminister Hospital since last month. He was 84.

"His passing is a loss . . . to all men moved by democratic ideals and the spirit of freedom," President Johnson said in a message that described Attlee as one of the pillars of the Western alliance and a strong defender of democracy and freedom.

LEAN YEARS

Attlee guided Britain to recovery through the lean and difficult postwar years, and at the same time presided over its most profound social and economic revolution in a century.

His government set up a cradle-to-grave welfare system and began the process that turned a mighty empire into a commonwealth of free nations. It nationalized key industries, transport and communications and undertook a massive project to rehouse bombed-out Britons.

SHY, SCHOLARLY

Attlee, shy and scholarly in appearance, steered what he described as "a middle course between dying, decadent capitalism and arbitrary, misguided communism."

"Clem Attlee was one of the greatest men of our generation," said Harold Wilson, the first labor prime minister since Attlee.

Wilson said Attlee was "a man of deep social compassion and a crisp and efficient administrator, a world statesman of idealism and practical vision."

Queen Elizabeth, one of the first to pay tribute to Attlee, said he "made an enduring place for himself in the history of the Commonwealth. In war and peace he served his sovereign and the nation well."

West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt praised Attlee as a man who had done much toward Anglo-German reconciliation.

Indian President Zakir Husain said his country could never forget Attlee's "great and wise statesmanship" in making India independent.

Attlee's body will be cremated and his ashes interred in Westminister Abbey early next month.

ORDINANCE REDRAFT

Fire Commission Solution Near

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

City Atty. David Menary Jr. believes he has solved the problem of drafting an ordinance which will set forth the powers of San Rafael's three city commissions without incurring further wrath of fire commissioners.

The ordinance is necessary to implement Charter Proposition I, passed by the voters last April by a vote of 2,824 to 2,491.

Proposition I embodied several things. It allowed city councilmen to serve as members of fire commission, park and recreation commission, and library board. It set the terms of members of all three of these commissions at four years. It eliminated voting membership of the fire chief on the fire commission, making him an ex-officio member. It eliminated minimum tax rates set in the charter for parks and library. And it provided that the commissions should "exercise such powers and perform such duties as fixed by charter and ordinance."

OCT. 16 MEETING

It was the last provision that caused Menary to hope to rewrite the ordinance. He will present what he hopes is the final draft to the city council at its Oct. 16 meeting.

Nearly all objections to the previous drafts came from fire commissioners. Little was heard from the library board or parks and recreation commission.

That there were objections may seem strange in view of the fact that this portion of Proposition I, as it applied to the fire commission, was actually included in the old 1912 charter being amended. The old charter said: "The board of fire commissioners shall exercise such powers and perform such duties as may be prescribed or conferred in this charter or the ordinances of the city."

QUITE BROAD

The catch is that under an ordinance adopted Sept. 10, 1965, the powers granted the fire commission were quite broad. That ordinance provided the commission should "exercise complete supervision and control of the fire department of said city, its housing facilities, fire stations, quarters, equipment and personnel, and to formulate and adopt policies, rules and regulations governing the department." It also provided that no fireman could be hired, promoted or demoted without prior approval of the fire commission. It also provided that the fire commission should draw up the annual budget for the fire department for presentation to the city council.

This sweeping grant of powers to a non-elective commission was not unique. The library board, ever since adoption of the 1912 charter, had power not only to select personnel for the library, but to fix salaries, and to buy property for library use. The park commission was similarly given powers under the original chapter to hire, fire, fix salaries, and to "control the expenditure of all money in the park fund of the city treasury."

The difference is that, over the years, neither library board nor parks and recreation commission has attempted to exercise its broad charter powers. But the fire commission has been quite zealous in fulfilling what its members regarded as its full duties under the 1965 ordinance and a similar ordinance that preceded it.

ADVISORY STATUS

So when Menary presented a proposed new ordinance embodying the changes called for in Proposition I and reducing all three commissions to an advisory status, the criticism came from the fire commission.

Chairman Harry M. Williams and Commissioner J. Warren Crane appeared before the city council at its Oct. 2 meeting to object to any change in the present fire commission ordinance.

"I can't see any point in sitting there and just be in an advisory capacity," declared Williams, the senior member of the five-man commission.

The redraft of the proposed ordinance still will take something from the fire commission's power. It will give it advisory capacity only, as to hiring, firing, promotion and demotion. Otherwise, however, its powers will be untouched, Menary indicated.

Library board and park-recreation commission presumably will be made advisory only

Scott Warns Against War Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., warned Republicans today the GOP must not become a "peace at any price" party.

Scott, in a prepared Senate speech, vowed to do "everything in my power" to see that President Johnson is not re-elected in 1968. But, he said, he would continue to support Johnson's Vietnam policies in the meantime.

NO GAMES

"I personally do not enjoy defending Lyndon Johnson," the former GOP national chairman said. "But I will not play parchesi with the war.

"The war in Vietnam is not and must not become a political issue," Scott added. "It would be unwise to seek political gain from involvement of American servicemen in this far-off land."

SCHLESINGER VIEW

Former White House Aide Arthur M. Schlesinger J., disagreed with Scott's stand that the war is not a political issue.

Schlesinger, in a speech yesterday to the National Assembly for Negotiation Now, urged Republicans to "work for antiescalation candidates in their party" in 1968.

Schlesinger, who was a special assistant to President Kennedy and to Johnson until 1964, said Johnson should be denied re-election if he continues his present course in Vietnam.

ORDINANCE REDRAFT

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

City Atty. David Menary Jr. believes he has solved the problem of drafting an ordinance which will set forth the powers of San Rafael's three city commissions without incurring further wrath of fire commissioners.

The ordinance is necessary to implement Charter Proposition I, passed by the voters last April by a vote of 2,824 to 2,491.

Proposition I embodied several things. It allowed city councilmen to serve as members of fire commission, park and recreation commission, and library board. It set the terms of members of all three of these commissions at four years. It eliminated voting membership of the fire chief on the fire commission, making him an ex-officio member. It eliminated minimum tax rates set in the charter for parks and library. And it provided that the commissions should "exercise such powers and perform such duties as fixed by charter and ordinance."

OCT. 16 MEETING

It was the last provision that caused Menary to hope to rewrite the ordinance. He will present what he hopes is the final draft to the city council at its Oct. 16 meeting.

Nearly all objections to the previous drafts came from fire commissioners. Little was heard from the library board or parks and recreation commission.

That there were objections may seem strange in view of the fact that this portion of Proposition I, as it applied to the fire commission, was actually included in the old 1912 charter being amended. The old charter said: "The board of fire commissioners shall exercise such powers and perform such duties as may be prescribed or conferred in this charter or the ordinances of the city."

QUITE BROAD

The catch is that under an ordinance adopted Sept. 10, 1965, the powers granted the fire commission were quite broad. That ordinance provided the commission should "exercise complete supervision and control of the fire department of said city, its housing facilities, fire stations, quarters, equipment and personnel, and to formulate and adopt policies, rules and regulations governing the department." It also provided that no fireman could be hired, promoted or demoted without prior approval of the fire commission. It also provided that the fire commission should draw up the annual budget for the fire department for presentation to the city council.

This sweeping grant of powers to a non-elective commission was not unique. The library board, ever since adoption of the 1912 charter, had power not only to select personnel for the library, but to fix salaries, and to buy property for library use. The park commission was similarly given powers under the original chapter to hire, fire, fix salaries, and to "control the expenditure of all money in the park fund of the city treasury."

The difference is that, over the years, neither library board nor parks and recreation commission has attempted to exercise its broad charter powers. But the fire commission has been quite zealous in fulfilling what its members regarded as its full duties under the 1965 ordinance and a similar ordinance that preceded it.

ADVISORY STATUS

So when Menary presented a proposed new ordinance embodying the changes called for in Proposition I and reducing all three commissions to an advisory status, the criticism came from the fire commission.

Chairman Harry M. Williams and Commissioner J. Warren Crane appeared before the city council at its Oct. 2 meeting to object to any change in the present fire commission ordinance.

"I can't see any point in sitting there and just be in an advisory capacity," declared Williams, the senior member of the five-man commission.

The redraft of the proposed ordinance still will take something from the fire commission's power. It will give it advisory capacity only, as to hiring, firing, promotion and demotion. Otherwise, however, its powers will be untouched, Menary indicated.

Library board and park-recreation commission presumably will be made advisory only

Scott Warns Against War Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., warned Republicans today the GOP must not become a "peace at any price" party.

Scott, in a prepared Senate speech, vowed to do "everything in my power" to see that President Johnson is not reelected in 1968. But, he said, he would continue to support Johnson's Vietnam policies in the meantime.

NO GAMES

"I personally do not enjoy defending Lyndon Johnson," the former GOP national chairman said. "But I will not play parchesi with the war.

"The war in Vietnam is not and must not become a political issue," Scott added. "It would be unwise to seek political gain from involvement of American servicemen in this far-off land."

SCHLESINGER VIEW

Former White House Aide Arthur M. Schlesinger J., disagreed with Scott's stand that the war is not a political issue.

Schlesinger, in a speech yesterday to the National Assembly for Negotiation Now, urged Republicans to "work for antiescalation candidates in their party" in 1968.

Schlesinger, who was a special assistant to President Kennedy and to Johnson until 1964, said Johnson should be denied re-election if he continues his present course in Vietnam.

Paratroopers Knuckle Way Out Of A Trap

SAIGON (UPI) — Outnumbered American paratroopers using fists and knives as well as guns and grenades fought their way out of a North Vietnamese trap killing 60 Communists and sending the rest of a 200-man company fleeing for hideouts in the hills, a U.S. spokesman said today.

The fighting was so close in drenching monsoon rains that the "Screaming Eagle" troopers from the 101st Airborne Division could not get help from artillery or air strikes. And the North Vietnamese may have been afraid to use a new Russian flamethrower they had and lost in the close-quarter battle.

Over North Vietnam, American pilots stepping up the air war fought off MIG jets to bomb for the first time a MIG base and an oil dump taken off the previously forgotten target list.

They also destroyed six Russian-built helicopters—two of them MI6 models capable of carrying 120 fully equipped troops.

RUSS AID

The helicopters, found for the first time, and the flamethrower were considered evidence of increasing Soviet aid to the Communist Hanoi regime.

For the past five days, the tempo of the air war has been increased over North Vietnam with strikes along the Communist Chinese border as well as near Hanoi and Haiphong.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, today called the stepped-up raids "a further extremely dangerous escalation" of the war and called President Johnson's offer to stop the bombing "nothing but deceit."

PLANES DOWN

U.S. headquarters in Saigon announced three American planes were shot down Saturday bringing to seven the number of U.S. warplanes shot down in the past five days. Radio Hanoi claimed nine were downed Saturday.

The North Vietnamese ambush was set up in the coastal plains about 12 miles south-southeast of An Hoa and 350 miles northeast of Saigon. The paratroopers have been sweeping the area to clean out guerrilla pockets threatening major U.S. Marine bases and supply lines.

The fight began yesterday when a platoon of about 40 men was hit from two sides by withering mortar and automatic weapons fire. Quickly, the Communists encircled the platoon.

Other paratroop units in the area battled their way to the platoon, charging through Communist lines and, according to the spokesman, "using their bare knuckles" as well as knives in some cases.

The fight raged for four hours. When it was over, and the North Vietnamese retreated to hills to the west, the paratroopers found 60 Communist bodies. There were 17 Americans killed and four wounded, an unusually high ratio of dead over wounded.

Nun Burns Self To Death In Buddhist Disagreement

SAIGON (UPI)—A high-ranking nun burned herself to death in an anti-government protest, it was announced today. The dispute she gave her life for appeared on the verge of settlement.

The nun was identified as 50, a leader of the nuns who follow militant Buddhist Tihch Tri Quang, now in his 12th day of a sit-in on the lawn outside the Independence Palace office of President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu.

"I am very sorry to learn of the loss of another life," Tri Quang said. "It is a great misfortune."

PROTEST

But the militant leader said he plans to continue his personal protest until Thieu gives in and withdraws a charter recognizing a more moderate faction as South Vietnam's official church.

In the latest of a series of conciliatory letters, Thieu urged Buddhist leaders to call off their struggle, promising that their demands would be met soon.

Buddhist leaders gave the letter as their reason for calling off a march yesterday to Tri Quang's side.

At the same time, however, police threw barbed wire barricades across all streets leading to the palace, and surrounded pagodas from which the march was to have started with concertina barbed wire rolls.

GET TOUGH

Police earlier had announced new get-tough tactics, warning that no more than 20 monks and nuns would be allowed to "visit" Tri Quang. The warning came on the heels of anti-demonstration directives that subject violators to loss of civil rights and draft age youths, including students with deferments, to immediate military draft.

In the past few days police have sent to the military at least 15 students involved in anti-government protests including the head of the powerful Saigon Student's Association.

STOPS STUDENTS

Observers felt the tough police action may have broken the back of the dissident students.

The death of Nu Tri Chon was announced by Thich Nhat Truong, chairman of the militant monks and nuns committee for the defense of the charter. He said she burned herself at Sadec, a Mekong Delta city about 80 miles southwest of Saigon.

Guilty Pleas From Escapees

Two San Quentin inmates pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court today to an eventful May 5 escape from the prison.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson then sentenced the pair, Carl M. Wilwerding, 32, and Donald C. Ward, 27, to one year-to-life terms additional to the terms they presently are serving.

He also dismissed a second count against each, possession of a homemade zip gun, on recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales following the earlier pleas.

The pair overpowered a civilian foreman at the old dairy ranch in the prison's minimum security area, stole a truck, and gunned it through the open west gate.

Their vehicle crashed into two others soon after and they were recaptured.

Yard Rental Rule To Be Set

Marin Municipal Water District board policy on temporary rental of portions of the San Rafael corporation yard property will be asked Wednesday by General Mgr. William R. Seeger.

The board meets at 1:30 p.m., at the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Seeger said today he has received some requests for use of the yard for Christmas tree lots.

Democrats now hold 21 of California's congressional seats and Republicans 17.

The real battle will come after the 1970 census, Monagan said, when California is expected to gain about seven seats in Congress because of its population growth.

"That's going to be most interesting," he predicted.

Republicans hope to control both houses of the state legislature by then, giving them an advantage in drawing congressional district boundaries to help GOP candidates. The new districts still will have to meet the one-man one-vote test.

Democrats now control the Assembly 42-38 and there is a 20-20 party split in the Senate.

The Senate's veteran leader, Democratic President pro tem Hugh M. Burns of Fresno, suggested the legislature let the Supreme Court justices impose their own reapportionment until then.

Arbuthnot was a draftsman with an engineering firm until six months ago, when he reportedly became disillusioned by the business world and dropped out, taking the cab-driving job.

son's popularity is on the wane.

"The difference between the Vietnam position of President Johnson and the Republican party is this: President Johnson seeks to prevent World War III. Most Republicans are busy trying to win the 1968 election any way they can."

Bailey told the national committee he saw a "bloody gang fight" for the GOP presidential nomination shaping up among former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Michigan Gov. George Romney, California Gov. Ronald Reagan, and Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill.

TAKE ADVANTAGE

"Let's take advantage of it," Bailey said. "The Democratic party is in good shape. We're in excellent shape financially, we're in fine shape with the people, and we have a great President in the White House—a President who doesn't scare easily."

Johnson, in a speech Saturday night to 3,000 cheering Democrats attending a $1,000-a-couple fund-raising dinner, said he realized he could gain temporary popularity by "renouncing the struggle in Vietnam or escalating it to the redline of danger."

"We can take the easy road now, denying our responsibilities, hoping a rise in our poll will compensate for what we ought to have done for our country or we take the harder road of responsibility," Johnson said. "I have made my choice."

The Democratic National Committee was meeting today to ratify the choice of Chicago for the party's 1968 national convention.

The Democratic convention will open at the International Amphitheatere Aug. 26, enabling President Johnson to launch his re-election campaign the following Monday—Labor Day.

The Republicans are getting a three-week jump on the Democrats, holding their convention the week of Aug. 5 in Miami Beach.

Bailey said the net worth of the Chicago bid for the convention, including services, was $900,000.

Miami Beach and Houston each bid $650,000 cash.

15,000 Persons Attend Grape Festival

The one-day Grape Festival drew 15,000 persons on Saturday at Northgate Fashion Mall in Terra Linda, the sponsors reported.

Sponsors said it was a 50 per cent increase over last year. Proceeds support the work of the Sunny Hills Children's Services. This year's goal of $30,000 from sale of items at the old fashioned county fair was believed surpassed. Grape Festival Chairman Mrs. Donald McCaw said all the profits haven't yet been counted.

McCarthy, Wife Separated

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, and his wife, Ursula, have separated after 19 years of marriage, his office announced today.

Mrs. McCarthy will continue to reside with their seven children at the family home on Pepper Way in San Rafael, according to a press statement issued by his staff. McCarthy has taken an apartment in the county, it said.

Sen. McCarthy's attorney, E. Warren McGuire, and Mrs. McCarthy's attorney, Mrs. Natalie Holly, termed the separation "unforunate," adding that "both Senator and Mrs. McCarthy have a deep mutual respect for each other which shall continue."

Both are 44.

PLAN

wanted the workshop session first to discuss how higher density will be applied before recommending the change in density to the supervisors.

HIGHER DENSITIES

Most of the commissioners indicated this morning that a change to the 1:15 density seems inevitable.

Both Commissioners Hugh Dougherty and Margaret Azevedo said they would go for higher densities if the population centers can be concentrated, for example near shopping centers, instead of being spread out throughout West Marin.

Mrs. Azevedo said she favors this "technique of centralizing densities" in certain areas. "If the additional density can be taken up in higher density centers, only then can we preserve the rural nature of West Marin."

Zucked insisted on a one or two year study before the higher density is set. He said the concentration of population would be fine, but he doubts this is feasible.

"Are all owners going to be treated equally?" asked Zucker. "If all are to be treated equally, then your concept of concentrated population may be difficult."

Zucker said he doubts that multiple apartments for concentrated population would be marketable in West Marin.

Melvin Rupp, manager of the Marin Property Owners Association, urged immediate action to change the density to 1.15.

A member of the audience, who said he represents the Inverness Improvement Association, said Rupp does not necessarily represent the people of West Marin. "Many homeowners do not agree with him."

Rupp replied that he has attended many meetings with homeowners in West Marin, and "I've never heard this gentleman speak before."

Poodle Stolen From Car

A miniature poodle, answering to the name of Gigi, was reported stolen early yesterday from a car parked at 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, police reported today.

Richard Ponds of Petaluma said he left the dog in his car with the window partly open for ventilation. The thief apparently used wire to operate the door handle from inside, said police.

Another car owner Ricard W. Gudgel of 200 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, reported the theft of an umbrella, dinner plates and silverware from his unlocked car parked at the same location at about the same time. Value of the items was placed at $40.50.

Burglars Take Cash At Service Station

A burllar early Saturday broke into a Shell Service Station at 77 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and stole $326 in cash and credit card receipts, Mill Valley police reported today.

The thief took a canvas bag containing Friday's receipts, which included $146 in credit card receipts. The loss was reported last Saturday morning by station manager Herbert Waud.

Stinson said he went out to her house Friday night, talked with her and asked her permission to search the premises for marijuana.

She refused, said Stinson. On Saturday, District Attorney Bruce B. Bales and his assistant, Leonard Shaw, prepared a search warrant. Municipal Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. declined to sign the warrant on the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence for it.

Judge Goldstein said, "They eliminated the probability that marijuana would be found on the premises by going there 24 hours earlier without a warrant."

District Attorney Bales said today that he could not prosecute Mrs. Brennan on the basis of her affadavit in support of Melkonian, because: "We would have to have the narcotics itself or some other independent evidence that she possessed marijuana."

Judge Goldstein said Lt. George Barnes of the sheriff's office telephoned him Sunday afternoon and advised that the police were withdrawing their application for a warrant.

Melkonian, meanwhile, was scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court today for judgement on his August 16 plea of "no contest" to a charge of possession of marijuana for sale which was made against him on Jan. 16, 1966. Bales said he is asking for a state prison sentence for Melkonian.

POLLS

The general purpose operating rate is the only portion of school district tax rate that is subject to voter approval. The total tax rate levied by the San Anselmo district this year is $3.415 per $100 valuation.

Sausalito School District voters will decide the fate of a proposed $1,400,000 local bond issue besides balloting on the Tam District proposal.

The Sausalito bonds would finance a new kindergarten-fourth grade school on the Bayside School site, designed as an "eduational park" for children from throughout the district. This would replace three existing schools: Bayside, Central, and Mazanita. Children in fifth through eighth grades would continue to attend Richardson Bay School.

The district two years ago abandoned the traditional neighborhood schools concept for the sake of better racial intergration, and children are assigned to the existing schools by grade level. The new building would put them all together, through fourth grade.

All the bond issues require a two-thirds "yes" vote for authorization. The San Anselmo tax proposal requires only a simple majority.

Novato Council Postpones Meeting

The Novato City Council will not hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow because there will not be a quorum and City Mgr. J. Julien Baget is on vacation.

The meeting has been postponed until 8 p.m. Oct. 17. The council will also meet on Oct. 24.

Radiators Taken

Car radiators, valued at $522, were stolen from Bruce's Radiator and Muffler Shop at 8 Harbor Street, San Rafael, early Sunday, police reported today. Entry was gained by pushing in a window.

OBITUARIES

Funeral Set For Isaac Sanchez, 26

Funeral will be tomorrow for a 26-year-old San Rafael man, father of four children, who was killed in Sonoma County Friday when his car went out of control and skidded off Highway 12.

The young man, Isaac A. Sanchez Jr., of 16 Meadow Avenue, was pronounced dead at Sonoma Valley Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol said the car left Highway 12 at a spot 200 feet west of Cavedale Road, sideswiped a power pole, hit a mail box and then ran into a tree. The car, said the highway patrol, was a total loss. Sanchez was eastbound on the highway.

Sanchez, who was born in New Mexico, is survived by his wife, Sharon; four children, Iky, Ange, Tony and Rita; by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac A. Sanchez Sr.; by two brothers and a sister, Larry and Joe Sanchez, and Silvia Velasques, all of San Rafael.

The funeral will be at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael, and burial will follow. Rosary services will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening at Keatons Chapel.

WILLIAM KAPPELMAN

Funeral for William R. Kappelman of Larkspur will be 4 p.m., tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Kappelman, 37, was found dead in a Petaluma motel Friday. He apparently took an overdose of sleeping pills, the Sonoma County Coroner's Department reported.

His wife, Janet, had reported him missing last Wednesday.

A native of San Francisco, he lived at 148 Madrone Avenue.

Kappelman was a carpenter, and a member of Marin County Local 35 of the Carpenter's Union.

He is survived by his wife; two children, William and Susan, both of Larkspur; his mother, Mrs. Thelma K. Fern of Belvedere, and a half-brother, Alan Kappelman of Mill Valley.

Paratroopers Knuckle Way Out Of A Trap

SAIGON (UPI) — Outnumbered American paratroopers using fists and knives as well as guns and grenades fought their way out of a North Vietnamese trap killing 60 Communists and sending the rest of a 200-man company fleeing for hideouts in the hills, a U.S. spokesman said today.

The fighting was so close in drenching monsoon rains that the "Screaming Eagle" troopers from the 101st Airborne Division could not get help from artillery or air strikes. And the North Vietnamese may have been afraid to use a new Russian flamethrower they had and lost in the close-quarter battle.

Over North Vietnam, American pilots stepping up the air war fought off MIG jets to bomb for the first time a MIG base and an oil dump taken off the previously forgotten target list.

They also destroyed six Russian-built helicopters—two of them MI6 models capable of carrying 120 fully equipped troops.

RUSS AID

The helicopters, found for the first time, and the flamethrower were considered evidence of increasing Soviet aid to the Communist Hanoi regime.

For the past five days, the tempo of the air war has been increased over North Vietnam with strikes along the Communist Chinese border as well as near Hanoi and Haiphong.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, today called the stepped-up raids "a further extremely dangerous escalation" of the war and called President Johnson's offer to stop the bombing "nothing but deceit."

PLANES DOWN

U.S. headquarters in Saigon announced three American planes were shot down Saturday bringing to seven the number of U.S. warplanes shot down in the past five days. Radio Hanoi claimed nine were downed Saturday.

The North Vietnamese ambush was set up in the coastal plains about 12 miles south-southeast of An Hoa and 350 miles northeast of Saigon. The paratroopers have been sweeping the area to clean out guerrilla pockets threatening major U.S. Marine bases and supply lines.

The fight began yesterday when a platoon of about 40 men was hit from two sides by withering mortar and automatic weapons fire. Quickly, the Communists encircled the platoon.

Other paratroop units in the area battled their way to the platoon, charging through Communist lines and, according to the spokesman, "using their bare knuckles" as well as knives in some cases.

The fight raged for four hours. When it was over, and the North Vietnamese retreated to hills to the west, the paratroopers found 60 Communist bodies. There were 17 Americans killed and four wounded, an unusually high ratio of dead over wounded.

Nun Burns Self To Death In Buddhist Disagreement

SAIGON (UPI)—A high-ranking nun burned herself to death in an anti-government protest, it was announced today. The dispute she gave her life for appeared on the verge of settlement.

The nun was identified as 50, a leader of the nuns who follow militant Buddhist Tihch Tri Quang, now in his 12th day of a sit-in on the lawn outside the Independence Palace office of President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu.

"I am very sorry to learn of the loss of another life," Tri Quang said. "It is a great misfortune."

PROTEST

But the militant leader said he plans to continue his personal protest until Thieu gives in and withdraws a charter recognizing a more moderate faction as South Vietnam's official church.

In the latest of a series of conciliatory letters, Thieu urged Buddhist leaders to call off their struggle, promising that their demands would be met soon.

Buddhist leaders gave the letter as their reason for calling off a march yesterday to Tri Quang's side.

At the same time, however, police threw barbed wire barricades across all streets leading to the palace, and surrounded pagodas from which the march was to have started with concertina barbed wire rolls.

GET TOUGH

Police earlier had announced new get-tough tactics, warning that no more than 20 monks and nuns would be allowed to "visit" Tri Quang. The warning came on the heels of anti-demonstration directives that subject violators to loss of civil rights and draft age youths, including students with deferments, to immediate military draft.

In the past few days police have sent to the military at least 15 students involved in anti-government protests including the head of the powerful Saigon Student's Association.

STOPS STUDENTS

Observers felt the tough police action may have broken the back of the dissident students.

The death of Nu Tri Chon was announced by Thich Nhat Truong, chairman of the militant monks and nuns committee for the defense of the charter. He said she burned herself at Sadec, a Mekong Delta city about 80 miles southwest of Saigon.

Guilty Pleas From Escapees

Two San Quentin inmates pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court today to an eventful May 5 escape from the prison.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson then sentenced the pair, Carl M. Wilwerding, 32, and Donald C. Ward, 27, to one year-to-life terms additional to the terms they presently are serving.

He also dismissed a second count against each, possession of a homemade zip gun, on recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales following the earlier pleas.

The pair overpowered a civilian foreman at the old dairy ranch in the prison's minimum security area, stole a truck, and gunned it through the open west gate.

Their vehicle crashed into two others soon after and they were recaptured.

Yard Rental Rule To Be Set

Marin Municipal Water District board policy on temporary rental of portions of the San Rafael corporation yard property will be asked Wednesday by General Mgr. William R. Seeger.

The board meets at 1:30 p.m., at the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Seeger said today he has received some requests for use of the yard for Christmas tree lots.

men.

Democrats now hold 21 of California's congressional seats and Republicans 17.

The real battle will come after the 1970 census, Monagan said, when California is expected to gain about seven seats in Congress because of its population growth.

"That's going to be most interesting," he predicted.

Republicans hope to control both houses of the state legislature by then, giving them an advantage in drawing congressional district boundaries to help GOP candidates. The new districts still will have to meet the one-man one-vote test.

Democrats now control the Assembly 42-38 and there is a 20-20 party split in the Senate.

The Senate's veteran leader, Democratic President pro tem Hugh M. Burns of Fresno, suggested the legislature let the Supreme Court justices impose their own reapportionment until then.

DEMOS

son's popularity is on the wane.

"The difference between the Vietnam position of President Johnson and the Republican party is this: President Johnson seeks to prevent World War III. Most Republicans are busy trying to win the 1968 election any way they can."

Bailey told the national committee he saw a "bloody gang fight" for the GOP presidential nomination shaping up among former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Michigan Gov. George Romney, California Gov. Ronald Reagan, and Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill.

TAKE ADVANTAGE

"Let's take advantage of it," Bailey said. "The Democratic party is in good shape. We're in excellent shape financially, we're in fine shape with the people, and we have a great President in the White House—a President who doesn't scare easily."

Johnson, in a speech Saturday night to 3,000 cheering Democrats attending a $1,000-a-couple fund-raising dinner, said he realized he could gain temporary popularity by "renouncing the struggle in Vietnam or escalating it to the redline of danger."

"We can take the easy road now, denying our responsibilities, hoping a rise in our poll will compensate for what we ought to have done for our country or we take the harder road of responsibility," Johnson said. "I have made my choice."

The Democratic National Commettee was meeting today to ratify the choice of Chicago for the party's 1968 national convention.

The Democratic convention will open at the International Amphitheatere Aug. 26, enabling President Johnson to launch his re-election campaign the following Monday—Labor Day.

The Republicans are getting a three-week jump on the Democrats, holding their convention the week of Aug. 5 in Miami Beach.

Bailey said the net worth of the Chicago bid for the convention, including services, was $900,000.

Miami Beach and Houston each bid $650,000 cash.

15,000 Persons Attend Grape Festival

The one-day Grape Festival drew 15,000 persons on Saturday at Northgate Fashion Mall in Terra Linda, the sponsors reported.

Sponsors said it was a 50 per cent increase over last year. Proceeds support the work of the Sunny Hills Children's Services. This year's goal of $30,000 from sale of items at the old fashioned county fair was believed surpassed. Grape Festival Chairman Mrs. Donald McCaw said all the profits haven't yet been counted.

McCarthy, Wife Separated

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, and his wife, Ursula, have separated after 19 years of marriage, his office announced today.

Mrs. McCarthy will continue to reside with their seven children at the family home on Pepper Way in San Rafael, according to a press statement issued by his staff. McCarthy has taken an apartment in the county, it said.

Sen. McCarthy's attorney, E. Warren McGuire, and Mrs. McCarthy's attorney, Mrs. Natalie Holly, termed the separation "unforunate," adding that "both Senator and Mrs. McCarthy have a deep mutual respect for each other which shall continue."

Both are 44.

PLAN

wanted the workshop session first to discuss how higher density will be applied before recommending the change in density to the supervisors.

HIGHER DENSITIES

Most of the commissioners indicated this morning that a change to the 1:15 density seems inevitable.

Both Commissioners Hugh Dougherty and Margaret Azevedo said they would go for higher densities if the population centers can be concentrated, for example near shopping centers, instead of being spread out throughout West Marin.

Mrs. Azevedo said she favors this "technique of centralizing densities" in certain areas. "If the additional density can be taken up in higher density centers, only then can we preserve the rural nature of West Marin."

Zucked insisted on a one or two year study before the higher density is set. He said the concentration of population would be fine, but he doubts this is feasible.

"Are all owners going to be treated equally?" asked Zucker. "If all are to be treated equally, then your concept of concentrated population may be difficult."

Zucker said he doubts that multiple apartments for concentrated population would be marketable in West Marin.

Melvin Rupp, manager of the Marin Property Owners Association, urged immediate action to change the density to 1.15.

A member of the audience, who said he represents the Inverness Improvement Association, said Rupp does not necessarily represent the people of West Marin. "Many homeowners do not agree with him."

Rupp replied that he has attended many meetings with homeowners in West Marin, and "I've never heard this gentleman speak before."

Poodle Stolen From Car

A miniature poodle, answering to the name of Gigi, was reported stolen early yesterday from a car parked at 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, police reported today.

Richard Ponds of Petaluma said he left the dog in his car with the window partly open for ventilation. The thief apparently used wire to operate the door handle from inside, said police.

Another car owner Ricard W. Gudgel of 200 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, reported the theft of an umbrella, dinner plates and silverware from his unlocked car parked at the same location at about the same time. Value of the items was placed at $40.50.

Burglars Take Cash At Service Station

A burllar early Saturday broke into a Shell Service Station at 77 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and stole $326 in cash and credit card receipts, Mill Valley police reported today.

The thief took a canvas bag containing Friday's receipts, which included $146 in credit card receipts. The loss was reported last Saturday morning by station manager Herbert Waud.

Stinson said he went out to her house Friday night, talked with her and asked her permission to search the premises for marijuana.

She refused, said Stinson. On Saturday, District Attorney Bruce B. Bales and his assistant, Leonard Shaw, prepared a search warrant. Municipal Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. declined to sign the warrant on the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence for it.

Judge Goldstein said, "They eliminated the probability that marijuana would be found on the premises by going there 24 hours earlier without a warrant."

District Attorney Bales said today that he could not prosecute Mrs. Brennan on the basis of her affadavit in support of Melkonian, because: "We would have to have the narcotics itself or some other independent evidence that she possessed marijuana."

Judge Goldstein said Lt. George Barnes of the sheriff's office telephoned him Sunday afternoon and advised that the police were withdrawing their application for a warrant.

Melkonian, meanwhile, was scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court today for judgement on his August 16 plea of "no contest" to a charge of possession of marijuana for sale which was made against him on Jan. 16, 1966. Bales said he is asking for a state prison sentence for Melkonian.

The general purpose operating rate is the only portion of school district tax rate that is subject to voter approval. The total tax rate levied by the San Anselmo district this year is $3.415 per $100 valuation.

Sausalito School District voters will decide the fate of a proposed $1,400,000 local bond issue besides balloting on the Tam District proposal.

The Sausalito bonds would finance a new kindergarten-fourth grade school on the Bayside School site, designed as an "eduational park" for children from throughout the district. This would replace three existing schools: Bayside, Central, and Mazanita. Children in fifth through eighth grades would continue to attend Richardson Bay School.

The district two years ago abandoned the traditional neighborhood schools concept for the sake of better racial intergration, and children are assigned to the existing schools by grade level. The new building would put them all together, through fourth grade.

All the bond issues require a two-thirds "yes" vote for authorization. The San Anselmo tax proposal requires only a simple majority.

Novato Council Postpones Meeting

The Novato City Council will not hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow because there will not be a quorum and City Mgr. J. Julien Baget is on vacation.

The meeting has been postponed until 8 p.m. Oct. 17. The council will also meet on Oct. 24.

Radiators Taken

Car radiators, valued at $522, were stolen from Bruce's Radiator and Muffler Shop at 8 Harbor Street, San Rafael, early Sunday, police reported today. Entry was gained by pushing in a window.

OBITUARIES

Funeral Set For Isaac Sanchez, 26

Funeral will be tomorrow for a 26-year-old San Rafael man, father of four children, who was killed in Sonoma County Friday when his car went out of control and skidded off Highway 12.

The young man, Isaac A. Sanchez Jr., of 16 Meadow Avenue, was pronounced dead at Sonoma Valley Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol said the car left Highway 12 at a spot 200 feet west of Cavedale Road, sideswiped a power pole, hit a mail box and then ran into a tree. The car, said the highway patrol, was a total loss. Sanchez was eastbound on the highway.

Sanchez, who was born in New Mexico, is survived by his wife, Sharon; four children, Iky, Ange, Tony and Rita; by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac A. Sanchez Sr.; by two brothers and a sister, Larry and Joe Sanchez, and Silvia Velasques, all of San Rafael.

Kappelman, 37, was found dead in a Petaluma motel Friday. He apparently took an overdose of sleeping pills, the Sonoma County Coroner's Department reported.

His wife, Janet, had reported him missing last Wednesday.

A native of San Francisco, he lived at 148 Madrone Avenue.

Kappelman was a carpenter, and a member of Marin County Local 35 of the Carpenter's Union.

He is survived by his wife; two children, William and Susan, both of Larkspur; his mother, Mrs. Thelma K. Fern of Belvedere, and a half-brother, Alan Kappelman of Mill Valley.

Judge Gardiner, Wife Hurt In Car Wreck

Marin County Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner and his wife, Susan, were injured in a head-on collision Saturday in Yolo County, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A passenger in the car Gardiner hit was critically injured, and the judge was cited for failure to drive on the right half of the road, the Highway Patrol said.

Mrs. Gardiner, 65, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with a fractured left hip, arm and kee, and multiple scrapes and bruises. She was transferred here yesterday from Yolo County General Hospital.

Judge Gardiner, also 65, suffered a cut scalp, but was back on the bench this morning.

The accident happened at 7 p.m. Saturday on State Highway 113 about one mile west of Knights Landing. Gardiner was driving north, and crossed the highway when he apparently became confused by the intersection with county highway 99E, the patrol said. The county highway veers to the left off the main road.

Gardiner also failed to observe the 30-mile-per-hour warning on the curve, and was driving 50 to 55 miles an hour, the highway patrol said. His speed apparently was the reason he did not see the sign indicating the main highway curved right, the patrol said.

Gardiner ran head-on into a southbound sports car driven by Frank P. Morton, 18, of Belmont, San Mateo County, the patrol said. Morton's father, John W. Morton, 43, also of Belmont, was reported in critical condition with severe head injuries in the intensive care unit at Sacramento County Hospital. The younger Morton was treated for multiple injuries and released yesterday.

Gardiner, of 30 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, is to appear in Grafton Justice Court in Knights Landing, but date of his appearance has not been set.

Corte Madera Boy Injured By Auto

Michael D. Foltz, 4, of 30 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple scrapes after he was hit by a car in Corte Madera at 1:55 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Barbara C. Tobin, 40, of 334 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, was the driver of the car. The accident occurred at 87 Corte Madera Avenue. Corte Madera police said the boy ran into the street from behind a parked truck.

Boy's Car Ride Ends With Crash

A Marin City boy had a wild ride in his father's car yesterday and ended up with citations from the California Highway Patrol after striking two parked cars.

The boy took off on Drake Avenue in his father's car at 45-50 miles per hour, the patrol reported.

The car caused minor damage to a parked car at the curb at 615 Drake Avenue and another in the carport, before it rollled back into the street and stopped.

Patrolmen cited the boy for having no driver's license and driving at an unsafe speed.

Crime Organizations Said Distributing LSD, Drugs

BOSTON (UPI) — A director of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration FDA said yesterday that organized crime has become involved in the distribution of LSD and other hallucinogenic drugs.

Richard Callahan, who heads the FDA's Bureau of Drug Abuse Control in the six-state region, said the crime network was so well organized that new LSD tablets "appeared in San Francisco, Dallas and Boston within 24 hours" after being developed.

"It's a fantastic distribution network and appears highly organized," Callahan said in a radio interview. He said the tablets had replaced candy and sugar cubes as popular carriers of LSD.

Callahan predicted that "within the next 10 years we'll have another 100 drugs available similar to LSD." He added:

"The drug scene is no longer a ghetto problem. It's now a middle class problem. We're not coming up with derelicts now. We're coming up with educated kids from so-called 'good homes.' "

Peninsula Planning On Tiburon Agenda

What's Even More Useful Than A Spouse?—A Paper!

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following article, I. William Hill, managing editor of The Washington Star and president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, outlines some of the services performed by your daily newspaper. His article was written to mark observance of National Newspaper Week, today through Saturday.

By I. WILLIAM HILL

A wife or a husband is great to have but—let's face it—on any given day your daily newspaper can do a lot more things for you.

For instance, I can't imagine my wife, on a day picked entirely at random, being able to tell me. . .

1. Details of the 12.5 per cent Social Security increase approved by Congress.

2. Where I can dine out tonight and have hot biscuits.

3. A way to breathe for a moment to overcome drowsiness.

4. How to convert two rooms into a country-size kitchen.

5. Where I can go tonight to see a production of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" free of charge.

And so on and so on—and all this is only a mite of the personal service any day's newspaper may render a reader. It therefore seems fitting that—just as a wedding anniversary may be a time to consider what a spouse has done for us—Newspaper Week is a time to evaluate the daily newspaper we may be taking for granted.

The Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association recently surveyed 2,470 individuals to find an answer to the question:

"When people want to know. . .where do they go to find out?"

The newspaper was judged the best way to find out in six out of 10 cases. Television was second with three out of 10 cases.

In the Bureau of Advertising survey, news was broken into 17 categories. Of these, those surveyed preferred to get their information from a newspaper in 13 categories, from television in only four. Radio and magazines trailed both. Newspapers try reminding people that "you get the headlines on television and the news in the newspapers."

It's also true that, when you twist your television knob, you're going to have to look and listen to what the station chooses to give you at that moment. You have no chance for selectivity other than to turn it on or off. Further, you have no chance for a second look; if you didn't get it the first time, it's lost. On the other hand, a newspaper "gives you the steering wheel."

Any newspaper editor you talk to has had letters and conversations that begin with such words as "Your paper has been a member of my family for umpty-um years, and. . ." It's eerie, how often this theme is repeated. And why? Because in or out of the household there's no daily source giving as much aid, counsel and public service as you find in your hometown newspaper. You take a newspaper into your home and it gives you—not only the day's news—but also. . .

Help in battling city hall or cutting bureaucratic red tape.

Tips on saving time and money in your household.

Tips on getting a child into college.

Recipes.

Television and radio program listings. Can you imagine television telling what you'd find in that day's newspaper?

Tips on dining out.

Reviews of theater, movies, music, books and night clubs.

Stock listings.

Advice on how to get along with your wife or husband.

All this, while organizations like The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the American Newspaper Publishers Association are working day in and day out to find ways to increase and improve your newspaper's personal service.

Newspapers (even more than movies) are getting better and better. We all need to teach the upcoming generation that a newspaper is something they'll continue to need, whatever they think of "the establishment."

This is an age of protest. But, the daily newspaper has been staging protests against faults in the system for as long as anyone can remember. Not aimless protests, or protests against critics of hippies and long, shaggy hair, but purposeful protests, effective ones.

For instance. . .

Back in the 1800s, The Washington Star was protesting the refuse-laden marshes south of the President's House, both as an eyesore and a health threat. As a result, by 1897, the area had been filled in, planted and christened Potomac Park; today the site of Japanese cherry blossoms.

Yes, when you stop to think of it, whether or not you need a husband or wife, you never outgrow your need for a daily newspaper.

Glances Back

Car Overturns

A Berkeley mother and her two daughters were injured Saturday afternoon when their car struck a center divider and rolled over on Highway 17, just east of Bellam Boulevard, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Caryl Schrock, 41, told officers she glanced toward the back seat momentarily to check her passengers and the westbound car left the roadway. The accident occurred at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Schrock suffered scrapes of legs, arms and hands. Her two daughters, Lisa, 5, and Cindy, 8, suffered scrapes of the legs, arms and face. They were taken to Marin General Hospital and reportedly transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

The hospital had no record of treating or admitting the Schrocks.

"When people want to know. . .where do they go to find out?"

The newspaper was judged the best way to find out in six out of 10 cases. Television was second with three out of 10 cases.

In the Bureau of Advertising survey, news was broken into 17 categories. Of these, those surveyed preferred to get their information from a newspaper in 13 categories, from television in only four. Radio and magazines trailed both. Newspapers try reminding people that "you get the headlines on television and the news in the newspapers."

It's also true that, when you twist your television knob, you're going to have to look and listen to what the station chooses to give you at that moment. You have no chance for selectivity other than to turn it on or off. Further, you have no chance for a second look; if you didn't get it the first time, it's lost. On the other hand, a newspaper "gives you the steering wheel."

Any newspaper editor you talk to has had letters and conversations that begin with such words as "Your paper has been a member of my family for umpty-um years, and. . ." It's eerie, how often this theme is repeated. And why? Because in or out of the household there's no daily source giving as much aid, counsel and public service as you find in your hometown newspaper. You take a newspaper into your home and it gives you—not only the day's news—but also. . .

Advice on how to get along with your wife or husband.

All this, while organizations like The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the American Newspaper Publishers Association are working day in and day out to find ways to increase and improve your newspaper's personal service.

Newspapers (even more than movies) are getting better and better. We all need to teach the upcoming generation that a newspaper is something they'll continue to need, whatever they think of "the establishment."

This is an age of protest. But, the daily newspaper has been staging protests against faults in the system for as long as anyone can remember. Not aimless protests, or protests against critics of hippies and long, shaggy hair, but purposeful protests, effective ones.

For instance. . .

Back in the 1800s, The Washington Star was protesting the refuse-laden marshes south of the President's House, both as an eyesore and a health threat. As a result, by 1897, the area had been filled in, planted and christened Potomac Park; today the site of Japanese cherry blossoms.

Yes, when you stop to think of it, whether or not you need a husband or wife, you never outgrow your need for a daily newspaper.

Glances Back
Car Overturns

A Berkeley mother and her two daughters were injured Saturday afternoon when their car struck a center divider and rolled over on Highway 17, just east of Bellam Boulevard, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Caryl Schrock, 41, told officers she glanced toward the back seat momentarily to check her passengers and the westbound car left the roadway. The accident occurred at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Schrock suffered scrapes of legs, arms and hands. Her two daughters, Lisa, 5, and Cindy, 8, suffered scrapes of the legs, arms and face. They were taken to Marin General Hospital and reportedly transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

The hospital had no record of treating or admitting the Schrocks.

No Opposition For Spain's First Popular Election

MADRID (UPI)—When Spaniards vote tomorrow in this nation's first popular election since the Civil War, the political opposition will be very much offstage.

With few exceptions, the field of 342 candidates running for 102 seats in the Cortes, or Parliament, will be former government officials, leading members of the Falange—Spain's only legal political party—or members of the Movimento, a rightist catch-all of forces supporting Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The political opposition boycotted the campaign and urged voters to stay home on election day.

The 102 seats account for 18 per cent of the members of the Cortes. The rest are appointed.

About 16.5 million Spaniards—married men or widows—are eligible to vote as heads of their families. But some sources said only about 35 or 45 per cent of them will turn out.

Elks Leader Due

Ernest C. Nielsen of Petaluma, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the Elks, will pay an official visit to the San Rafael 1108 lodge at their regular meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 19.

EOC Official Is Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A member of the Board of the Economic Opportunity Council was arrested yesterday and charged with suspicion of burglary and auto theft.

Investigating officer Paul McGoran said Ronald Hatter, 28, was arrested as he came out of an expensive apartment.

Hatter was carrying money, checks and a gun taken from the apartment and had piled about $1,000 worth of household items in the garage, McGoran said.

Officers also booked two other persons, waiting in a car, on similar charges: Ronald O. Ryan, 19, and Patsy Greenfield, 20.

Revolution Date Security Slated

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet authorities are planning to restrict drastically the movement of tourists who will try to crowd into Moscow for the four-day revolution anniversary holidays beginning Nov. 5, it was learned yesterday.

Space in hotels, inns and dormitories has already been booked solid beginning Oct. 15 and no more reservations are being accepted even from income-bringing foreign tourists who are willing to pay a minimum of $35 a day.

SEVERAL TO ROOM

Foreign students have been temporarily moved from dormitories into apartment houses to make room for the hundreds of delegations from foreign countries, some of whom will be put up in the universities, several to a room.

To prevent the rush of Russians from provincial towns it was reported that the sale of train, airplane and bus tickets to Moscow will be limited to those coming here strictly on official business.

Uncontrolled movement of outsiders into Moscow might cause runs on the capital's shops, which will be specially and abundantly supplied for the holidays.

Restaurants, theaters and the transportation system would be taxed beyond capacity.

SMALL AREA

There is also an element of danger when millions of people suddenly converge on the heart of Moscow, the relatively small area around the Red Square.

The last occasion that drew such crowds and brought tragedy was Josef Stalin's death in March, 1953, when more than 100 persons were killed and many more injured in the crush to pay their last respects to their ruler.

And those who know their Russian history recall the even greater tragedy occasioned by the coronation of Czar Nicholas II in 1896 when 1,389 persons were trampled to death and more than 1,000 others were injured.

Police Hunting For Boy's Killer, Girl's Attackers

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — The three men had shot her boyfriend dead, and now they stood over her prostrate form and held a flickering match close to her face.

"Let's see who you are," one of them whispered. "Now we know who to get if you talk."

But thus far, the 18-year-old girl has been unable to tell police who fatally shot Charles L. Kaufmann Jr., 19, then drove her into a secluded area and raped her six times.

Kaufmann, a student at Santa Rosa Junior College and the son of an official in the Agency for International Development (AID), was shot through the head Saturday morning when he tried to ward off the attackers.

His parents flew to San Francisco yesterday from Washington, where the elder Kaufmann is managament division of AID. The father recently returned from a four-year tour of duty in Nigeria.

Police, under strict secrecy orders from chief Melvin Flohr, would only say that no suspects were in custody yesterday.

The girl, whose name was not released, told detectives that she and Kaufmann were sitting in a car parked in Montecito Heights.

The assailants approached in another car ordered them out of their vehicle, and pulled a sweater up over the girl's face.

Kaufmann, an accomplished athlete, grappled with the men before he was shot in the back of the head with a .22-caliber revolver. His body was found by a newspaper boy at 5:30 a.m. Saturday.

Thirty minutes later, a utility crew discovered the girl wandering in a dazed condition. She had been driven to a wooded area five miles away, raped, and tied with strips torn from her clothing. She had managed to slip out of her bonds.

Berkeley Preparing For Desegregation

BERKELEY (AP)—In preparation for desegregation, teachers in all-white schools in the Berkeley hills are trading places weekly with teachers in the predominantly Negro schools in the southwest corner of the city.

Administrator Alan Bruce said the session will start at 10:30 a.m. at the civic center. The supervisors and the legislators will adjourn at noon for a luncheon to continue informal discussions.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested that one topic of discussion might be Highway 17, the proposed East-West route from the Civic Center area to White's Hill.

"It appears to me that the greatest opposition to Highway 17 is generally the opposition of the highway becoming a freeway," Kettenhofen wrote to Bruce. "I would, therefore, like you to discuss with Mr. (Paul C.) Zucker (County planning director) and others consideration of the board of supervisors officially requesting the state to remove Highway 17 west of 101 from the state freeway system and placing it into the state highway system. This would lower the degree of development for the highway and would be in keeping with my philosophy that Highway 17 to West Marin should be a scenic highway rather than a freeway."

Car Theft, Check Charges Dismissed

Complaint of car theft and passing a worthless check was dismissed in Marin Municipal Court Friday against Allen Dow Jordan of Big Sur for insufficient evidence.

The dismissal followed a preliminary hearing before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. Jordan, 27, had been accused of giving Annex Motors in San Rafael a bad check for $2,787 for a car on July 18.

Young Demos Ask Bomb Pause

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Young Democrats from 13 western states have urged President Johnson to consider a pause in bombing North Vietnam and the start of negotiations to settle a "hopeless, never-ending" war.

"We should be concentrating our resources to cure the crying domestic needs of this country and do everything possible to end the disharmony and civil strife in this country," said a resolution passed Saturday.

Delegates to the regional conference earlier defeated a more strongly-worded resolution that would have asked the President to "order" a halt in the daily bombing.

Corte Madera Creek Work Esthetics To Be Discussed

Esthetics of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project will be discussed by the county board of supervisors tomorrow at a workshop session with the Army Corps of Engineers and members of the Ross Valley Flood Control Advisory Board.

The meeting is set for 9 a.m. in room 400-B at the Civic Center.

Following the workshop, the supervisors will meet in regular session at 10:30 a.m. in the board chambers.

The supervisors will wind up the day with a hearing to decide whether the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council should remove the San Geronimo and Nicasio valleys as target areas.

Galveston, Tex., is the only major seaside city in North America on a natural island.

High Court Validates Desegregation Edict

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court refused today to interfere with a blanket federal court order to six southern states that they desegregate their schools at once.

The action let stand the edict of a special, 12-judge circuit court handed down March 29 which applied statewide to all public schools in Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas.

The Court validated the 5th Circuit Court ruling by rejecting in a brief order appeals filed by Louisiana and Alabama. Three was no written opinion.

In another action, the Court refused for the time being to consider a case challenging "de facto" school segregation which has been the subject of controversy in northern cities.

A group of Cincinnati Negro parents had accused the city school board of gerrymandering their school districts, to maintain racially separate systems.

In a third school case , the justices declined to hear a challenge of a 1965 Pennsylvania law allowing use of public school buses to transport pupils attending parochial and non-profit private schools.

Similar school bus operations are under attack in Hawaii, Michigan, New Jersey and Ohio.

The U.S. Supreme Court Also:

Agreed to decide whether a 1965 law forbidding the burning of draft cards is constitutional. The case was brought to the Court by both a Vietnam war protester, David O'Brie n of protester, David O'Brien of Justice Department.

Denied a rehearing to imprisoned Teamster Union chief James R. Hoffa whose lawyers claimed they had new evidence to upset his 1964 jury-tampering conviction which sent him to the penitentiary under eight-year sentence.

Denied a new hearing to Wilbert Rideau, a Louisiana Negro sentenced to death a second time after his first murder conviction was reversed because his pre-trial confession was televised.

Refused to reconsider its June 12 decision upholding contempt convictions of Rev. Martin Luther King and seven other civil rights demonstrators who were sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50 in Birmingham, Ala. King and his colleagues were found guilty of violating a local court antiparade order on Easter Sunday, 1963.

Agreed to decide whether criminal punishment of chronic alcoholics is unconstitutional. The issue was brought to the Court on an appeal by Leroy Powell of Austin, Tex., who estimated he has been arrested for drunkeness about 100 times.

Agreed to hear a complex case involving Federal Power Commission authority to set prices for new natural gas supplies from Texas Gulf Coast field which producers say is too low and distributors contend is too high.

Auditorium, Fair Plans Are Detailed

The club also discussed plans for a card party at 8 p.m. Nov. 11 at the clubhouse.

Copying Machine For Library

The Marin County Library at the Civic Center now has a Xerox 914 copying machine for public use, assistant county librarian Philip Sheridan announced today.

Library hours at the civic center are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

District Annexing To Be Considered

Annexation of Point Reyes School District to West Marin School District will be discussed at a meeting of the latter district's trustees at 8 p.m., today at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station.

Supt. Howard F. Brose is to present a report on state testing in primary grades, and appointment of a vice principal for Inverness School is scheduled.

Police Chief Says Woman In Blackout Not Trapped

Novato Police Chief Robert De Grazia today corrected police Sgt. William Cann's report that Mrs. Vincent Cozzi of 2721 Center Road was trapped inside of her car when a tree broke a 12,000 volt line in Novato early Friday morning.

"Mrs. Cozzi was in no danger because of the insulation of the tires. The car, could have driven away," Di Grazia said. She stayed there trying to persuade her husband to leave the danger area while he stood outside of the car, the chief said.

Cozzi was arrested by Novato police for failure to leave a danger area when ordered to do so.

Di Grazia said that he asked-for the clarification because he had recieved several phone calls from irate husbands who said that they would not have left their wives in a car which was in danger.

Driver Bruised —Car Off Road

A Pleasant Hill man espaped with bruises when the car he was driving went off the road, through a fence, down a six-foot embankment and onto its side at 3:55 a.m. yesterday in San Anselmo.

Richard L. Bower, 46, of Pleasant Hill, and his son, Glen, 16, were taken to Marin General Hospital where Bower was treated for bruises and his son was found to be uninjured.

San Anselmo police said Bower apparently fell asleep at the wheel as he was driving east on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the hub, and the car went off the road and down to a private road leading to the parking lot of the Guasco Super Market.

Six ways to cut the cost of your winter heating bills.

1. Have your heating system checked now.
Don't let the first cold snap catch you unprepared for winter. Call your furnace man or plumber. He'll make sure your furnace is in safe working order with gas pilots operating.

2. Insulate.
Insulate floors and ceilings and you'll cut heating costs up to 45%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—and often pays for itself in just a few seasons.

3. Weatherstrip.
Weatherstripping around outside doors and windows plugs heat leaks and keeps cold air outside. A doorjamb may require a metal strip to take the constant friction of opening and closing. Loose windows may need a thick felt stripping.

4. Close dampers and drapes.
When not using your fireplace, close the damper so heat won't escape up the chimney. Also, close window drapes at night. Otherwise, 16% of your heat is lost.

5. Set your thermostat—and leave it.
Frequent changes in room temperature settings mean a bigger heating bill. Agree on a healthy thermostat setting (say 70°) and leave it there.
If Junior says he's cold, put a sweater on him.

6. Change filters.
Most forced air furnaces have filters to trap dust. For maximum heat flow they should be replaced every six months. Clean dust and lint out of wall and floor heaters periodically, too.

Bigger bills, but lower rates.
Your winter PG&E bills will reflect increased heating and lighting, TV watching, more hot meals and more appliances in use.
But there have been six reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates in the past four years. So summer and winter, your PG&E service is a bigger family bargain than ever.

"Mrs. Cozzi was in no danger because of the insulation of the tires. The car, could have driven away," Di Grazia said. She stayed there trying to persuade her husband to leave the danger area while he stood outside of the car, the chief said.

Cozzi was arrested by Novato police for failure to leave a danger area when ordered to do so.

High Court Validates Desegregation Edict

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court refused today to interfere with a blanket federal court order to six southern states that they desegregate their schools at once.

The action let stand the edict of a special, 12-judge circuit court handed down March 29 which applied statewide to all public schools in Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas.

The Court validated the 5th Circuit Court ruling by rejecting in a brief order appeals filed by Louisiana and Alabama. Three was no written opinion.

In another action, the Court refused for the time being to consider a case challenging "de facto" school segregation which has been the subject of controversy in northern cities.

A group of Cincinnati Negro parents had accused the city school board of gerrymandering their school districts, to maintain racially separate systems.

In a third school case , the justices declined to hear a challenge of a 1965 Pennsylvania law allowing use of public school buses to transport pupils attending parochial and nonprofit private schools.

Similar school bus operations are under attack in Hawaii, Michigan, New Jersey and Ohio.

The U.S. Supreme Court Also:

Agreed to decide whether a 1965 law forbidding the burning of draft cards is constitutional. The case was brought to the Court by both a Vietnam war protester, David O'Brie n of protester, David O'Brien of Justice Department.

Denied a rehearing to imprisoned Teamster Union chief James R. Hoffa whose lawyers claimed they had new evidence to upset his 1964 jury-tampering conviction which sent him to the penitentiary under eight-year sentence.

Denied a new hearing to Wilbert Rideau, a Louisiana Negro sentenced to death a second time after his first murder conviction was reversed because his pre-trial confession was televised.

Refused to reconsider its June 12 decision upholding contempt convictions of Rev. Martin Luther King and seven other civil rights demonstrators who were sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50 in Birmingham, Ala. King and his colleagues were found guilty of violating a local court antiparade order on Easter Sunday, 1963.

Agreed to decide whether criminal punishment of chronic alcoholics is unconstitutional. The issue was brought to the Court on an appeal by Leroy Powell of Austin, Tex., who estimated he has been arrested for drunkeness about 100 times.

Agreed to hear a complex case involving Federal Power Commission authority to set prices for new natural gas supplies from Texas Gulf Coast field which producers say is too low and distributors contend is too high.

Six ways to cut the cost of your winter heating bills.

1. Have your heating system checked now.
Don't let the first cold snap catch you unprepared for winter. Call your furnace man or plumber. He'll make sure your furnace is in safe working order with gas pilots operating.

2. Insulate.
Insulate floors and ceilings and you'll cut heating costs up to 45%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—and often pays for itself in just a few seasons.

3. Weatherstrip.
Weatherstripping around outside doors and windows plugs heat leaks and keeps cold air outside. A doorjamb may require a metal strip to take the constant friction of opening and closing. Loose windows may need a thick felt stripping.

4. Close dampers and drapes.

Biographer Andre Maurois Dies In Paris At Age 82

PARIS (UPI)—French biographer Andre Maurois died in a Paris clinic today, doctors announced. He was 82.

Maurois, a member of the French Academy, underwent surgery early last week.

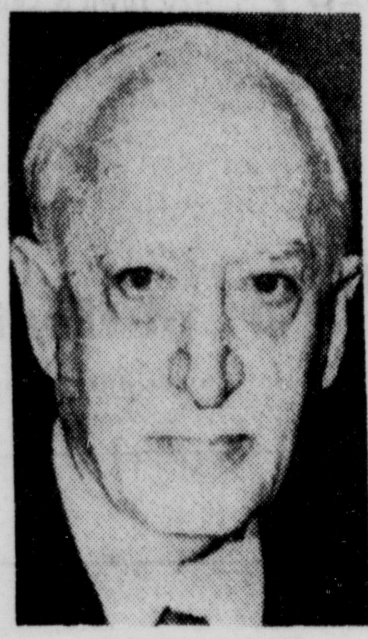
Doctors said his condition worsened yesterday after improving throughout the week. Relatives were summoned to his bedside.

Maurois, whose original name was Emile Herzog, was born in Elbeuf, Normandy, and educated at the University of Caen.

Maurois turned from a career in the family's textile business to writing during World War I, when he produced "The Silence of Colonel Bramble."

The success of this book liberated him from the business world—"a combination of war and sport" as he described it.

For more than 40 years, Maurois wrote in longhand for five hours every day, publishing a prodigious amount of books and articles.



ANDRE MAUROIS
Member of academy

"I live a very quiet life, working very hard, doing nothing else," he once said.

Maurois was noted for his biographies—especially of such romantics as Lord Byron, George Sand and the Dumas family. He also wrote studies of Shelley, Disraeli, Proust, Hugo, Turgenyev, Balzac and nearly a dozen others.

At the outbreak of World War II Maurois abandoned occupied France and fled to Britain and later to the United States. There he lectured and taught, notably at Princeton and the University of Kansas. He also published a French-language weekly newspaper in New York City. He returned to France in 1946.

Women Said Cut In Argument

Two San Francisco women reportedly received minor cuts last night during argument at Latitude 38 restaurant, 621 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Ellen Berg was taken to Marin General Hospital at 7:15 p.m. by the Sausalito Fire Department ambulance for a forearm cut, but the hospital had no record of treating her.

Police reports said Miss Berg and her companion, Carol Holverson, became involved in an argument with a man at the bar. Someone broke a highball glass and both women received arm cuts accidentally, according to police.

Danny Olson, 14, of 323 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, suffered bruised legs when he fell from a horse Friday at 6:30 p.m. at 21 Pasadena Avenue, San Anselmo. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Stakeout Nets Two Arrests In Equipment Yard

A weekend stakeout by San Rafael police of a Pacific Gas and Electric Co., equipment yard — scene of a recent burglary — netted two suspects, officers reported today.

Booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of grand theft were Edward B. Outley, 34, of 33 Burgess Court, Marin City, and Elmer G. Walker, 39, of San Francisco. Each was held on $2,750 bail.

Police siad the suspects were seen entering the yard at Lindaro Street at 3:50 a.m. yesterday using a truck belonging to Marin Sanitary Service.

Shortly afterward, the two men fled out of the yard on foot when they were disturbed by the sound of a siren on a passing fire truck.

According to police, the suspects were employed by Marin Sanitary Service and should have been using the truck for pickups. A large quantity of copper wire was recently stolen from the yard, said officers.

Police Charge Man In Death Beatings

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 26-year-old, unemployed resident of Manhattan's hippie-haunted East Village was charged early today with the murder of a wealthy Connecticut girl and a youth with a police record.

Donald Ramsey, a tall, thin, bearded man was booked at 7:15 a.m. on two charges of first degree murder. He made no statement.

He was to be arraigned later today.

The suspect was wearing a gray sport jacket and gray slacks with a brimless cap on his head when he was booked at a police station seven blocks from the scene of the crime. His face appeared calm and composed, and he held an unlighted cigarette in one hand.

Police said he lived in the building where the nude, battered bodies of 18-year-old Linda Fitzpatrick and 21-year-old James Hutchinson were found yesterday.

Miss Fitzpatrick, a daughter of a prominent Greenwich family, and Hutchinson, a Rhode Islander who had been living in the East Village, were found in a blood-splashed basement room.

They had been beaten to death with a blunt instrument, apparently a brick wrapped in a pair of men's trousers which lay near them on the floor on a Lower East Side tenement's grimy furnace room.

Water Services Out In Break

A break in a fireline early Saturday morning put about 50 water services out or reduced pressure for four hours in the Bret Harte area of San Rafael.

Bill G. Grant, administrative engineer for the Marin Municipal Water District said today the line broke under the surface and water discharged into a storm drain, making the rupture hard to locate. It was repaired by 12:30 a.m. Grant said.

Beer Bottles Thrown Through Windshields

A used car lot and a business office were attacked by bottle-toting vandals yesterday, reported San Rafael police.

Windshields valued at $500 were smashed on vehicles on a used car lot at 1532 Fourth Street. A window at the office of Natalie J. Holly, 834 Fifth Street was also broken. Police said beer bottles were used in both cases.

Open House Slated

GRAY RUTTLEDGE
Issued a new card

He Can Shop Again—Beard Not Fad Now

Seventeen-year-old Gray Ruttledge of Mill Valley can shop again at the Hamilton Air Force Base commissary because his beard is not a fad.

Ruttledge, son of a Navy pilot killed in 1952, ws denied renewal of his dependent's identification card two months ago because of his long hair and beard.

Last week Ruttledge was issued a new card after officials reviewed his case and decided that the beard wasn't a fad and would reflect his appearance for the purpose of identification.

The card, good for four years, entitled Ruttledge to base medical benefits and other privileges, including the right to shop at the commissary.

When Ruttledge applied for renewal of his card two months ago, Capt. William H. Powell Jr., base security officer, told him his beard and long hair were against regulations governing the appearance of civilians patronizing base facilities.

The regulation states that dependents and civilians are expected to be well-groomed and dressed in a way "commensurate with the accepted tradition and decorum of military installations."

His mother, Mrs. Laverne P. Ruttledge of 9 Parkwood Avenue, then refused to accept her own I. D. card and started the campaign for her son's right to be given a card, beard or not.

Council To Discuss Teen-Age Center

The San Anselmo City Council will continue consideration of establishing a "teen" center tomorrow at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The council will also consider drainage problems near the Drake Market, and will open bids for repairs of slide damage at 92 Woodside Drive, for which $13,000 has been budgeted.

Police Await Owner Of Purse

San Anselmo police are waiting for the owner of a woman's small purse found in the restroom of Gene's Chevron Station, 101 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo, to claim the purse.

The purse contained money, identification including a driver's license and a small-hand-rolled cigarette which police believe contains marijuana.

Patricia D. Brines of 204 Scenic Drive, Fairfax, found the purse and turned it in to police yesterday at 3:30 p.m.

Heavy Traffic Figures In Three Collisions

Heavy traffic yesterday contributed to three chain-reaction collisions in Marin and on the Golden Gate Bridge.

At 4:55 p.m. in northbound traffic five cars tangled after one driven by Steven Robert Nelson, 21, of 215 Bayview Street, San Rafael, bumped the rear of one driven by Penelope Galitzki, 24, of 20 Olive Avenue, Apt. A, Larkspur, according to the California Highway Patrol.

THREE CARS

The other three cars were driven by Arnold Leon Lampkinis, 27, of San Francisco; Joe Decesaris, 72, of 112 Park Street, San Rafael, and Richard Cherrington Smith, Jr., 23, of 40 Peacock Drive, San Rafael.

Penelope Galitzki and passenger Leonard Garrett, 24, of San Francisco, in Lampkinis car, were treated for minor injuries at the Park emergency hospital in San Francisco.

In almost the same spot on the bridge at 7:35 p.m., California Higheay Patrol reported that three northbound cars involved in a rear-end chain crash were driven by Thomas Henry Rixon, 47, of San Francisco, Edward Wood, 41, of Mountain View and Geraldine Cooper, 55, of 57 Sunshine Avenue, Sausalito, who was treated for minor injuries at Park Emergency Hospital, San Francisco. Jo Ann Wood, a passenger in Wood's car, refused hospitalization for minor injuries.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

In both bridge accidents, the patrol reported traffic was moving again in about 15 minutes.

At 8 p.m. on Highway 101, south of Marinwood an unidentified car made a U-turn across the center divider into the southbound lanes and traffic slowed. Then a collission occurred among cars driven by James McIntosh Waste, 38, of 119 Hill Drive, Kentfield; Don Harold Haller, 71, of Sebastapol, and Walter Anstead Stevens, 55, of 89 Via La Cumbre,, Greenbrae, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Digging Request

The Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission will consider the request of the Schultz Investment Co. to allow excavation on city property between Arroyo Holon Creek and Corte Madera Creek near Ronald E. Piper Park Wednesday at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The San Anselmo City Council will continue consideration of establishing a "teen" center tomorrow at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The council will also consider drainage problems near the Drake Market, and will open bids for repairs of slide damage at 92 Woodside Drive, for which $13,000 has been budgeted.

Police Await Owner Of Purse

San Anselmo police are waiting for the owner of a woman's small purse found in the restroom of Gene's Chevron Station, 101 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo, to claim the purse.

The purse contained money, identification including a driver's license and a small-hand-rolled cigarette which police believe contains marijuana.

Patricia D. Brines of 204 Scenic Drive, Fairfax, found the purse and turned it in to police yesterday at 3:30 p.m.

Heavy Traffic Figures In Three Collisions

Heavy traffic yesterday contributed to three chain-reaction collisions in Marin and on the Golden Gate Bridge.

At 4:55 p.m. in northbound traffic five cars tangled after one driven by Steven Robert Nelson, 21, of 215 Bayview Street, San Rafael, bumped the rear of one driven by Penelope Galitzki, 24, of 20 Olive Avenue, Apt. A, Larkspur, according to the California Highway Patrol.

THREE CARS

The other three cars were driven by Arnold Leon Lampkinis, 27, of San Francisco; Joe Decesaris, 72, of 112 Park Street, San Rafael, and Richard Cherrington Smith, Jr., 23, of 40 Peacock Drive, San Rafael.

Penelope Galitzki and passenger Leonard Garrett, 24, of San Francisco, in Lampkinis car, were treated for minor injuries at the Park emergency hospital in San Francisco.

In almost the same spot on the bridge at 7:35 p.m., California Higheay Patrol reported that three northbound cars involved in a rear-end chain crash were driven by Thomas Henry Rixon, 47, of San Francisco, Edward Wood, 41, of Mountain View and Geraldine Cooper, 55, of 57 Sunshine Avenue, Sausalito, who was treated for minor injuries at Park Emergency Hospital, San Francisco. Jo Ann Wood, a passenger in Wood's car, refused hospitalization for minor injuries.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

In both bridge accidents, the patrol reported traffic was moving again in about 15 minutes.

At 8 p.m. on Highway 101, south of Marinwood an unidentified car made a U-turn across the center divider into the southbound lanes and traffic slowed. Then a collission occurred among cars driven by James McIntosh Waste, 38, of 119 Hill Drive, Kentfield; Don Harold Haller, 71, of Sebastapol, and Walter Anstead Stevens, 55, of 89 Via La Cumbre,, Greenbrae, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Digging Request

The Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission will consider the request of the Schultz Investment Co. to allow excavation on city property between Arroyo Holon Creek and Corte Madera Creek near Ronald E. Piper Park Wednesday at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Horse Abuse Charged To Soap Driver

A Petaluma tallow and soap company driver has been charged in Marin Municipal Court with cruelty in transporting a 30-year-old Muir Beach horse.

The driver, Americo John Giubergia of Royal Tallow and Soap Co., is scheduled for arraignment on the misdemeanor complaint for 1:30 p.m. Friday.

PAYS FIRM

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Mrs. Evelyn Pervier of Old Golden Gate Dairy in Muir Woods had paid the firm $15 for removal of the horse. She said Giubergia arrived Aug. 17 but contrary to her agreement that the animal be killed before hauling, it was instead loaded alive in the truck.

She described the old chestnut-colored gelding as "so ill he could hardly stand up, let alone walk," and added that her daughter saw the animal loaded alive with a winch and chains.

Bernard M. Weller, state humane officer, wrote Bales that he encountered the truck and horse near Sausalito. The horse was unsteady and fell sideways in the truck bed, hitting its mouth and right side of its face, he said.

LAYS PRONE

Weller added that after the fall, the animal lay prone with He halted Guibergia, he said, He halter Giubergia, he said, and Giubergia asked him to shoot the horse. Weller had no gun so a sheriff's deputy was summoned and the animal killed.

Mel L. Morse, executive director of Marin County Humane Society, wrote Bales that he has had complaints before about the company's abuse to animals. He requested prosecution. The complaint was signed by Mrs. Pervier.

Handicapped Pupils

The San Anselmo School District Board will hear reports on the district's programs for educationally handicapped students Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Red Hill School.

Three Criminal Trials Placed On Calendar

Three criminal trials by jury were scheduled on the master calendar in Marin Superior Court for this week.

Steve Howard, 20, will face trial at 10 a.m. tomorrow before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner for armed robbery of L. D. Blatz at Community Store, 371 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, at gunpoint Feb. 17.

Howard, of Marin City, had a first trial result in a mistrial May 16 after a juror was assaulted in Mill Valley.

Trial of Brian Moore, 29, accused of armed robbery of Jack Carney, employee at Dave's Lounge in San Rafael, was scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow before Judge Harold J. Haley. Moore, of 1551 Fourth Street, San Rafael, allegedly used a knife for the May 12 holdup.

Mrs. Evelyn Winifred Freel, 48, of 16 Frances Street, San Rafael, was scheduled for trial at 10 a.m. Wednesday before Judge Thomas F. Keating on an indictment of welfare chiseling.

She is accused of getting welfare assistance for three children from October of 1966 through February, but failing to report about $1,850 she received during that period by working at San Rafael Post Office under her former name, Mrs. Evelyn Lord.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Two Intrepid Explorers; Why Not Honor Both?

"They went ashore and looked about them. The weather was fine. There was dew on the grass, and the first thing they did was to get some of it on their hands and put it to their lips, and to them it seemed the sweetest thing they had ever tasted. Then they went back to their ship and sailed into the sound that lay between the island and the headland jutting to the north. . . .

"There were extensive shallows there and at low tide their ship was left high and dry, with the sea almost out of sight. But they were so impatient to land that they could not bear to wait for the rising tide to float their ship; they ran ashore to a place where a river flowed out of a lake. . . . Then they decided to winter there, and built some large houses."

THUS IS THE FIRST landing of Europeans on the continent of North America described in the "Graenlendinga Saga" as it was copied in the Icelandic "Flateyjarbok" between 1382 and 1385. It had been written down nearly two centuries earlier, and before that had been passed down from generation to generation by word of mouth.

The year of the landing described was 1000. The people in the ship were Icelanders, headed by Leif Eriksson.

The date, according to Icelandic tradition, was Oct. 9—967 years ago today.

THE SAGA RELATES that a few years earlier another Icelandic explorer, Bjarni Herjolfsson, had sailed from Greenland and sighted land to the south. It was in search of this land that Leif Eriksson set sail.

The saga goes on to tell that one of Leif's men, Tyrkir the Southerner, found wild grapes growing near their houses—for which Leif named the country Vinland.

Leif and his party returned after a few months to Iceland, and from there the following year sailed another explorer, Thorfinn Karlsefni, to plant what he planned as a permanent colony in Vinland. Karlsefni left about 100 of his people there. What happened to them is veiled in mystery.

A recently discovered map, which has been authenticated as having been drawn about 1440, shows Vinland as a large island and bears the inscription: "By God's will, after a long voyage from Greenland to the south toward the most distant remaining parts of the western ocean sea, sailing southward amidst the ice, the companions Bjarni and Leif Eriksson discovered a new land."

SCHOLARS NO LONGER question the Icelandic discovery of America, nearly five full centuries before a Genoese navigator named Christopher Columbus made his landfall in the West Indies.

But Columbus's discovery came in an age of great exploration by the Spaniards and Portuguese, soon to be followed by the English. And the explorers and colonists who raised the flags of Spain and Great Britain in North America never guessed that Norsemen had planted colonies centuries before.

So Columbus Day on Thursday will be a holiday of sorts, and will be marked with programs commemorating the discovery of America.

We suggest a new approach. Since the dates of Eriksson's landing somewhere in Canada or New England and of Columbus's landfall on what is now Watling Island in the Bahamas fall so close together on the calendar, why not call the holiday "Discovery Day" and honor them both: two intrepid explorers who separately discovered a New World, 492 years apart?

Our Annual Warning

When the fall leaves begin to turn their bright autumnal colors, we are reminded to tell our readers to be careful about gathering them for decoration.

Unless one knows poison oak when he sees it, he is toying with great danger of discomfort and even the possibility of a stay in the hospital. Few Marin trees or shrubs can equal it for fall coloration, and no other is so dangerous to the skin.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State Moves On Welfare Loafer

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Finally, the state of California has reached the stage where it is demanding a reasonably concise picture of the welfare situation, as it relates to recipients and their acceptance of available jobs.

John Montgomery, state director of social welfare, has requested each county to report the number of welfare recipients employed to help alleviate the labor shortage which is causing the current crop-harvesting crisis in California.

SPENCER WILLIAMS, administrator of health and welfare, said that there is machinery to require physically able welfare recipients to accept job assignments in agriculture, as well as in other industries.

"Refusal to accept such employment," he said, "requires their removal from the welfare rolls.

"We are interested in knowing, on a county-by-county basis, how many recipients are deemed available for work, how many have been employed, and how many have been removed from the welfare rolls for failure to work.

"If the system is working, the public should know about it, and proper credit should be given. If the system is not working, we want to know why."

THIS MARKS the first time a really concentrated effort has been made by the state Department of Welfare to get a play-by-play account of government-aided malingering.

Accuracy of the report, of course, will depend on the forthright attitude of county welfare workers, who are best able to supply the information required.

Generally, the public is aware of instances in which malingering occurs, but the overall picutre — actually the only picutre that counts — must come from the counties.

Montgomery's request presages a "get tough" action, which in the long run could mean heavy reductions in state welfare aid, and in addition could convince welfare recipients who have adopted government aid as a way of life that they might have to go to work instead of living off the taxpayers.

ALTHOUGH THE STATE Department of Social Welfare prints a monthly bulletin, consisting of 24 pages of small type relating to welfare recipients and welfare payments, nowhere in the bulletin is there a statistic showing the number of recipients who are able to work if jobs were available.

The special report sought by Montgomery might well be made on a monthly basis. At least, it would show taxpayers how much of their money is going to support people who don't want to earn a living.

Richmond Bridge Pays Its Own Way

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the Independent-Journal's issue of September 27, columnist Henry C. MacArthur wrote that San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge tolls were maintained to pay for the construction of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

This is not correct. The Richmond-San Rafael Bridge pays entirely for its own construction, which was financed by a separate issuance of bonds. The bonds are being retired by Richmond-San Rafael Bridge toll revenues.

Tolls were retained in the Bay Bridge to pay for its remodelling to provide unidirectional traffic on each deck and to increase its capacity and also to pay for the new San Mateo-Hayward Bridge. At present, net revenues of the Bay Bridge as well as those from the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton Bridges are earmarked entirely to pay for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's trans-bay tube.

Fishing Columnist 'Not True Sportsman'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding "Fishing Fool" column, Sept. 28: "Another good action by the Fish and Game Commission is to allow summer fishing for trout and steelhead in the Albion, Garcia, Novarro, Noya Gualula, Ten Mile rivers and other creeks along the north coast."

In reading this it is obvious that Mr. (Ralph) Stevens is not a true sportsman. The word sportsman to me means fair in sports for mankind—whether it be for duck, bear, doves, etc., and for our children's future.

I'm sure Mr. Stevens is familiar with the spawning habits of steelhead and salmon. Ninety per cent of the fish taken will be thrown aside. Fishing will be good in these streams and creeks for the first few years, then the runs will be diminished.

The real problem just starts here.

I would like very much for sportsmen who understand steelhead and salmon fishing to let their views be known to Mr. Stevens and the California Fish and Game.

Wildlife has given many a man peace of mind. Let's give our children the joy of finding peace of mind.

Justice Blindfolded; How About Judges?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If the judges in Marin County were doing as Mr. McCreadie (Robert Bennett McCreadie in letter to editor, Oct 4) states, it seems to me that the county would be almost crime-free. Our laws are very lenient and our judges much more so.

Who is protected when a child beater and killer is sentenced to one year in the county jail? Are our teen-agers protected from dope peddlers? It appears to be a worse crime to write bad checks than it does to peddle dope.

We have the laws, Mr. McCreadie. Now if we could just have some competent judges to go along with them. Mr. John Lippitt states (I.J., Oct. 4, 1967) that the Goddess of Justice is blindfolded, but our judges don't necessarily have to be!

Birch Society's Film Not Racist

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I register a very strong objection to the heading of a news article in Monday's (Oct. 2) Independent-Journal reading "Birch Racism Film Brings Resignations of Sponsor." Nowhere in the Independent-Journal's nine-inch report from the Los Angeles Times, nor in the original Los Angeles Times heading and 51 column-inch article of Oct. 2, is there any reference made to racism, let alone any supporting commentary on the allegation in the Independent-Journal heading.

It doesn't surprise me that someone wouldnt' like a given film. But to equate "Anarchy, U.S.A.'s" discussion of and disagreement with political actions taken by some of our government's recent leaders and some of the so-called civil rights leaders, with racism is grossly unfair. "Anarchy, U.S.A." is hard hitting but it is certainly non-partisan. It does show Ben Bella being greeted at the White House by the late John F. Kennedy and it does play a portion of JFK's 1957 speech supporting the Algerian rebels. But it also shows Richard Nixon when he was vice president happily escorting Castro, complete with beard and twirling his fatigue cap on his finger, on an earlier tour of the White House.

There are 500 prints of the film in circulation. The Marin American Opinion Library in Novato owns print No. 220. I have shown it dozens of times in the past year (at noon and again at night last Friday, for example). I have shown it to service clubs, TACT Committee meetings, home groups including Negroes, Caucasians, Republicans, Democrats, liberals, conservatives, etc. Most people have thought it was a very fine film. A few didn't like the message. But no one has ever labeled it "racism" until the Independent-Journal.

Reagan Must Rate As Serious Contender

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — From now on California's Gov. Ronald Reagan should be taken as a serious Republican presidential contender.

Several Republican politicians who are closely watching Reagan on his cross-country speaking tour are flatly predicting that the California governor will become an announced 1968 presidential candidate.

South Carolina's GOP Chairman Harry Dent, who was Reagan's host during his recent Columbia, S.C., fund-raising appearance, stated for this column: "He's getting ready to run, when the time is right."

The forecast was echoed by Rep. J. Herbert Burke, R-Fla., one of more than two dozen southern politicians who conferred privately with Reagan during his recent southern swing: "Reagan's got the presidential bug. He's running."

Former Rep. James Martin, D-Ala., a strong Nixon supporter, put it another way after huddling with Reagan in his hotel suite in Columbia:

"I'm here to see the future. A ticket with Reagan on it would sweep the South."

REAGAN WHO publicly insists at every stop in his continuing tour that he will be merely California's "favorite son," appears to be actively encouraging these forecasts.

One GOP southern politican who attended these private sessions insisted: "Reagan did everything but announce his candidacy . . . He went out of his way to stress that we needed new faces to win in 1968 and that he wasn't talking about Governor Romney.

"He told us that we're going to beat Johnson in 1968 or there won't be another election. And when one person asked him who he meant by 'we're,' Reagan pointed to the questioner and then to himself. Everyone in the room took this to mean he would be a candidate."

SIGNIFICANTLY, Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., who will be one of the kingmakers at the GOP convention in Miami next August, is already using the "new faces" political sell to push Reagan.

In discussing Republican presidential possibilities with party colleagues following the California governor's appearance in his state, Dirksen said:

"There is a good chance that Reagan can be the man. We have a lot of old faces in the Republican party and what we need are new faces to win on the national level. Reagan has an attractive personality like the late President Kennedy. He gives a good speech and goes over big on TV.

"What did Jack Kennedy have that Reagan doesn't have? Reagan, as governor, is getting something Kennedy never had — administrative experience."

Dirksen is also linking Reagan with another new GOP face — Florida's Gov. Claude Kirk. When asked recently to comment on likely GOP presidential possibilities, he told a group of Midwest GOP leaders that Reagan and Kirk were the men to watch.

A REPORT ON Governor Reagan's political appeal to women interested the Republican National Committee and the House GOP Campaign Committee. An old political pro who supported Nixon in 1960 returned from Columbia, S.C., and told them:

"Reagan had to battle his way, inch by inch, through hundreds of admirers who turned to hotel reception into a mob scene as they reached out to shake his hand, demand his autograph, or just say to their friends, 'I touched him'!"

Senate Seeks To Force Asian Nations To Aid Own Defense

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Senate is being asked to tell President Johnson: get more Asian help in Vietnam so that the U. S. does not have "to bear the major burden of the war."

It is part of a mounting congressional demand for a stronger voice in the conduct of the war.

The move takes the form of a resolution, initiated by Republican Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and co-sponsored by Democratic Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, calling on the President "to move with greater determination" to get more Asians into the defense of Asia.

The purpose of the resolution is not to handicap the President but to strengthen his hand in negotiations with Asian and other Western Pacific nations.

THE PERCY-BYRD initiative, which its sponsors believe will have wide support from doves and hawks alike, rests on these realistic premises:

1 — The stake in South Vietnam is the very survival of the non-Communist nations of Southeast Asia.

2 — The willingness of the American people to stay in the course is related to the willingness of the Asian leaders to do more in their own cause.

3 — It is easier for the Senate than for the President to put this view bluntly and it should help the President to have the Senate's frank statement to buttress his own arguments.

THE PLAIN PURPOSE is to make the war effort in Vietnam less American and more Asian. The frank warning to our allies in South Vietnam is that, if they are not prepared to do more, public support in the U.S. could be undermined.

Thus the heart of the resolution is contained in these three sentences:

"The leaders of the non-Communist nations of Asia insist that prosecution of the war is of vital concern to their peoples; it is therefore the sense of the Senate that:

"The armed forces of the United States should not continue to bear the major burden of the fighting in Vietnam.

"The non-Communist nations of Asia, including South Vietnam, should contribute substantially more manpower and resources to share the military, diplomatic, economic, and psychological tasks in Vietnam."

SUPPORTERS of the resolution point out that in San Antonio recently Mr. Johnson quoted nearly every head of government in the Western Pacific as affirming that to defeat the aggression in South Vietnam is vital to the security of their own countries.

One leader declared that "all of Southeast Asia is threatened." Another viewed the defense of Vietnam as "preventing a world conflagration." Still another saw failure in Vietnam as opening the door "to allow the Red Chinese to gobble up all Asia."

This was how cruicial each said Vietnam was to his people — President Marcos of the Philippines, Foreign Minister Khoman of Thailand, President Park of Korea, Prime Minister Rahman of Malaysia, Prime Minister Lee of Singapore, Prime Minister Holt of Australia, and Prime Minister Holyoake of New Zealand.

I KNOW OF NO ONE in the Administration — the President or Rusk or McNamara — who does not believe the Asian allies could and should be doing more in Vietnam. But they are not likely to do more as long as they can feel that the U.S. will put in anything and everything that is needed.

Behind the resolution is the mounting conviction that the case for greater allied Asian support in Vietnam must be put more forcefully and that the Asians had better realize that the ability of the President to keep the U.S. in Vietnam rests in part upon their prompt response.

Two Intrepid Explorers; Why Not Honor Both?

"They went ashore and looked about them. The weather was fine. There was dew on the grass, and the first thing they did was to get some of it on their hands and put it to their lips, and to them it seemed the sweetest thing they had ever tasted. Then they went back to their ship and sailed into the sound that lay between the island and the headland jutting to the north. . . .

"There were extensive shallows there and at low tide their ship was left high and dry, with the sea almost out of sight. But they were so impatient to land that they could not bear to wait for the rising tide to float their ship; they ran ashore to a place where a river flowed out of a lake. . . . Then they decided to winter there, and built some large houses."

THUS IS THE FIRST landing of Europeans on the continent of North America described in the "Graenlendinga Saga" as it was copied in the Icelandic "Flateyjarbok" between 1382 and 1385. It had been written down nearly two centuries earlier, and before that had been passed down from generation to generation by word of mouth.

The year of the landing described was 1000. The people in the ship were Icelanders, headed by Leif Eriksson.

The date, according to Icelandic tradition, was Oct. 9—967 years ago today.

THE SAGA RELATES that a few years earlier another Icelandic explorer, Bjarni Herjolfsson, had sailed from Greenland and sighted land to the south. It was in search of this land that Leif Eriksson set sail.

The saga goes on to tell that one of Leif's men, Tyrkir the Southerner, found wild grapes growing near their houses—for which Leif named the country Vinland.

Leif and his party returned after a few months to Iceland, and from there the following year sailed another explorer, Thorfinn Karlsefni, to plant what he planned as a permanent colony in Vinland. Karlsefni left about 100 of his people there. What happened to them is veiled in mystery.

A recently discovered map, which has been authenticated as having been drawn about 1440, shows Vinland as a large island and bears the inscription: "By God's will, after a long voyage from Greenland to the south toward the most distant remaining parts of the western ocean sea, sailing southward amidst the ice, the companions Bjarni and Leif Eriksson discovered a new land."

SCHOLARS NO LONGER question the Icelandic discovery of America, nearly five full centuries before a Genoese navigator named Christopher Columbus made his landfall in the West Indies.

But Columbus's discovery came in an age of great exploration by the Spaniards and Portuguese, soon to be followed by the English. And the explorers and colonists who raised the flags of Spain and Great Britain in North America never guessed that Norsemen had planted colonies centuries before.

So Columbus Day on Thursday will be a holiday of sorts, and will be marked with programs commemorating the discovery of America.

We suggest a new approach. Since the dates of Eriksson's landing somewhere in Canada or New England and of Columbus's landfall on what is now Watling Island in the Bahamas fall so close together on the calendar, why not call the holiday "Discovery Day" and honor them both: two intrepid explorers who separately discovered a New World, 492 years apart?

Our Annual Warning

When the fall leaves begin to turn their bright autumnal colors, we are reminded to tell our readers to be careful about gathering them for decoration.

Unless one knows poison oak when he sees it, he is toying with great danger of discomfort and even the possibility of a stay in the hospital. Few Marin trees or shrubs can equal it for fall coloration, and no other is so dangerous to the skin.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State Moves On Welfare Loafer

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Finally, the state of California has reached the stage where it is demanding a reasonably concise picture of the welfare situation, as it relates to recipients and their acceptance of available jobs.

John Montgomery, state director of social welfare, has requested each county to report the number of welfare recipients employed to help alleviate the labor shortage which is causing the current crop-harvesting crisis in California.

SPENCER WILLIAMS, administrator of health and welfare, said that there is machinery to require physically able welfare recipients to accept job assignments in agriculture, as well as in other industries.

"Refusal to accept such employment," he said, "requires their removal from the welfare rolls.

"We are interested in knowing, on a county-by-county basis, how many recipients are deemed available for work, how many have been employed, and how many have been removed from the welfare rolls for failure to work.

"If the system is working, the public should know about it, and proper credit should be given. If the system is not working, we want to know why."

THIS MARKS the first time a really concentrated effort has been made by the state Department of Welfare to get a play-by-play account of government-aided malingering.

Accuracy of the report, of course, will depend on the forthright attitude of county welfare workers, who are best able to supply the information required.

Generally, the public is aware of instances in which malingering occurs, but the overall picutre — actually the only picutre that counts — must come from the counties.

Montgomery's request presages a "get tough" action, which in the long run could mean heavy reductions in state welfare aid, and in addition could convince welfare recipients who have adopted government aid as a way of life that they might have to go to work instead of living off the taxpayers.

ALTHOUGH THE STATE Department of Social Welfare prints a monthly bulletin, consisting of 24 pages of small type relating to welfare recipients and welfare payments, nowhere in the bulletin is there a statistic showing the number of recipients who are able to work if jobs were available.

The special report sought by Montgomery might well be made on a monthly basis. At least, it would show taxpayers how much of their money is going to support people who don't want to earn a living.

This was how cruicial each said Vietnam was to his people — President Marcos of the Philippines, Foreign Minister Khoman of Thailand, President Park of Korea, Prime Minister Rahman of Malaysia, Prime Minister Lee of Singapore, Prime Minister Holt of Australia, and Prime Minister Holyoake of New Zealand.

I KNOW OF NO ONE in the Administration — the President or Rusk or McNamara — who does not believe the Asian allies could and should be doing more in Vietnam. But they are not likely to do more as long as they can feel that the U.S. will put in anything and everything that is needed.

Behind the resolution is the mounting conviction that the case for greater allied Asian support in Vietnam must be put more forcefully and that the Asians had better realize that the ability of the President to keep the U.S. in Vietnam rests in part upon their prompt response.

Human Rights Job Demands Quality It Promptly Eradicates

The job of executive director of the Human Rights Commission is difficult enough to fill. It may be even more difficult to hold.

They're talking about a person with executive abilities plus "rapport" with the Marin City community.

There undoubtedly are qualified persons who have "rapport" with Marin City. But once such a person assumes the countywide post, his "rapport" with Marin City or any other hot community is immediately placed in jeopardy.

It's not his fault, nor is it the fault of the community. The very nature of the job calls for a countywide approach to problems at hand. He cannot orient his thinking toward one community but must act in the interest of the entire county. In doing so, he may find himself losing his "rapport" with the community which originally looked to him as champion.

A man who, in the eyes of the community at large, is an unbiased and objective administrator, may begin to look like a traitor to a specific community.

We may have to settle for a conscientious public servant who is tolerant in his views but does not necessarily have special rapport with any community. It would be fine if one could be found with all the qualifications plus this elusive quality called "rapport," but we suspect there is no such animal. And if there were, he would lose that "rapport" the moment he took the county job and joined what critics like to call "the Establishment."

JOE LEACH, the county's new data processing chief, has some hidden qualities that should work to the county's benefit.

His experience with private firms includes consultation work for companies offering computer services. Having worked the other side of the street, so to speak, he is in a good position to spot any padding that private consultants may try to pan off to public agencies like the County of Marin.

His background in private industry should pay off handsomely in savings to the county.

DON'T LOOK NOW, but the Civic Center's plastic dome is leaking again. But it's only a few drops—nothing compared with the bucketsful that poured down the winter after the center opened.

Civic Center security officer Eugene Meyer still has plenty of faith in humanity.

Jane Arbini of San Anselmo lost a gold wristwatch on the Civic Center grounds a few weeks ago. She reported the loss that evening to officer Meyer. First thing the next morning, officer Meyer picked up the phone, and a woman from Corte Madera reported finding the wristwatch the evening before in the Civic Center parking lot.

LITTER CONTROL must continue to depend on the old fashioned methods — warning signs and reminders and relying on the good conscience of each individual. One supervisor hit upon the possibility of making the driver of a car responsible for litter tossed out of his car. But it won't work.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reports that a statute holding the driver accountable would probably be unconstitutional.

"This presents problems," says Maloney, "inasmuch as there may be several occupants, and all cannot be presumably culpable for the action of one."

Put Away Guitar, Mother; Daffodils Won't Do For Dinner

WASHINGTON — Everyone talks about the hippie problem, but no one wants to do anything about it until it strikes home. I have a friend, whom I'll call Mrs. Jaffe. She has a son who is a devout hippie and two daughters who are very sympathetic to their brother's thinking. Her husband never takes his son seriously and for the past year or so the entire family has accused her of being "square."

Mrs. Jaffe finally got fed up fighting a lonely battle, so she decided to do something about it. One day last month around dinner time she walked into the living room barefooted, dressed in blue jeans and her hair tangled in all directions. She sat on the floor, placed a water pipe next to her, picked up a guitar and started to sing, "I want to get inside my brain so I can see my love again."

"MOTHER, WHAT on earth are you doing?" one of her daughters cried.

"This is my thing," Mrs. Jaffe said. "From now on I'm dropping out and turning on."

Mr. Jaffe said, "Get off the floor. You look ridiculous."

"I'm tired of being treated like a cube," Mrs. Jaffe said. "You people have blown my my mind and I dig."

Mrs. Jaffe's son looked at her nervously. "What's for dinner?"

MRS. JAFFE got up and went over to a vase and took out the flowers. "Daffodils," she said, handing one to each member of the family. "You don't need food when you have flowers."

Mrs. Jaffe's other daughter said, "Mother, my boyfriend's coming over in a few minutes. You've got to stop this."

"I'm sure he's seen a teenybopper before. I'm sorry our pad isn't clean, but without dirt where is love?

Mr. Jaffe said, "This is not very funny. This place looks like a pigsty."

"I can't help it. I was meditating my navel all day long."

"Mother," her daughter said, "how can you say things like that?"

"Does anybody have any grass for this water pipe?"

HER SON, who had gone to his bedroom, came running out. "Where's my record machine?"

"I gave it away. Who cares about materialistic things? They only corrupt you."

"But my records."

"I'll play my guitar for you instead."

She sang, "I'm going to run away from home so I can freak out all alone and go to pot on tea."

"I have to put on a clean dress if I'm going out," her daughter said.

"I didn't wash your dress," Mrs. Jaffe said. "I don't think clean laundry should be part of our thing."

MR. JAFFE SAID, "I'm going to call the doctor."

"Wonderful! He can join our love-in. We'll have all the neighbors over for a group grope."

"A group grope?" her daughter cried.

"Of course. Our family has been hung up for too long. Now if you eat all your flowers, you can each have a banana for dessert."

Obesity Called Crippling Illness

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Obesity is "one of the leading crippling diseases of our time," says Dr. Rudolph E. Noble.

The University of California Medical School instructor said more than 6 million people in the country are in the dangerously overweight bracket. He called them "physically and socially paralyzed."

As a remedy, Dr. Noble proposed education in calorie values and proper nutrition.

Planting Record Set In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A record 27,000 acres of tree plantings on national forest land has been set this year in areas equivalent to 41 square miles—the size of the city and county of San Francisco.

Regional forester J. W. Deinema said, "This is a significant achievement." The Forest Service in California, he added, has started timber regrowth on almost a quarter million acres since 1930.

Indonesia Breaks With Red China

JAKARTA (UPI)—The Indonesian government announced today a break in diplomatic relations with Communist China. The foreign office communique said all diplomatic mission members in Peking would be called home immediately.

The announcement came shortly after acting President Gen. Suharto called an emergency cabinet meeting to discuss the steadily worsening relations with Peking.

TOWARD BREAK

Foreign Minister Adam Malik had said earlier that relations with Communist China were headed toward a break.

The crisis meeting came at a time when the government was entertaining Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

Malik had rushed back to Jakarta from New York where he was attending the United Nation General Assembly meeting, and called the nation's ambassadors home from all Asian and Pacific posts presumably to discuss the crisis.

SACK EMBASSY

The situation became urgent Sunday, Oct. 1, when anti-Communist Indonesian students sacked the Communist Chinese Embassy and beat up 20 Chinese diplomats.

Malik said the only formal reaction he had received from Peking was a protest note from the Red Chinese foreign office. However, eight Indonesian eiplomats in Peking have been put under house arrest.

Malik said that Chinese diplomats and embassy personnel will not be allowed to return to Peking until the safety of Indonesian diplomats in Peking is assured and they are allowed to return home.

The Indonesian students on Saturday demanded that the government break relations with China by today.

Fire Causes $25,000 In Damage On Boat

A 33-foot cabin cruiser at Lowrie's Yacht Harbor, off San Pedro Road, was raked by flames which did an estimated $25,000 damage and forced two occupants to flee the boat early yesterday morning.

San Rafael firemen reported that the cruiser "Clare de Lune" and contents were badly damagedf by the fire, possibly caused by an electric heater.

The owner, Dr. Herbert B. Henderson of San Francisco, and his son were aboard when the fire broke out, firemen reported.

The fire also scorched the paint and cracked windows on an adjacent 31-foot cruiser, owned by W. S. Wetenhall of San Francisco. Damage to the Wetenhall cruiser was estimated at $500.

The yacht harbor is in unincorporated area, but San Rafael firemen got the call and responded first to be joined later by Marin County firemen.

The county fire department reported that the San Rafael firemen had the fire under control when county firemen arrived.

Gottlieb Puts 14 Hippies Under Arrest To Avoid Fine

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — It's a sorry song that folksinger Lou Gottlieb is warbling today after placing 14 hippies under citizen's arrest to avoid a $500 fine.

"It's a damn sorry day," the former Limelighter singer said, "when the laws of the state force a man to arrest his brother and sister to avoid paying a fine."

But Gottlieb, reacting to a court order to clear his 31-acre ranch of hippies told 30 flower children to leave Saturday. Fourteen refused and were booked on trespassing charges at Gottlieb's request.

The bearded singer's ranch had become a haven for hippies—much to the vexation of neighbors who complained about noise and of health officials who said sanitation regulations were virtually ignored.

A superior court judge fined Gottlieb $500 Friday on a contempt of court charge for illegally harboring up to 100 hippies. The judge warned Gottlieb $500 on Friday on a contempt of court charge for illegally harboring up to 100 hippies. The judge warned Gottlieb, 43, the fine would be repeated every day he allowed set to remain.

The observance is called "Double Ten" because it ends on the 10th day of the 10th month.

Mercedes-Benz introduces the invisible model change.

We've pasted half of this year's Mercedes-Benz 250S next to half of next year's 250S, just to prove you can't tell one year from another.

The "annual model change" hysteria is in full cry again.

Suddenly, the '67 models are out of style and out of date. They've been replaced by glittery new '68 versions with new styling, new names, new optional extras and new slogans to remember them by.

The new '68 Mercedes-Benz models are in the showrooms now, too. But they can hardly put the '67 models out of date, because you can hardly tell the two apart.

No new styling, no new names, no new optional extras, no new slogans. This invisible model change lacks much drama. But it does have a lot of common sense.

No guinea pig feeling

If you own a current or recent Mercedes-Benz, the invisible model change means you'll be spared watching your car drop several hundred dollars in value overnight.

And you won't feel as if you're suddenly stuck with last year's fashion.

If you buy a '68 Mercedes-Benz, you won't have to fret about spending half your time in repair shops, waiting for "new car bugs" to be ironed out.

(It's nice to know you're not being used as a guinea pig for some marketing brainstorm.)

Change for more than change's sake

Instead of lumping all its changes into one big artificial spree every fall, Mercedes-Benz simply adds them to the regular model run whenever the engineering staff declares them ready.

The '68 Mercedes-Benz models underscore the point. They differ from the '67 versions only in a handful of technical modifications. And these changes were made simply to meet the letter of Federal regulations that apply to all new domestic and foreign-built cars sold in the U.S.

That's all. No styling changes to make you think the cars are all-new. No raft of gadgets to make you discontented with your present car.

In short, no planned obsolescence.

Every one of the new Mercedes-Benz models carries technical advances that other cars—for all their ballyhooed annual changes—still lack.

Even the least costly Mercedes-Benz sedan rides on a road-hugging, bump-flattening fully independent suspension.

Even the least powerful model stops with power-assisted, fade-free front disc brakes (and more powerful models use 4-wheel discs).

Every Mercedes-Benz is equipped with precise, recirculating-ball steering—and a tiny shock absorber is built right into this system.

A tight "unit" body welded in thousands of places forms the heart of every Mercedes-Benz. After 50,000 miles, you may begin to wonder if your Mercedes-Benz will ever rattle.

The Mercedes-Benz engineering staff has earned more than 5,000 patents in developing these much-envied technical advances. No "annual model change" will ever be allowed to chuck them into the ash can.

A word on safety

Safety starts at the drawing board at Mercedes-Benz—and has for years. It's good to know that the company pioneered safety ideas many years ago, voluntarily. That features like dual-circuit brake lines, breakaway inside rearview mirrors, recessed interior door handles, and flexible interior fittings were standard Mercedes-Benz items long before recent mandatory requirements had been drawn.

Work will continue to make Mercedes-Benz cars safer yet.

Visit us soon

There are 13 Mercedes-Benz models, ranging from $25,785 to $4,284 and from limousines to sports to economy cars. Come to our showroom soon for a thorough test drive—and a firsthand look at the invisible model change.

Instead of lumping all its changes into one big artificial spree every fall, Mercedes-Benz simply adds them to the regular model run whenever the engineering staff declares them ready.

The '68 Mercedes-Benz models underscore the point. They differ from the '67 versions only in a handful of technical modifications. And these changes were made simply to meet the letter of Federal regulations that apply to all new domestic and foreign-built cars sold in the U.S.

That's all. No styling changes to make you think the cars are all-new. No raft of gadgets to make you discontented with your present car.

In short, no planned obsolescence.

Every one of the new Mercedes-Benz models carries technical advances that other cars—for all their ballyhooed annual changes—still lack.

Even the least costly Mercedes-Benz sedan rides on a road-hugging, bump-flattening fully independent suspension.

Even the least powerful model stops with power-assisted, fade-free front disc brakes (and more powerful models use 4-wheel discs).

Every Mercedes-Benz is equipped with precise, recirculating-ball steering—and a tiny shock absorber is built right into this system.

A tight "unit" body welded in thousands of places forms the heart of every Mercedes-Benz. After 50,000 miles, you may begin to wonder if your Mercedes-Benz will ever rattle.

The Mercedes-Benz engineering staff has earned more than 5,000 patents in developing these much-envied technical advances. No "annual model change" will ever be allowed to chuck them into the ash can.

A word on safety

Safety starts at the drawing board at Mercedes-Benz—and has for years. It's good to know that the company pioneered safety ideas many years ago, voluntarily. That features like dual-circuit brake lines, breakaway inside rearview mirrors, recessed interior door handles, and flexible interior fittings were standard Mercedes-Benz items long before recent mandatory requirements had been drawn.

Work will continue to make Mercedes-Benz cars safer yet.

Visit us soon

There are 13 Mercedes-Benz models, ranging from $25,785 to $4,284 and from limousines to sports to economy cars. Come to our showroom soon for a thorough test drive—and a firsthand look at the invisible model change.

The tour is being sponsored by the Bel Marin Keys Women's Club and hostesses in the homes and on the boats will be dressed in sailing clothes.

Color-keyed in green, the Fred Niederberger two-story home at 1055 Bel Marin Key boulevard, commands a view of the Novato hills. The downstairs den is decorated with weapons from various parts of the world.

AT THE James Zoeller home, 917 Bel Marin Key Boulevard, a crystal chandelier accents the Italian Renaissance theme in the dining area. Most of the furnishings are family heirlooms.

A green ceramic fireplace in the center of the living room window offers warmth and color at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robert at 244 Montego Key. The patio overlooks a huge swimming pool built into the deck.

Paintings and furniture from Europe and the Orient are seen and a collection of clocks are seen in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Howell, 184 Caribe Isle. Seen from their living room window, is the only circular deck at Bel Marin Keys.

The eight boats that can be boarded for inspection are: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart's "Rich-Charles," a Columbia 22 including galley, light system and pump sink, a family cruising sloop which sleeps four.

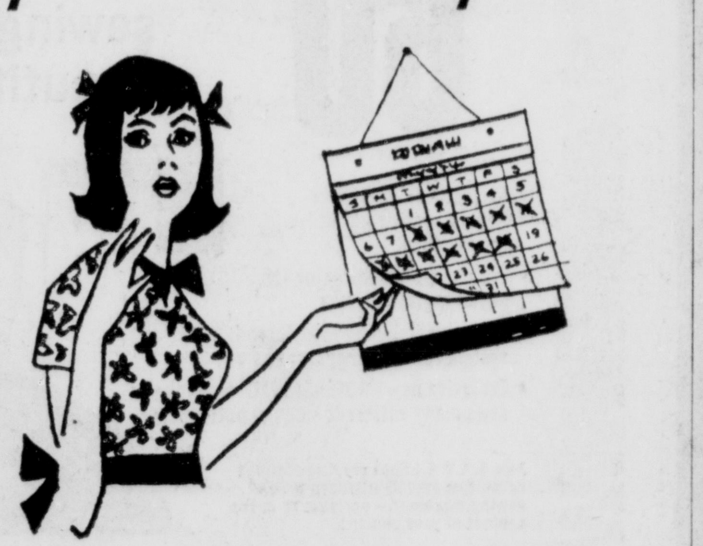
BEFORE YOUR BABY COMES

The Wonder Of New Life...



First in a 10-part series on care during pregnancy for a healthy child and mother, written by Virginia Apgar, M.D., for the National Foundation, March of Dimes.

It's a secret. Even from you. That's the first mystery. Each time the great miracle begins in silence. You walk and talk and eat and sleep and look out the window and up at the sky at night. You wash, clean, cook. You may go to work each day. You talk with friends, relax with the radio, watch television. And every day seems like the day before and the day before that. Everything seems to be the same. But it isn't.

But you don't know that yet. For you don't know that you are already a mother. For the first time. Or for the second or third. But each time, even in that secret beginning, it is always as if it were the first time. You are always a brand-new mother. You became a brand-new mother at the second of conception, in that small flash of time.

THAT BABY IS no bigger than a minute and it may be more than a month before it tells you that it is here, come to live within you for about nine months and seven days — if all goes well, if you take care of yourself, and are taken care of.

Comes the time when you expect your monthly period — and the time goes, and it doesn't happen. You begin to wonder. Your breasts may seem tender — you may feel sleepier than usual — or need to urinate more often. Any or all these things increase your wonder. A week passes. Two weeks.

There's another kind of wonder, too — the wonder of new life. You dream of that far-off day when you'll give the secret you think you know the wonderful gift of birth — when it won't be an it any more, but a he or a she you can hold in your arms. . . .

YOU WAKE IN the middle of the night and think: Oh, not now. We can't afford it now.

Or you feel, suddenly, that you're too young, that you haven't been married very long, that you'll be tied down.

Or you worry: What about my job? I'll have to give up my job. And we need the money.

You look in the mirror and think: I'll get fat. I'll lose my figure.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Will Refrigeration Bother Him?, Asks Girl With An Alligator

DEAR HELEN:

Does it hurt an alligator to chill him?

I have this baby alligator, which was sent to me as a gag. He'll go to the zoo before long, as how do you keep an alligator in a city apartment? People talk. Also women scream, including my fiancee who says I have to choose between him and her.

Somebody told me if you put an alligator in the refrigerator he'll likely go into temporary hibernation. Then, when you have a party, you use him as a decoration. People think he's stuffed and ignore him. Later on when they're juiced up, they see the "ornament" open an eye or twitch a scale, and they take the pledge. Causes a lot of laughs.

I don't want to hurt good al' Al, but I'd like to get a little mileage out of him before he leaves. Will refrigeration bother him?—AL'S PAL

DEAR A.P.:

Would refrigeration bother you? More to the point, what would Al do to your refrigerator before he hibernated? Better cool it or you may get a hot letter from the ASPCA, plus a repair bill that will frost you!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Mini-skirts I can stand, but this is a new low (or high!). I saw a gal walking down the street with her black, lace-trimmed unmentionables showing an inch below her skirt. They weren't the kind that were supposed to show either. Please tell these dames to wa-a-atch it, because watching them is embarrassing these days.—A MALE

DEAR MALE:

I tell them and tell them but they just don't listen! Again, gals: if you dig minis, at least make with the total look, with highrise hose, etc.! Better yet, let down your hems!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is in answer to "Trying Not to Be Heartbroken" who is in love with a married man — and blames infidelity all on the sloppy, unloving wife.

I'm the wife of a cheater, and not at all like those she describes. Most of us aren't. I am as slender as the day we were married. My house is clean, laundry and ironing done, meals on time and appetizing, though my husband sometimes throws his down the disposer because he has already dined with his latest girl friend. I work full time, as does my husband, but I never let my work come first. We both have college degrees and I "keep up" mentally and physically. I am most definitely not "cold." But he likes variety.

Our communication lines went down five years ago when I first found out about his playing. Wives who care are NEVER the last to know. It becomes quite evident when the marriage changes into what I have. These days we're polite strangers, playing a role to protect our lovely daughter.

But I have the five year plan going for me. Five more years and our child will be grown — and I'll be gone!—WIFE OF A CHEATER

DEAR WIFE:

Why wait five years? Compulsive playboys should never marry. A woman who stays with one of them "to protect the children" makes everyone miserable, especially the children. Moreover, she may be pushing them toward the same kind of marital unhappiness. Young people often practice what their parents condone.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

NEW LIFE

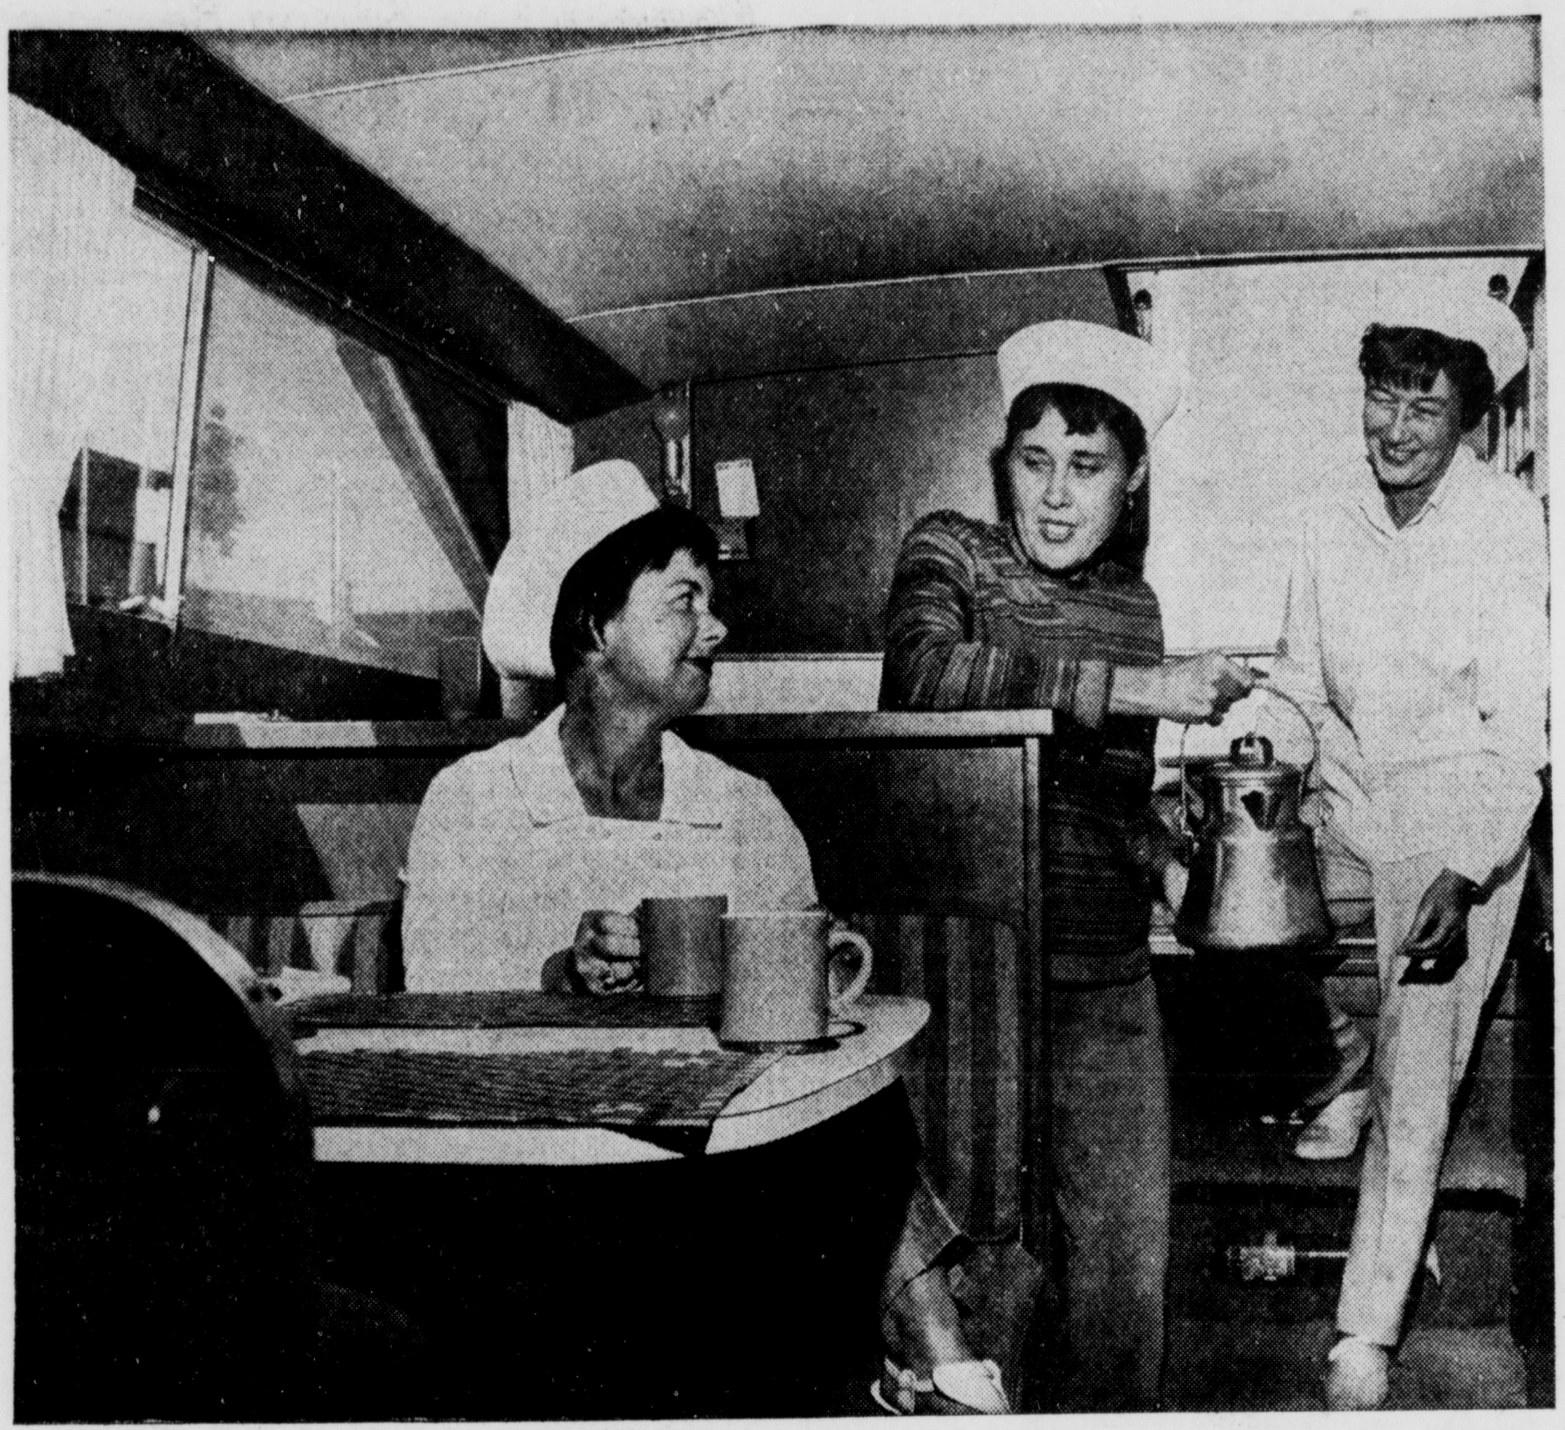
on your own age, your way of life.

YOU MIGHT EVEN feel, before you know whether what you suspect is true or not —I don't want it. Yes, many women feel this way, sometimes, in the beginning. Don't worry about it. You're not a monster. You're a woman, faced with an experience and a job that is the great mystery of all life.

Your mind is a medley of thoughts. Mixed-up thoughts. Some bright, some black. But the time of thinking about it must stop. The time for action has come. You've got to know — for sure. What should you do?

For Baby Care

To prevent a buildup of lime deposit on baby bottles, never let them stand in the hot water longer than necessary.



THE LUXURY OF the 30-foot fully appointed power cruiser will please the ladies, when they tour the Jack Weilers' "Katie-R." Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh, center, serves coffee to Mrs. Weiler, on left, as Mrs. William A. Weiss Jr. joins them. The "Katie-R" will be among the eight boats and houses to be on the tour.

Club Plans A 'Bush Banquet'

Those ear-shattering noises you've heard lately may not be "sonic booms" as you suspected, but members of the Welcome Wagon Club of Marin spreading the word by tom-tom to come by Jaguar, Wildcat, Land Rover or any other availale transportation to their "Safari Into Fashion" at Marin Country Club in Novato on Oct. 17.

The fashion show-luncheon, which is the organizations's annual charity event, will benefit the Trainable Mentally Retarded School at Santa Venetia.

Immediately preceeding the Safari will be a no-host "Jungle Juice Cocktail" hour at the "tribal dress" is Mrs. Betty "Watering Hole" starting at 11 a.m. African artifacts will enhance the dining room, and exotic "jungle flowers and vines" will add interest to the tables for the "Bush Banquet" at noon, featuring "Cannibal Crepes" and other "jungle delicacies."

Mrs. Thomas Irvine, president, will present a "Swahili Welcome," then relinquish leadership of the Safari to Mrs. Richard O'Brien, "chief guide." The fashions featured will be suitable for all types of expeditions, whether it be to New York, London, San Francisco, or Mount Kilimanjaro.

Mrs. Robert Bunnell will provide the "jungle beat" for the "exotic jungle bird" models, Mesdames R. L. Pischer, Philip Fowler, Robert Kronemeyer, Donald Loughnane, Robert Miller, J. S. Oostereyer, Frank Palcanis, Paul Quandt, William Sarm, Philip Strick, Robert Thornton, and Benedict Viering, all members of the Welcome Wagon Club. Co-ordinator of the Batch.

Mrs. Carl Friedewald is organizing the Safari, with assistance from "bush beaters" Mrs. Harold Hess, in charge of decorations; Mrs. Richard Gates and Mrs. J. S. Oostermeyer, door prizes and favors, Mrs. Arthur P. Nelson, printing; and Mrs. Richard Raab, raffle. Reservations by tom-tom and more conventional means are being taken by Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Jack H. Yates.

In The Soup

Instead of pouring down the drain liquids from canned green beans, peas, mushrooms and other vegetables, save same to use in canned soups, meat stews. Use in place of water.

Store Needles

Save those plastic tubes new toothbrushes come in. Use them for storing crochet hooks and needles.

Novatan Plans Annual Tea

Mrs. Charles Clarkson will be hostess at the annual Silver Tea that she has given for the past 12 years. The tea will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. on Thursday, at her Novato home.

Mrs. Helen Noel will assist Mrs. Clarkson and a number of her friends will pour.

More than 100 friends, many of them members of the United Presbyterian Women of the Novato Presbyterian Church, attended the tea last year.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Will Refrigeration Bother Him?, Asks Girl With An Alligator

DEAR HELEN:

Does it hurt an alligator to chill him?

I have this baby alligator, which was sent to me as a gag. He'll go to the zoo before long, as how do you keep an alligator in a city apartment? People talk. Also women scream, including my fiancee who says I have to choose between him and her.

Somebody told me if you put an alligator in the refrigerator he'll likely go into temporary hibernation. Then, when you have a party, you use him as a decoration. People think he's stuffed and ignore him. Later on when they're juiced up, they see the "ornament" open an eye or twitch a scale, and they take the pledge. Causes a lot of laughs.

I don't want to hurt good al' Al, but I'd like to get a little mileage out of him before he leaves. Will refrigeration bother him?—AL'S PAL

DEAR A.P.:

Would refrigeration bother you? More to the point, what would Al do to your refrigerator before he hibernated? Better cool it or you may get a hot letter from the ASPCA, plus a repair bill that will frost you!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Mini-skirts I can stand, but this is a new low (or high!). I saw a gal walking down the street with her black, lace-trimmed unmentionables showing an inch below her skirt. They weren't the kind that were supposed to show either. Please tell these dames to wa-a-atch it, because watching them is embarrassing these days.—A MALE

DEAR MALE:

I tell them and tell them but they just don't listen! Again, gals: if you dig minis, at least make with the total look, with highrise hose, etc.! Better yet, let down your hems!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is in answer to "Trying Not to Be Heartbroken" who is in love with a married man — and blames infidelity all on the sloppy, unloving wife.

I'm the wife of a cheater, and not at all like those she describes. Most of us aren't. I am as slender as the day we were married. My house is clean, laundry and ironing done, meals on time and appetizing, though my husband sometimes throws his down the disposer because he has already dined with his latest girl friend. I work full time, as does my husband, but I never let my work come first. We both have college degrees and I "keep up" mentally and physically. I am most definitely not "cold." But he likes variety.

Our communication lines went down five years ago when I first found out about his playing. Wives who care are NEVER the last to know. It becomes quite evident when the marriage changes into what I have. These days we're polite strangers, playing a role to protect our lovely daughter.

But I have the five year plan going for me. Five more years and our child will be grown — and I'll be gone!—WIFE OF A CHEATER

DEAR WIFE:

Why wait five years? Compulsive playboys should never marry. A woman who stays with one of them "to protect the children" makes everyone miserable, especially the children. Moreover, she may be pushing them toward the same kind of marital unhappiness. Young people often practice what their parents condone.—H.

NEW LIFE

on your own age, your way of life.

YOU MIGHT EVEN feel, before you know whether what you suspect is true or not —I don't want it. Yes, many women feel this way, sometimes, in the beginning. Don't worry about it. You're not a monster. You're a woman, faced with an experience and a job that is the great mystery of all life.

Your mind is a medley of thoughts. Mixed-up thoughts. Some bright, some black. But the time of thinking about it must stop. The time for action has come. You've got to know — for sure. What should you do?

For Baby Care

To prevent a buildup of lime deposit on baby bottles, never let them stand in the hot water longer than necessary.

Pleasure Faire Hits Any Era, Costume

By ALAN JONES

"We are such stuff as dreams are made on . . ."

Will Shakespeare or his players would feel at home at the Renaissance Pleasure Faire last weekend and next. And so would nearly anyone from this era or Elizabeth I's.

Most of the thousands that wandered last weekend to the hidden wood near Peacock Gap wore suitable fantastic clothing, the Elizabethan blending to mod to Haight-Ashbury and back. The only people looking out of place were those in 20th century clothes, but nobody really cared.

TENTS, BUNTING

People were too busy wandering through the baywood grove, admiring the brilliant dress and color-saturated tents and bunting, sampling wares of every kind from magic charms to that old English favorite, maize on the cob.

Several took up the fair's offer of free admission to anyone arriving on horseback in medieval costume, adding color and an element of risk for thin-shod pedestrians.

A commedia dell' arte cast performed "ancient Greek'' themes in a manner which, if played any broader, would have needed a bigger stage.

CRAFTS

Down the row were painters, potters, carvers, leathersmiths, artisans, jewelry makers, candlemakers, metal sculptors and cartographers. For the belly were sold beef pies, chicken, cheese, fruits, pork pies, beer, wine, mulled wine, mead and softer drinks.

Hawkers strolled the grounds peddling beads, trinkets, "peacock feathers to tickle the girls with!" and other oddments at the top of their melodious voices.

The heavy bay scene in the air was well mingled with spices, incense, wines and the roasting food.

One place called Stonehenge sold magic charms. Another, "by appointment to her majesty the queen,'' sold herbs, incense and witchcraft spells. A spurious-looking sort nearby sold indulgences, but said not for what.

Velvet tunics were more common than drip-dry shirts, and beards and bright hose thicker than trousers.

There were a few anachronisms for nit-pickers — the corn on the cob, a bagpiper (Scotland was very distinctly not part of Elizabeth's England), Indian-influenced paisley needlework and a few others. But nobody really cared.

SWORDS

Two youths in jerkins, doublets and all that jazz picked a quarrel with each other and commenced a stirring sword fight in front of a bangle booth, pausing only long enough to draw breath and crack jokes.

A storyteller was in residence, sitting beside a vastly hollow-trunked bay and spinning stories for children and eavesdropping adults.

The fair, a fund-raising benefit for KPFA-FM, educational radio station in Berkeley, will open again Saturday and Saunday at 11 a.m. and continue to dusk.

ROBIN HOOD

Robin Hood's birthday will be observed Saturday and Robin is expected to appear to beard the sheriff.

The fair is a little difficult to reach except by the efficient shuttle buses set up at the Peacock Gap Country Club parking area and at Marin Civic Center parking lot, which make the two-mile run every few minutes.

Artists Open 40th Annual Show In Ross

Champagne and prize money flowed freely as artists and patrons celebrated the opening of the Marin Society of Artists' 40th Annual Exhibition at a private preview Saturday night.

Terra Linda artist Tony Williams was awarded best-in-show and $250 for his acrylic painting "Aurora," in the unusually large annual which runs through October 29 at MSA's Marin Art and Garden Center gallery in Ross.

AWARDS

Others sharing honors and $1,100 in prizes with Williams were Fred Herschleb, Kentfield, for his watercolor, "A tale in Two Parts," and Manuel Villamore, San Francisco, for his acrylic "The Old Pear Tree." Both received painting merit awards of $200.

Laura Devendorf, Mill Valley, received $100 and the Fred Koch Memorial Award in Painting for a collage, "Mod Bod, 7," while merit awards in graphics and $75 each went to two Kentfield artists, Barbara Evans for a collograph, "TV Set," and Ada Garfinkel for "Of Kings and Customs, 2."

Sculpture awards of $100 each were given to the terra cotta ''Inka-Hahn'' by Liesel Rosenthal, San Francisco, and a fluted wood "Sampan" by Homer Lee, Sebastapol.

CRAFTS

Four equal crafts awards of $100 each went to a tapestry "Winter Cathedral Mountain" by Bea Bernardi, Sausalito; a ceramic "Bottle" by Bernadette Cole of Berkeley, a gold and emerald ring by Lida Dear, Kentfield; and a covered Raku ware pot by Billie Wilson, Kentfield.

The 40th MSA Annual is open to the public daily between 2 and 4 p.m.

ART REVIEW

Artist-Craftsman's Ceramic Experiment

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Artist and craftsman Michael Gordon proves his ability as both, by using the ceramic medium in traditional form and then taking off and flying with it. Which is almost a literal analogy.

In his show, through October 23 at the Lowell Colbus Gallery, 579 Bridgeway in Sausalito, the Diablo Valley College instructor begins with the usual plates, mugs and utilitarian pots and ends up with ceramic sculpture that seems winged and flying. And it's an imagery he admits — a sort of visual manifestation of his attempt to break away from the "thrown" form in a purely dimensional pot.

FOR FUN

The more ordinary ceramics, which he still does occasionally "for fun," have a simple dignity about them but they are commonplace beside his more experimental works. The latter are often strange little pots that sag like Dali watches onto a plate base, which itself, is bent and broken.

Or Gordon may explore the free-flown theme where wing-like projections sprout from a mass of twisted clay as in one series of three, where he gradually reduces the receptacle opening which classifies it as a "pot" and finally eliminates it, creating "sculpture."

Frequently, these pieces hang from walls or rise on tall pedestals. The clean-lined, wheel-thrown pedestal, capped by a burst of rough or decorative forms, is a recurring theme for Gordon's push toward using the thrown form in an unusual way and combining it with clay that is added on.

WALL RELIEF

Yet another of his experiments is a large wall relief composed of assembled ceramic sections. Unfortunately, it is the only such work he shows, because the richness and variety of its earth tones, the changing levels, the protrusions, gouges and lines, and the smooth against grainy surfaces — all combine in a total piece that is beautiful and very satisfying.

It also adds another dimension to his work, enhancing interest in the fact that you are actually seeing a kind of one-man artistic evolution.

A craftsman always, Gordon takes you from his mastery of basic wheel-thrown ceramics and, as a creative artist, leads you into its risk-run, experimental application. The final area isn't as safe nor always as successful, but it's one that is always stimulating.

Ellington Band Combines Nostalgic Reruns, Dance

By GARY TISCHLER

Somehow, Duke Ellington and his followers sound more mellow in the shade.

The Duke was back for the second straight year, headlining the fourth annual "Jazz On the Mountain" happening yesterday on a balmy afternoon that was sheer enjoyment.

There is something nostalgic about hearing Ellington's familiar brand of music in the mountain theater setting, faw away from the Grateful Dead and the countless new rock bands. It still sounds good.

From the opening "A Train," that touched off familiar response in the audience, right through the impressionistic "La Plume African," the Duke and his talented band were in command.

Most of the numbers were part of last year's performance, but nobody seemed to mind. It was almost like a rerun of a favorite movie that you've seen about 10 times and wouldn't miss again.

There was white-mustached Paul Gonzalves again on the trombone, Cootie Williams rearing out on the trumpet, highlighting the Duke's "Impressions of the Far East," and Jimmy Hamilton providing the high point of "La Plume African" on the clarinet.

Johnny Hodges never sounded better on the sax than when reviving "I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good."

Adding a different touch to this year's appearance was dancer Sheila Xoregos, performing to Ellington's "Pychedelic Impressions," and the addition of Bola Sete's Brazilian Trio, which was relegated to coke break duty in between takes by Ellington's band.

Still, I'd go back tomorrow to hear it all again. And considering the traffic, that's saying a lot.

SIR NORMAN ANGELL

Peace Prize Winner Angell Dead At 94

LONDON (AP) — Sir Norman Angell, 94, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1933 for his many books and lectures on behalf of peace, died Saturday.

His best known work was "The Great Illusion," in which he tried to show that war damaged winner and loser alike and brought no real economic advantage.

More than a million copies of the book were sold after its publication in 1910. For his views, Angell was accused of lacking patriotism during the years before World War I. He had no doubt, however, that Britain was right in resisting Nazi Germany.

Angell was knighted in 1931 and served briefly as a member of Parliament after his election in 1929 as a Labor party candidate.

Salazar Regime Held Threatened

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today Portuguese authorities are becoming increasingly concerned about a clandestine revolutionary organization seeking to overthrow the government of Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

The Times said the organization is made up of armed forces officers and former military men and is reported to have carried out "two successful and highly professional commando actions to obtain money and arms."

The existence of the year-old "League of Union and Military Action," believed to have 50 to 75 members, "is fully known to the Portuguese authorities," the Times said.

Winnie Ruth Judd Missing Five Years

By KEARNEY BOTHWELL

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted in 1931 of murdering two of her girlfriends and shipping their bodies to Los Angeles in a trunk, walked through an "accidentally open'" door at Arizona State Hospital five years ago and hasn't been heard from since.

If the famous "Tiger Woman" is still alive—and there is no evidence to the contrary — she would be 62. Authorities gave up the search a few months after she disappeared Oct. 8, 1962, although her file is still marked "open."

The gruesome crime was discovered by a Los Angeles railroad attendant who noticed blood dripping from a large trunk and called police. Inside were the dismembered bodies of Agnes Anne Leroi, an X - ray technician, and Hedvig Samuelson, a school teacher.

Detectives traced the trunk to Mrs. Judd and in 1931 she was sentenced to hang.

But just 72 hours before the execution she was ruled insane and sent to the hospital for treatment. In 1952, her sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

During her 30 years of confinement in the institution, Mrs. Judd tried to escape six times. In her seventh and last escape, she walked through the open door and into the night. Her hospital clothing was later found discarded on the roof of a building near the hospital.

One police officer once said local residents who remember the murders "just don't give a hoot anymore." Another said, "most figure she's paid her debt to society."

Also on the agenda is a use permit for a dance hall at 103-111 Verdi Street, and a review of a use permit for San Quentin disposal site at 1630 Francisco Boulevard. Operators of the dump have submitted a plan showing a five-year fill pattern.

Old Pros Save The Day For Fightin'-Mad 49ers

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — In the National Football League, happiness is a victory when you're supposed to lose by at least 14 points.

And Coach Jack Christiansen and his San Francisco 49ers have that kind of happiness today.

They upset the Los Angeles Rams 27-24 before a crowd of 60,424 at Memorial Coliseum yesterday and they did it the hard way.

The 49ers blew a 20-0 halftime lead and trailed 24-20 when split end Sonny Randle, a nine-year NFL veteran, came back into the huddle late in the fourth quarter. He told quarterback John Brodie to throw him one "high and outside."

Brodie did and Randle caught the ball over his left shoulder in the southwest sector of the end zone for the touchdown that gave San Francisco its victory.

The teams now both are 3-1 on the season and tied for second place in the tough Coastal Division behind undefeated Baltimore, which is 4-0.

The Colts are the next foe for the Rams while the 49ers should have an easier chore against the Philadelphia Eagles.

Christiansen, a silent man in defeat, was a voluble victor yesterday.

"Randle's an old pro," he

Second Guessers Hit Sox Pitching Choice

Santiago Bombarded By Cards

By JACK HAND

ST. LOUIS (AP) — How can you second guess a five-hit shut-out by big Bob Gibosn?

The St. Louis Cardinals simply had too much pitching and too much hitting for Boston's battered pitching staff in yesterday's fourth World Series game at Busch Stadium.

Because three of the four Boston relief pitchers were able to blank the Cards, some might have questioned the choice of Jose Santiago to make a second start for Boston. However, the Puerto Rican had lost a tight one to Gibson, 2-1, in his first try.

Manager Dick Williams did go a long way with Santiago in the first inning when the Cardinals scored four big runs enroute to their 6-0 victory. Santiago got only two men out and gave up singles to Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Tim McCarver, Julian Javier and Dal Maxvill and a two-run double to Roger Maris before Gary Bell came to the rescue.

However, Bell had been routed in Saturday's game and Jerry Stephenson, who followed him in yesterday's third Boston pitcher, was roughed up for two more runs.

Losing 6-0, Dave Morehead and 19-year-old Ken Brett were able to blank the Cards without a hit in the last four innings.

SIXTH GAME?

Gary Waslewski, effective in relief of Bell Saturday, already had been tabbed as the probable Red Sox starter in the sixth game, if Jim Lonborg can hold the fort today.

Red Schoendienst, the Card manager, has been in the driver's seat all during the Series because he has had Gibson lined up for the first, fourth and seventh, if needed. Williams had to use up Lonborg to clinch the

Backs To Wall Nothing New For Cinderella Boston Gang

By DAVE O'HARA

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals chirped merrily while the Boston Red Sox sang the blues today as they awaited the fifth, and possibly final, game of the 64th World Series.

The Cardinals took a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-7 series by defeating the Red Sox 6-0 behind Bob Gibson's five-hit victory yesterday, but the National League champs shied from making any predictions.

OLD CLICHE

"We don't know whether we'll go back to Boston or not," Manager Red Schoendienst said before falling back on the time-worn cliche, "we'll play them one game at a time."

Boston Manager Dick Williams, disappointed but not disheartened, faced the facts of life realistically.

"We have our backs to the wall," Williams said. "Now it's do-or-die."

Asked if the Red Sox would try to duplicate Boston's comeback from 1-3 to win the first World Series in 1903, Williams grinned and replied:

LONG ODDS

"That's something I didn't know—I wasn't around in 1903. But I'll tell you one thing: We'll give it everything we've got."

The Red Sox won the first official fall classic 64 years ago in a best-of-nine series. Only two teams have bounced back after losing three of the first four games of a best-of-seven series — Pittsburgh against Washington in 1925 and the New York Yankees against Milwaukee in 1958.

"Sure, the odds are against us," Williams said. "But they've been that way all season. We're not giving up now. We've come back all year long, so let's see what happens.

"I know we've looked bad the past couple of days, but we looked bad at times during the season. Nobody quit then and nobody will now. We've rebounded all along the way and I'm proud of every one of the fellows."

Jim Lonborg, who won 22 games during the American League campaign and fired a one-hit, 5-0 victory over the Cardinals in the second game of the Series, was ready to try to keep Boston hopes alive.

"I'll give it everything," the right-hander said. "I just have to come through. Otherwise there'll be no tomorrow for us."

SERIES DEBUT

Schoendienst planned to counter with Steve Carlton, a southpaw with a 14-9 record making his series debut.

The St. Louis manager said that if Carlton fails to wrap up the series the Cardinals will start Dick Hughes in the sixth game, scheduled for Wednesday in Boston.

Williams hopefully named rookie right-hander Gary Waslewski to oppose Hughes.

No Panic For Green Bay

By DICK COUCH

Vince Lombardi ignored the panic button and the Green Bay Packers scrambled back to daylight.

The Packers spotted Detroit a 10-0 first-quarted lead yesterday, then rallied for a 27-17 victory that kept them atop the National Football League's Central Division with a 3-0-1 mark.

Baltimore kept its perfect record intact with a 24-3 victory over Chicago, Dallas edged Washington 17-14 on a last-minute TD pitch by Don Meredith, Philadelphia mauled Atlanta 38-7 and New York downed New Orleans 27-21 in other Sunday games. Cleveland trimmed Pittsburgh 21-10 Saturday night.

In American Football League action, Kansas City buried Miami 41-0, Buffalo nipped Denver 17-16 and San Diego battled Boston to a 31-31 standoff. New York flattened Oakland 27-24 in a Saturday night AFL game.

LATE BINGE

The Packers, who had to come from 17 points down three weeks ago to earn a 17-17 tie with Detroit in their season opener, won the return match with a 17-point binge in the final period.

Zeke Bratkowski, directing the Green Bay attack in the absence of injured Bart Starr, fired his second scoring pass—a 13-yard strike to Boyd Dowler—to wrap up the victory. Don Chandler's third field goal and linebacker Ray Nitschke's 20-yard TD ramble with an intercepted pass touched off the fourth-quarter fireworks.

The Lions intercepted Bratwski twice in the first quarter, turning the breaks into a touchdown and field goal for their early 10-point margin.

"One thing you learn in this league is not to panic," said Lombardi, the Packers' tough-minded general manager-coach. "If you start making drastic adjustments because you're down a few points...you're in trouble."

Novato's Big Turnabout

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Like a phoenix rising from the ashes, the Novato High School Hornets rebounded from their 20-0 pasting at the hands of Drake the previous week to stun highly-rated Tamalpais 20-7 Saturday afternoon before an estimated 2,000 fans at College of Marin Stadium.

Novato rang up two touchdowns in the first period and pushed the count to 20-0 in the third quarter to square its Marin County Athletic League record at 1-1 and ruin Tam's league debut.

Novato Coach Al Scott, delighted by the Hornets' complete turnabout from its flat performance against Drake, labled Saturday's upset a "terrific team effort."

He was particularly high on southpaw quarterback Russ Dillon, the Babe Ruth League baseball hero, who completed 9 of 16 passes, Larry Bresnan, whose hard running sparked a resurgent ground attack, and linebacker Corey Parfitt, who led the charge that contained Tam's explosive attack.

"We let the team know what we thought of that Drake game all last week," said Scott, "and this time we came to play some real football."

Tam coach Willie Hector had little to say as he surveyed the ruins. "We were terrible. Just lousy, that's all," he said.

Milt Morley of Terra Linda has his third straight Marin Country Club championship golf title.

Morley, 49-year-old plant manager at King-Knight Co. of Emeryville, manufacturer of generators and diesel engines, defeated Carl Johnson of Marin Country Club Estates, 5-4 yesterday in the 36-hole championships on the Novato course.

Morley, a scratch golfer, was even par when the match ended on the 32nd hole.

In the semi-finals leading up to yesterday's finals, Morley had defeated Col. Bill Williamson, 5 and 4. Johnson earned the berth in the finals with a 4 and 3 triumph over Lloyd Ferguson.

Casper Is Beaten In Alcan Playoff

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Gay Brewer, reigning U.S. Masters champion, defeated former U.S. Open champion Billy Casper by four shots in the Alcan golfer of the year playoff today.

The victory was worth $55,000, with Casper getting $15,000 for second.

Brewer, from Dallas, Tex., shot a four-under 33-35—68 over the Old Course at St. Andrews. Casper, of Peacock Gap, San Rafael, Calif., wound up with a 37-35—72.

The two Americans finished the 72 holes in five-under-par 283 to force a playoff.

Nineteen professionals, including 11 from the United States, were in the original field.

Brewer started out by carding a 25-foot putt on the first hole of the 6,926-yard, par 36-36—72 course for a birdie 3 and never once lost his lead.

He canned another 25-footer at the fourth hole for another birdie, and sank one from seven feet at the long fifth hole for another birdie.

George Archer of Gilroy, Calif, won the third prize of $7,500 and Brian Barnes of England took the fourth prize of $5,800.

Both Brewer and Casper now travel to London to play in the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship — a tournament involving eight top players including Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Old Pros Save The Day For Fightin'-Mad 49ers

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — In the National Football League, happiness is a victory when you're supposed to lose by at least 14 points.

And Coach Jack Christiansen and his San Francisco 49ers have that kind of happiness today.

They upset the Los Angeles Rams 27-24 before a crowd of 60,424 at Memorial Coliseum yesterday and they did it the hard way.

The 49ers blew a 20-0 halftime lead and trailed 24-20 when split end Sonny Randle, a nine-year NFL veteran, came back into the huddle late in the fourth quarter. He told quarterback John Brodie to throw him one "high and outside."

Brodie did and Randle caught the ball over his left shoulder in the southwest sector of the end zone for the touchdown that gave San Francisco its victory.

The teams now both are 3-1 on the season and tied for second place in the tough Coastal Division behind undefeated Baltimore, which is 4-0.

The Colts are the next foe for the Rams while the 49ers should have an easier chore against the Philadelphia Eagles.

Christiansen, a silent man in defeat, was a voluble victor yesterday.

"Randle's an old pro," he

WINNING TOUCHDOWN — Sonny Randle, acquired from St. Louis Cardinals in a trade last month, paid big dividends yesterday as he caught this 28-yard fourth quarter pass from John Brodie to give San Francisco 49ers a thrilling 27-24 upset victory over the Rams in Los Angeles. Santiago Bombarded By Cards

By JACK HAND

ST. LOUIS (AP) — How can you second guess a five-hit shut-out by big Bob Gibosn?

The St. Louis Cardinals simply had too much pitching and too much hitting for Boston's battered pitching staff in yesterday's fourth World Series game at Busch Stadium.

Because three of the four Boston relief pitchers were able to blank the Cards, some might have questioned the choice of Jose Santiago to make a second start for Boston. However, the Puerto Rican had lost a tight one to Gibson, 2-1, in his first try.

Manager Dick Williams did go a long way with Santiago in the first inning when the Cardinals scored four big runs enroute to their 6-0 victory. Santiago got only two men out and gave up singles to Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Tim McCarver, Julian Javier and Dal Maxvill and a two-run double to Roger Maris before Gary Bell came to the rescue.

However, Bell had been routed in Saturday's game and Jerry Stephenson, who followed him in yesterday's third Boston pitcher, was roughed up for two more runs.

Losing 6-0, Dave Morehead and 19-year-old Ken Brett were able to blank the Cards without a hit in the last four innings.

SIXTH GAME?

Gary Waslewski, effective in relief of Bell Saturday, already had been tabbed as the probable Red Sox starter in the sixth game, if Jim Lonborg can hold the fort today.

Red Schoendienst, the Card manager, has been in the driver's seat all during the Series because he has had Gibson lined up for the first, fourth and seventh, if needed. Williams had to use up Lonborg to clinch the

Backs To Wall Nothing New For Cinderella Boston Gang

By DAVE O'HARA

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals chirped merrily while the Boston Red Sox sang the blues today as they awaited the fifth, and possibly final, game of the 64th World Series.

The Cardinals took a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-7 series by defeating the Red Sox 6-0 behind Bob Gibson's five-hit victory yesterday, but the National League champs shied from making any predictions.

OLD CLICHE

"We don't know whether we'll go back to Boston or not," Manager Red Schoendienst said before falling back on the time-worn cliche, "we'll play them one game at a time."

Boston Manager Dick Williams, disappointed but not disheartened, faced the facts of life realistically.

"We have our backs to the wall," Williams said. "Now it's do-or-die."

Asked if the Red Sox would try to duplicate Boston's comeback from 1-3 to win the first World Series in 1903, Williams grinned and replied:

LONG ODDS

"That's something I didn't know—I wasn't around in 1903. But I'll tell you one thing: We'll give it everything we've got."

The Red Sox won the first official fall classic 64 years ago in a best-of-nine series. Only two teams have bounced back after losing three of the first four games of a best-of-seven series — Pittsburgh against Washington in 1925 and the New York Yankees against Milwaukee in 1958.

"Sure, the odds are against us," Williams said. "But they've been that way all season. We're not giving up now. We've come back all year long, so let's see what happens.

"I know we've looked bad the past couple of days, but we looked bad at times during the season. Nobody quit then and nobody will now. We've rebounded all along the way and I'm proud of every one of the fellows."

Jim Lonborg, who won 22 games during the American League campaign and fired a one-hit, 5-0 victory over the Cardinals in the second game of the Series, was ready to try to keep Boston hopes alive.

"I'll give it everything," the right-hander said. "I just have to come through. Otherwise there'll be no tomorrow for us."

SERIES DEBUT

Schoendienst planned to counter with Steve Carlton, a southpaw with a 14-9 record making his series debut.

The St. Louis manager said that if Carlton fails to wrap up the series the Cardinals will start Dick Hughes in the sixth game, scheduled for Wednesday in Boston.

Williams hopefully named rookie right-hander Gary Waslewski to oppose Hughes.

until the fourth quarter when Ron Blasingame, the most effective Indian and the game's leading rusher with 152 yards, flashed 71 yards to a touchdown. But it was too little, too late.

In the first quarter, the first time Novato had the ball, Dillon came out throwing strikes, completing 2 passes for 33 yards to Mike Ahern. Four plays later Bresnan slammed over from the two.

Tam was forced to punt on the ensuing series of downs, and Novato came right back with a 57-yard drive, Bresnan sprinting for 14 and Dillon tossing a sideline pass to Dennis Baker for 27 yards and the TD. Chuck Day kicked the PAT for 13-0.

Novato drove again in the second quarter, but bogged down on the Tam 11 when defensive end Jan Brink dropped Dillon for 13-yard loss.

The Hornets took the second half kickoff and marched 61 yards to put the game on ice, with Bresnan, who had a 27-yard burst, and Baker providing the impetus. Bresnan flashed around left end for the last eight yards on fourth down. Day's kick was good.

Four pass completions by Don Mackin, who'd gone 2-for-9 in the first half, moved Tam to the Novato 12 as the third quarter ended, but Day fell on Mackin's fumble to end the threat there.

Tamalpais continued to move well in the last period, sending Blasingame off right tackle, through the linebackers and past the secondary for 71 big yards and a face-saving TD. Mackin got the PAT on a sneak.

After picking up a couple of first downs, Novato had to punt, and Tam drove back furiously on the passing of Mackin and the running of Blasingame, Mike Fowler, and Luther Brown. Mackin's 26-yard toss to Fowler was the big play in a 14-play, 73-yard drive that carried to the Hornet's three as the gun went off.

The statistics and Tam's fourth-period efforts made the game seem closer than it was. Novato was ne never in serious danger fo losing the ballgame.

Lou Brock, the big hitter of the Series with a .500 average on eight hits in 16 trips and three stolen bases, opened the big first inning by beating out an infield single. Curt Flood then singled to left.

MARIS CONTINUES

Roger Maris, continuing to prove he was not all washed up when the New York Yankees traded him, came through with a two-run double to the left field corner. Maris took third on Orlando Cepeda's fly ball and scored on Tim McCarver's single to right.

McCarver took second on Julian Javier's single off Rico Petrocelli's glove and scored from second on Maxvill's single to left, beating Carl Yastrzemski's throw. Williams replaced Santiago with Bell at that point but the game was gone.

Cepeda's double down the left field line and McCarver's sacrifice fly accounted for the first run off Stephenson in the third. Javier's double to the left corner drove in Mike Shannon, who had walked.

Gibson, working with only three days rest for the first time since the middle of the 1966 season, went all the way with a five-hitter, a remarkable comeback for man who was out from July 15 to Sept. 6 with a broken right leg.

Drake Tough In Loss To S. I.

By GARY TISHLER

Back in the old days, before walkie-talkies, instant replays and Al Hirt at halftime, they used to call football a game of guts.

Drake High School's grid defenders demonstrated anew what the game is all about last Saturday night in a big confrontation against Catholic League powerhouse St. Ignatius at College of Marin Stadium before nearly 5,000 fans.

The Pirates finally lost, 12-7, but not before they had ridden a powderkeg for nearly all of the ballgame with clenched teeth spitting back everything that was thrown at them.

What finally did the defense in was the offense going to the well too often.

ALVARADO RAMBLES

The Pirates had ridden Don Alvarado's opening 85-yard kickoff return and Tom Corbett's conversion run for a 7-6 lead all the way into the final period, four interceptions and two fumbles later before the Wildcats finally struck for the winner.

Alvarado's return, a 12-second run through freeway traffic sparked what looked as if it were going to be a general scoring festival.

St. Ignatius came right back on its first play with a 65-yard burst through the middle by 205-pound fullback Tom Ferranchi to make it 7-6 with only 50 seconds shaved off the board.,

Neither offense ever got going as well again, although the Wildcats, with former Marin Catholic quarterback Dan Fouts at the controls handing off to halfback Mike Giorgetti on nearly every play, were knocking at the door all night.

BLITZING DEFENSE

A multiple blitzing, stunting St. Ignatius defense kept Drake quarterback Don Stone off balance most of the night, dropping him for losses totaling 36 yards, intercepting four passes and falling on two fumbles, one by Stone and one by Corbett.

Each fumble and interception occurred in Drake territory and threw the challenge at the harried Pirate defense. Led by linebacker Perry Hedin and Alvarado in the backfield, the Pirates rose to the occasion every time.

Except once Fouts, whose passing had been unspectacular most of the night, connected on a wide pass to Giorgetti on the 24-yard line early in the final quarter. The 175-pound halfback just got by a desperate grab by a Drake defender and scooted into the end zone with 10:08 left.

HE WAS EVERYWHERE

Alvarado, the man who was everywhere that night, blocked the try for the extra point.

Giorgetti was the most offensive player on the field. He carried the ball 27 times for 129 yards, caught 5 of Fouts' 7 pass completions for 49 yards and and scored the winning touchdown.

But for the Pirates, who lost a ballgame, it was a night to be proud.

Writers Aided 49er Win

said. "And he has all the moves. He called that touchdown play himself. All our players were prepared for this game. We hung in there even after the Rams came back and that's the way we won the game."

He conceded the Rams have a "great defensive team" but added "we came out hitting and got the ball. Hitting gave us the upperhand. Pride made the difference."

Christiansen said he and his players were annoyed by stories written by Los Angeles sports writers after the Rams beat the 49ers 34-7 in an exhibition game this year.

"Those beautiful Los Angeles writers helped us," he said with a touch of sarcasm.

Ram Coach George Allen, obviously downcast by the season's first loss, said, "A lot of people don't give the 49ers credit but I think they have the best offensive line in football. I think we'll bounce back. We have a good ball club. One game doesn't make a season."

And how does one account for 54 points in a game that had only two long sustained drives?

It's easy, the way these teams performed.

The Rams in the first half turned the ball over to San Francisco five times on three fumbles and two pass interceptions. The 49ers converted each mistake into four scores and a 20-0 halftime lead.

San Francisco lost the ball three times on pass interceptions, and thrice the Rams hit the scoreboard.

Christiansen declined to guess the outcome of the Rams-Baltimore game Sunday in Coltsville but noted: "Obviously it should best defense in the league against the best quarterback in the league," meaning John Unitas.

Despite the miscues, Brodie and Gabriel proved to be talented pros. Brodie threw touchdown bombs of 59 yards to John David Crow, 55 to Bob Windsor and the winning 28-yard toss to Randle.

Gabriel scored once on a nine-yard run and a pass of 12 to Lester Josephson.

King And Hetzel Spark Warriors

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Every member of the San Francisco starting lineup scored at least 20 points as the Warriors downed the Los Angeles Lakers 133-125 in a National Basketball Association exhibition game last night.

The Laker attack missed much of its spark with standout guards Jerry West and Gail Goodrich out of the lineup.

The Warriors took a six-point halftime lead on the strength of Jim King's shooting and playmaking, and remained in command after that, stretching their third quarter lead to 102-88.

High point man for the Warriors were King with 28 and Fred Hetzell with 27.

Drake Tough In Loss To S. I.

By GARY TISHLER

Back in the old days, before walkie-talkies, instant replays and Al Hirt at halftime, they used to call football a game of guts.

Drake High School's grid defenders demonstrated anew what the game is all about last Saturday night in a big confrontation against Catholic League powerhouse St. Ignatius at College of Marin Stadium before nearly 5,000 fans.

The Pirates finally lost, 12-7, but not before they had ridden a powderkeg for nearly all of the ballgame with clenched teeth spitting back everything that was thrown at them.

What finally did the defense in was the offense going to the well too often.

ALVARADO RAMBLES

The Pirates had ridden Don Alvarado's opening 85-yard kickoff return and Tom Corbett's conversion run for a 7-6 lead all the way into the final period, four interceptions and two fumbles later before the Wildcats finally struck for the winner.

Alvarado's return, a 12-second run through freeway traffic sparked what looked as if it were going to be a general scoring festival.

St. Ignatius came right back on its first play with a 65-yard burst through the middle by 205-pound fullback Tom Ferranchi to make it 7-6 with only 50 seconds shaved off the board.,

Neither offense ever got going as well again, although the Wildcats, with former Marin Catholic quarterback Dan Fouts at the controls handing off to halfback Mike Giorgetti on nearly every play, were knocking at the door all night.

BLITZING DEFENSE

A multiple blitzing, stunting St. Ignatius defense kept Drake quarterback Don Stone off balance most of the night, dropping him for losses totaling 36 yards, intercepting four passes and falling on two fumbles, one by Stone and one by Corbett.

Each fumble and interception occurred in Drake territory and threw the challenge at the harried Pirate defense. Led by linebacker Perry Hedin and Alvarado in the backfield, the Pirates rose to the occasion every time.

Except once Fouts, whose passing had been unspectacular most of the night, connected on a wide pass to Giorgetti on the 24-yard line early in the final quarter. The 175-pound halfback just got by a desperate grab by a Drake defender and scooted into the end zone with 10:08 left.

HE WAS EVERYWHERE

Alvarado, the man who was everywhere that night, blocked the try for the extra point.

Giorgetti was the most offensive player on the field. He carried the ball 27 times for 129 yards, caught 5 of Fouts' 7 pass completions for 49 yards and and scored the winning touchdown.

But for the Pirates, who lost a ballgame, it was a night to be proud.

Dillon, Bresnan Pace Novato To Victory

until the fourth quarter when Ron Blasingame, the most effective Indian and the game's leading rusher with 152 yards, flashed 71 yards to a touchdown. But it was too little, too late.

In the first quarter, the first time Novato had the ball, Dillon came out throwing strikes, completing 2 passes for 33 yards to Mike Ahern. Four plays later Bresnan slammed over from the two.

Tam was forced to punt on the ensuing series of downs, and Novato came right back with a 57-yard drive, Bresnan sprinting for 14 and Dillon tossing a sideline pass to Dennis Baker for 27 yards and the TD. Chuck Day kicked the PAT for 13-0.

Novato drove again in the second quarter, but bogged down on the Tam 11 when defensive end Jan Brink dropped Dillon for 13-yard loss.

The Hornets took the second half kickoff and marched 61 yards to put the game on ice, with Bresnan, who had a 27-yard burst, and Baker providing the impetus. Bresnan flashed around left end for the last eight yards on fourth down. Day's kick was good.

Four pass completions by Don Mackin, who'd gone 2-for-9 in the first half, moved Tam to the Novato 12 as the third quarter ended, but Day fell on Mackin's fumble to end the threat there.

Tamalpais continued to move well in the last period, sending Blasingame off right tackle, through the linebackers and past the secondary for 71 big yards and a face-saving TD. Mackin got the PAT on a sneak.

After picking up a couple of first downs, Novato had to punt, and Tam drove back furiously on the passing of Mackin and the running of Blasingame, Mike Fowler, and Luther Brown. Mackin's 26-yard toss to Fowler was the big play in a 14-play, 73-yard drive that carried to the Hornet's three as the gun went off.

The statistics and Tam's fourth-period efforts made the game seem closer than it was. Novato was ne never in serious danger fo losing the ballgame.

Bob Spencer of Lucas Valley won overall second place in unofficial standings of the Northern California Power Crusiers Association eight-race series which concluded Saturday.

Spencer, owner of a San Rafael carpet company, finished second in Saturday's series finale, a Golden Gate Yacht Club sponsored race which covered an 18-mile course along the San Francisco waterfront.

Spencer's Vagabond was one of five boats from Loch Lomond Y.C. competing. Others were Jim Cook, Suki Too, 4th; Paul Streichen, Wiphen, 8th; Robert Arney, Five Fathoms, 12th, and Dr. Jack Peetz, Too Much, 16th.

A total of 45 boats competed Saturday.

Lou Brock, the big hitter of the Series with a .500 average on eight hits in 16 trips and three stolen bases, opened the big first inning by beating out an infield single. Curt Flood then singled to left.

MARIS CONTINUES

Roger Maris, continuing to prove he was not all washed up when the New York Yankees traded him, came through with a two-run double to the left field corner. Maris took third on Orlando Cepeda's fly ball and scored on Tim McCarver's single to right.

McCarver took second on Julian Javier's single off Rico Petrocelli's glove and scored from second on Maxvill's single to left, beating Carl Yastrzemski's throw. Williams replaced Santiago with Bell at that point but the game was gone.

Cepeda's double down the left field line and McCarver's sacrifice fly accounted for the first run off Stephenson in the third. Javier's double to the left corner drove in Mike Shannon, who had walked.

Gibson, working with only three days rest for the first time since the middle of the 1966 season, went all the way with a five-hitter, a remarkable comeback for man who was out from July 15 to Sept. 6 with a broken right leg.

Writers Aided 49er Win

said. "And he has all the moves. He called that touchdown play himself. All our players were prepared for this game. We hung in there even after the Rams came back and that's the way we won the game."

He conceded the Rams have a "great defensive team" but added "we came out hitting and got the ball. Hitting gave us the upperhand. Pride made the difference."

Christiansen said he and his players were annoyed by stories written by Los Angeles sports writers after the Rams beat the 49ers 34-7 in an exhibition game this year.

"Those beautiful Los Angeles writers helped us," he said with a touch of sarcasm.

Ram Coach George Allen, obviously downcast by the season's first loss, said, "A lot of people don't give the 49ers credit but I think they have the best offensive line in football. I think we'll bounce back. We have a good ball club. One game doesn't make a season."

And how does one account for 54 points in a game that had only two long sustained drives?

It's easy, the way these teams performed.

The Rams in the first half turned the ball over to San Francisco five times on three fumbles and two pass interceptions. The 49ers converted each mistake into four scores and a 20-0 halftime lead.

San Francisco lost the ball three times on pass interceptions, and thrice the Rams hit the scoreboard.

Christiansen declined to guess the outcome of the Rams-Baltimore game Sunday in Coltsville but noted: "Obviously it should best defense in the league against the best quarterback in the league," meaning John Unitas.

Despite the miscues, Brodie and Gabriel proved to be talented pros. Brodie threw touchdown bombs of 59 yards to John David Crow, 55 to Bob Windsor and the winning 28-yard toss to Randle.

Gabriel scored once on a nine-yard run and a pass of 12 to Lester Josephson.

The Brodie-Randle and Gabriel-Josephson scoring strikes All else was a little bewildering.

Marin Catholic Finds New Star

PETALUMA—The Marin Catholic Wildcats may have lost a football game last Saturday, but they found a halfback.

The Wildcats fell to a second-half explosion by offensive-minded Rancho Cotate, losing 39-19, after a half-time tie but they turned loose substitue junior halfback Jim O'Brian for big yardage and a pair of touchdowns.

O'Brian, subbing for super-half Jim Finnegan, who sat out the game with a broken finger, shook loose for 124 yards in 15 carries, scored on the second play of the game on a 71-yard jaunt, and again on a one-yarder in the first period that gave the Wildcats a brief 13-6 lead.

TIED AT HALF

It was all tied up at the half, as Marin Catholic on a 53-yard pass from quarterback Jim Nelson to halfback Mike Giacomini.

Nelson passed for 115 yards but Rancho Cotate, on a 67-6 winner over San Rafael Military Academy early in the season, returned the second half kickoff for a touchdown and was off to races.

Marin Catholic is now 1-3 on the season, in its first year out of the Marin County Athletic League football competition.

Showdown: Troy Vs. Irish Next

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

The next two weeks should decide two things for the University of Southern California football team.

—Whether the Trojans really are the nation's No. 1 team.

—Are they going to out-hustle cross-town rival UCLA to the Pacific Eight Conference title and the Rose Bowl berth that goes with it?

USC, with quarterback Steve Sogge calling the shots and running back O. J. Simpson reading him loud and clear, rolled over Stanford, 30-0, last Saturday night for their fourth straight victory.

The win undoubtediy will keep USC in the No. 1 spot in this week's UPI Coaches Baord Ratings. Next week this time it could be all turned around, though, because the Trojans have to play mighty Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind. Notre Dame crushed Iowa 56-6 Saturday.

The week after that USC goes to Seattle, Wash., to tangle with Washington, a solid team mighty difficult to beat in its own backyard.

UCLA LUCKY

UCLA, meanwhile, was extended by a tough Penn State team last Saturday and was lucky to come home with a 17-15 victory that kept the Bruins' record clean, also at 4.0. This week the Bruins host California in a night game and the following week they go to Stanford. They are ranked right behind the Trojans nationally.

Washington, recovering nicely after dropping its season opener to Nebraska, handed Oregon State its first loss of the campaign, 13-6, in their big struggle last Saturday, while California, now a surprising 3-1, nipped the Air Force, 14-12, Oregon bowed to Ohio State, 30-0, and WSU lost to Baylor, 10-7. Major indepndent San Jose State was idle.

Sogge threw TD passes of 28 and 29 yards to national hurdle champ Earl McCullouch and Simpson ran for more than 160 yards and threw a nine-yard TD pass to Steve Dale in leading the Trojans past the Indians.

BEBAN STOPPED

The Nittany Lions, who previously had beaten both Navy and Miami and once again appear to have a solid club after a couple of off seasons, stopped UCLA's Gary Beban cold but the Bruin defense came to the rescue, turning a blocked punt and an intercepted pass into touchdowns. UCLA got its winning points via 37-yard field goal by Zenon Andrusyshyn.

Quarterback Barry Bronk, in danger of losing his job to a soph, ran eight yards for one TD and threw nine yards to Jim Calkins for another to feature Cal's victory. The Air Force lost out when it gambled for two extra points and failed.

Marin Bantam Drivers Enjoy A Banner Day

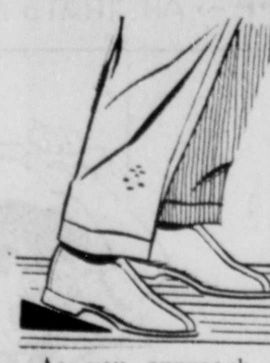
It was a banner day for the McNulty brothers at the Santa Rosa Bantam Car Club's Quarter Midget Association Races yesterday in Santa Rosa.

Bill McNulty took fast time honors, won the trophy dash and finished first in the main event while brother Pat took the heat race of the main event and finished third in the main.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

SHUFFLE-STEP CURTAILS 'BOBBING'



As you approach the foul line, your head should not bob up and down. This upsets the arc of your swing. The way to avoid "bobbing" is to keep your feet moving in a sort of shuffle instead of taking actual steps. Your head should gradually lower as you move forward.

Cerrudo Tops Rookie Field

San Rafael's Ron Cerrudo is tied for the lead at the one quarter mark as 110 young golfers seek accreditation to the Professional Golfers Association rich tour.

The young golfers play 144 holes of golf, with the low 33 earning the right to compete on the pro golf tour.

Two Of Nation's Top Ten Upset

1. Southern California, 4-0, beat Stanford 30-0.
2. Houston, 3-1, lost to N.C. State 16-6.
3. UCLA, 4-0, beat Penn State 17-15.
4. purdue, 3-0, beat Northwestern 24-16.
5. Georgia, 3-0, beat South Carolina 21-0.
6. Norte Dame, 2-1, beat Iowa 56-6.
7. Nebraska, 3-0, beat Kansas State 16-14.

Land Rover Ruins Oakland's Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath couldn't get the New York Jets off the ground against Oakland's rugged Raiders, so landrover Emerson Boozer came up with an alternate route.

The Raiders caught Namath holding a cold hand last Saturday night, but Boozer ran them into the ground as the Jets rolled to a 27-14 American Football League victory before a delighted crowd of 63,106 at Shea Stadium.

New York's third triumph in four starts ended a three-game unbeaten string for the Raiders.

Namath, who had passed for 398 and 415 yards in his previous two games, was able to complete only 9 of 28 tosses for 166 yards. Boozer, however, riddled the touted Oakland defense for 98 rushing yards and two touchdowns—boosting his league-leading point total to 48.

FOUR INTERCEPTIONS

Boozer's seventh and eighth TDs, coupled with four interceptions by New York defenders and a pair of field goals by Jim Turner, more than made up for Namath's inability to hit his receivers.

"The main thing is to get into the end zone," said Jets Coach Weeb Ewbank. "That balance bit is overdone. It doesn't matter how you get there as long as you get to the end zone."

"The year of experience means a lot," echoed Boozer, who scored twice on seven-yard bursts through the massive Oakland line. "I'm not getting as many openings as last year. They're keying more on me. So I try to stay under control, pick a hole and go with power."

"I wasn't throwing well," Namath said. "I had guys open and missed them. But we won, that's what counts."

Despite his troubles, Namath set up Boozer's first-quarter TD with a 30-yard strik e to Don Maynard and hit fullback Bill Mathis with a 38-yarder in the fourth quarter before Boozer scored again.

"This was our best defensive game," said linebacker Larry Grantham, who picked off wo Daryle Lamonica passes, helping the Jets streak to a 17-0 halftime lead. "We played four quarters tonight. Against Buffalo (in a 20-17 season-opening loss) we were only good for three."

Marin Catholic Finds New Star

PETALUMA—The Marin Catholic Wildcats may have lost a football game last Saturday, but they found a halfback.

The Wildcats fell to a second-half explosion by offensive-minded Rancho Cotate, losing 39-19, after a half-time tie but they turned loose substitue junior halfback Jim O'Brian for big yardage and a pair of touchdowns.

O'Brian, subbing for super-half Jim Finnegan, who sat out the game with a broken finger, shook loose for 124 yards in 15 carries, scored on the second play of the game on a 71-yard jaunt, and again on a one-yarder in the first period that gave the Wildcats a brief 13-6 lead.

TIED AT HALF

It was all tied up at the half, as Marin Catholic on a 53-yard pass from quarterback Jim Nelson to halfback Mike Giacomini.

Nelson passed for 115 yards but Rancho Cotate, on a 67-6 winner over San Rafael Military Academy early in the season, returned the second half kickoff for a touchdown and was off to races.

Marin Catholic is now 1-3 on the season, in its first year out of the Marin County Athletic League football competition.

yards with a recoevred fumble for two fourth-quarter touchdowns. The victory gave Baltimore a one-game lead over Los Angeles in the Coastal Division.

Meredith's 36-yard scoring strike to Dan Reeves with 18 seconds remaining lifted the Cowboys past Washington for their third victory against one loss. One minute earlier, the Redskins had taken a 14-10 lead on Sonny Jurgensen's eight-yard TD pass to Charlie Taylor.

Trailing 24-13 with less than seven minutes to play at Minnesota, the Cardinals, 3-1, struck for three touchdowns behind rookie quarterback Jim Hart and hard-driving halfback Johnny Roland.

Hart tossed a 40-yard scoring pass to Dave Williams and Roland ran for two more tallies as the Cards stayed atop the Century Division.

Bill Clark hurled the first four innings to pick up the win, aiding his own cause with a pair of singles.

Big blow of the day was Ron Law's 465-foot homer.

Showdown: Troy Vs. Irish Next

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

The next two weeks should decide two things for the University of Southern California football team.

—Whether the Trojans really are the nation's No. 1 team.

—Are they going to out-hustle cross-town rival UCLA to the Pacific Eight Conference title and the Rose Bowl berth that goes with it?

USC, with quarterback Steve Sogge calling the shots and running back O. J. Simpson reading him loud and clear, rolled over Stanford, 30-0, last Saturday night for their fourth straight victory.

The win undoubtediy will keep USC in the No. 1 spot in this week's UPI Coaches Baord Ratings. Next week this time it could be all turned around, though, because the Trojans have to play mighty Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind. Notre Dame crushed Iowa 56-6 Saturday.

The week after that USC goes to Seattle, Wash., to tangle with Washington, a solid team mighty difficult to beat in its own backyard.

UCLA LUCKY

UCLA, meanwhile, was extended by a tough Penn State team last Saturday and was lucky to come home with a 17-15 victory that kept the Bruins' record clean, also at 4.0. This week the Bruins host California in a night game and the following week they go to Stanford. They are ranked right behind the Trojans nationally.

Washington, recovering nicely after dropping its season opener to Nebraska, handed Oregon State its first loss of the campaign, 13-6, in their big struggle last Saturday, while California, now a surprising 3-1, nipped the Air Force, 14-12, Oregon bowed to Ohio State, 30-0, and WSU lost to Baylor, 10-7. Major indepndent San Jose State was idle.

Sogge threw TD passes of 28 and 29 yards to national hurdle champ Earl McCullouch and Simpson ran for more than 160 yards and threw a nine-yard TD pass to Steve Dale in leading the Trojans past the Indians.

BEBAN STOPPED

The Nittany Lions, who previously had beaten both Navy and Miami and once again appear to have a solid club after a couple of off seasons, stopped UCLA's Gary Beban cold but the Bruin defense came to the rescue, turning a blocked punt and an intercepted pass into touchdowns. UCLA got its winning points via 37-yard field goal by Zenon Andrusyshyn.

Quarterback Barry Bronk, in danger of losing his job to a soph, ran eight yards for one TD and threw nine yards to Jim Calkins for another to feature Cal's victory. The Air Force lost out when it gambled for two extra points and failed.

Marin Bantam Drivers Enjoy A Banner Day

It was a banner day for the McNulty brothers at the Santa Rosa Bantam Car Club's Quarter Midget Association Races yesterday in Santa Rosa.

Bill McNulty took fast time honors, won the trophy dash and finished first in the main event while brother Pat took the heat race of the main event and finished third in the main.

BOWLING TIPS

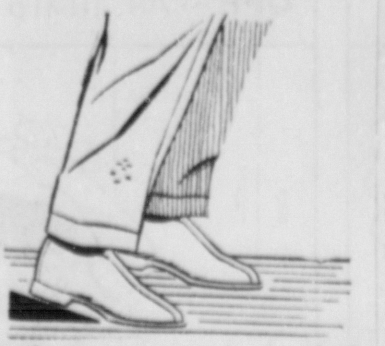
SHUFFLE-STEP CURTAILS 'BOBBING'



As you approach the foul line, your head should not bob up and down. This upsets the arc of your swing. The way to avoid "bobbing" is to keep your feet moving in a sort of shuffle instead of taking actual steps. Your head should gradually lower as you move forward.

Cerrudo Tops Rookie Field

San Rafael's Ron Cerrudo is tied for the lead at the one quarter mark as 110 young golfers seek accreditation to the Professional Golfers Association rich tour.

The young golfers play 144 holes of golf, with the low 33 earning the right to compete on the pro golf tour.

Two Of Nation's Top Ten Upset

1. Southern California, 4-0, beat Stanford 30-0.
2. Houston, 3-1, lost to N.C. State 16-6.
3. UCLA, 4-0, beat Penn State 17-15.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 9, the 282nd day of 1967 with 83 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

Born on this day in 1890 was American evangelist Aimee McPherson.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Yale College—now a University—was founded.

In 1910, forest fires in northern Minnesota destroyed six towns with a loss of 400 lives and damage estimated at $100 million.

In 1939, a Nazi sub seized the U.S. merchant vessel "City of Flint" and took it into the port of Murmansk. It was released 17 days later.

In 1958, Pope Pius XII, the 261st Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, died in the Vatican.

A thought for the day — American naturalist John Burroughs once said: "Time does not become sacred to us until we have lived it."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Making A Shutout Bid Like Playing Contract In Dark

Making a shutout bid is like turning our the lights: both sides must then operate in the dark. When the time comes to play the cards in such a hand, try to turn the lights back on before you commit yourself.

RUFFS SPADE

South ruffed the opening spade lead and drew the sole missing trump by leading a low trump to dummy's eight. Then he ruffed dummy's remaining spade and led out the ace of diamonds and a low diamond.

West had to play the ten on the second round of diamonds, and East overtoko with the jack of diamonds and returned the suit, forcing dummy to ruff while West played the king of diamonds.

REST OF HAND

South now had enough light to plan the rest of the hand. West had showed up with a strong spade suit and the king of diamonds.

If West also had the king of clubs he would have opened with one spade instead of three spades. The odds were overwhelming that East had the king of clubs.

DEEP FINESSE

South therefore got to his hand with a trump and began the clubs by leading the four-spot toward dummy. West played low, and South tried a deep finesse with dummy's nine.

South was not disappointed when East won this deep finesse with the jack of clubs. The idea was only to throw East into the lead.

If East returned a spade or a diamond, dummy could ruff while South discarded a club. East had to return a low club as his only hope, and South let this ride around to dummy's queen, thus assuring the contract.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 11 points in high cards adn 2 points for the singleton, enough for an optional opening bid.

You would open this kind of hand with length in both majors, but not with four cards in one major suit and a singleton in the other.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 9, the 282nd day of 1967 with 83 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

Born on this day in 1890 was American evangelist Aimee McPherson.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Yale College—now a University—was founded.

In 1910, forest fires in northern Minnesota destroyed six towns with a loss of 400 lives and damage estimated at $100 million.

In 1939, a Nazi sub seized the U.S. merchant vessel "City of Flint" and took it into the port of Murmansk. It was released 17 days later.

In 1958, Pope Pius XII, the 261st Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, died in the Vatican.

A thought for the day — American naturalist John Burroughs once said: "Time does not become sacred to us until we have lived it."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

The Earning Power Is Most Important

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. A stock which interests me is recommended because it is selling below its book value. Could you explain what this means? — A. N.

A. Book value is an accounting term which is not always clearly understood by investors. It is determined by adding up all the assets of a company, then deducting all debts and other liabilities. This sum is then divided by the number of common shares outstanding to arrive at the book value per share. This is one of the many fundamental calculations made in the evaluation of common stocks, but you should never confuse it with earning power, which is considerably more important. As a rule, shares of situations operating in static or depressed industries can be expected to sell under their book value since there is relatively little demand for such stocks. On the other hand, companies in rapidly growing, popular fields are usually bid up to prices far above book value.

Q. I'm afraid I've done a foolish thing. I borrowed $2,500 on my house with the idea that I could make more than the 6 per cent charged on the loan. I bought 50 shares of Armour at 51 and have seen it go down substantially. Should I hold on or switch to some thing else? I have three children whom I want to help. — A. L.

A. You may have done a foolish thing but you did a very human thing, too, in trying to buildup a little something for your family. I'm not going to labor the point, but in general it's a mistake to try too hard to make profits in the stock market. If you buy a good stock with your own surplus funds and without any great urgency for immediate gains, the chances are you'll do pretty well over a period of time. I believe that Armour is a good stock and that if you have patience you will ultimately be all right in this situation.

Public Ownership Not Always Best

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Franklin H. Cook, professor in the department of business logistics at the Pennsylvania State University, doesn't believe public ownership of electric utility systems is a good thing all of the time.

Cook said public ownership that fails to provide the customer with cheap adequate service, including provision for future plant expansion, or does not supply electricity at the lowest possible cost, is not fulfilling its economic function. Cook made his comments after comparing the earnings of privately owned electric power companies with the earnings of publicly owned systems.

Stock Market Closes Higher; Trade Active

NEW YORK ,AP) — The stock market closed higher in active trading today.

Some of the early gains were shaved in late trading.

The margin of advances over declines among individual stocks slipped to about 140 from 250.

Trading was active and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape lagged in reporting floor transactions most of the morning.

Steels, mail order-retails, aircrafts, oils and tobaccos were mostly higher. Motors, utilities, rails and airlines were generally lower.

Changes of most key issues were fractional but a few ran to 2 points or so.

General Tire, off about a point, appeared headed for the top of the day's most active list.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

More nations are represented at Montreal's Expo 67 than ever took part in any World's Fair.

Food Counter Is Big Business

NEW YORK (UPI)—A small refreshment room that started as an experiment here 57 years ago has blossomed into an enterprise that serves meals to more than 1 million people daily.

It's the food operations of the F.W. Woolworth Co., which at the beginning of this year had 1,995 food and luncheonette departments in the United States and Canada.

Expansion is continuing, with 37 new restaurant operations scheduled to open in 1967, reports H. W. Bode, vice president and director of restaurant operations. Present facilities can seat nearly 100,000 customers at one time.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

The Earning Power Is Most Important

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. A stock which interests me is recommended because it is selling below its book value. Could you explain what this means? — A. N.

A. Book value is an accounting term which is not always clearly understood by investors. It is determined by adding up all the assets of a company, then deducting all debts and other liabilities. This sum is then divided by the number of common shares outstanding to arrive at the book value per share. This is one of the many fundamental calculations made in the evaluation of common stocks, but you should never confuse it with earning power, which is considerably more important. As a rule, shares of situations operating in static or depressed industries can be expected to sell under their book value since there is relatively little demand for such stocks. On the other hand, companies in rapidly growing, popular fields are usually bid up to prices far above book value.

Q. I'm afraid I've done a foolish thing. I borrowed $2,500 on my house with the idea that I could make more than the 6 per cent charged on the loan. I bought 50 shares of Armour at 51 and have seen it go down substantially. Should I hold on or switch to some thing else? I have three children whom I want to help. — A. L.

A. You may have done a foolish thing but you did a very human thing, too, in trying to buildup a little something for your family. I'm not going to labor the point, but in general it's a mistake to try too hard to make profits in the stock market. If you buy a good stock with your own surplus funds and without any great urgency for immediate gains, the chances are you'll do pretty well over a period of time. I believe that Armour is a good stock and that if you have patience you will ultimately be all right in this situation.

Public Ownership Not Always Best

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Franklin H. Cook, professor in the department of business logistics at the Pennsylvania State University, doesn't believe public ownership of electric utility systems is a good thing all of the time.

Cook said public ownership that fails to provide the customer with cheap adequate service, including provision for future plant expansion, or does not supply electricity at the lowest possible cost, is not fulfilling its economic function. Cook made his comments after comparing the earnings of privately owned electric power companies with the earnings of publicly owned systems.

Stock Market Closes Higher; Trade Active

NEW YORK ,AP) — The stock market closed higher in active trading today.

Some of the early gains were shaved in late trading.

The margin of advances over declines among individual stocks slipped to about 140 from 250.

Trading was active and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape lagged in reporting floor transactions most of the morning.

Steels, mail order-retails, aircrafts, oils and tobaccos were mostly higher. Motors, utilities, rails and airlines were generally lower.

Changes of most key issues were fractional but a few ran to 2 points or so.

General Tire, off about a point, appeared headed for the top of the day's most active list.

Transitron was actively traded and down more than 2 points after reporting lower earnings for the year ended June 24.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

More nations are represented at Montreal's Expo 67 than ever took part in any World's Fair.

Food Counter Is Big Business

NEW YORK (UPI)—A small refreshment room that started as an experiment here 57 years ago has blossomed into an enterprise that serves meals to more than 1 million people daily.

It's the food operations of the F.W. Woolworth Co., which at the beginning of this year had 1,995 food and luncheonette departments in the United States and Canada.

Expansion is continuing, with 37 new restaurant operations scheduled to open in 1967, reports H. W. Bode, vice president and director of restaurant operations. Present facilities can seat nearly 100,000 customers at one time.

Frozen Valve May Be Used For Heart

ATLANTA (SS) — Frozen heart valves taken from cadavers and calves may soon replace plastic valves in open heart surgery.

Dr. John W. Kirkland of the University of Alabama Medical Center, Birmingham, one of the leading heart surgeons in the United States, has successfully transplanted frozen valves to 50 patients. He told the Georgia Heart Association meeting here that frozen heart valves from humans and calves are now available to specialists.

The advantage of the frozen valves over plastic ones is that they virtually eliminate problems of blood clotting which occur after heart surgery in 10 to 40 per cent of cases.

The human body apparently does not recognize the frozen valves as foreign bodies and therefore does not launch an immunological attack against them. One of the major obstacles in transplanting other organs, such as kidneys, is that the body will not tolerate them.

"Many imponderables remain — but some researchers, including a pioneer in Aukland, New Zealand, share my belief that use of donor valves is preferable in many cases," Dr. Kirkland says.

The New Zealand surgeon has had success with them in 400 patients, reporting no trouble in some instances as long as four years after the operation.

The main disadvantage of the natural valves is that installation takes up to twice as long as plastic valves. Surgeons feel open heart operations should be completed as quickly as possible. plastic valves come in varying sizes with neat loops that make them easy to attach to the heart.

The frozen ones have to be trimmed to fit after the patient's defective valve has been removed, and sewing them in place takes longer and requires greater skill.

Frozen Valve May Be Used For Heart

ATLANTA (SS) — Frozen heart valves taken from cadavers and calves may soon replace plastic valves in open heart surgery.

Dr. John W. Kirkland of the University of Alabama Medical Center, Birmingham, one of the leading heart surgeons in the United States, has successfully transplanted frozen valves to 50 patients. He told the Georgia Heart Association meeting here that frozen heart valves from humans and calves are now available to specialists.

The advantage of the frozen valves over plastic ones is that they virtually eliminate problems of blood clotting which occur after heart surgery in 10 to 40 per cent of cases.

The human body apparently does not recognize the frozen valves as foreign bodies and therefore does not launch an immunological attack against them. One of the major obstacles in transplanting other organs, such as kidneys, is that the body will not tolerate them.

"Many imponderables remain — but some researchers, including a pioneer in Aukland, New Zealand, share my belief that use of donor valves is preferable in many cases," Dr. Kirkland says.

The New Zealand surgeon has had success with them in 400 patients, reporting no trouble in some instances as long as four years after the operation.

The main disadvantage of the natural valves is that installation takes up to twice as long as plastic valves. Surgeons feel open heart operations should be completed as quickly as possible. plastic valves come in varying sizes with neat loops that make them easy to attach to the heart.

The frozen ones have to be trimmed to fit after the patient's defective valve has been removed, and sewing them in place takes longer and requires greater skill.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

For Health Reasons, Pollution Eradication Must Start Now

VAN DELLEN

In a recent issue of The Sciences it was reported that the weight of pollutants spewed into the atmosphere adds up to 142 million tons a year. This is 10 million tons more than the entire 1965 steel production of the United States.

Automobiles and trucks head the list of despoilers. Industries, power plants, and the burning of fuels to heat homes, offices, and apartments paper and lawn clippings. contribute their share. Each year every American throws away 1,800 pounds of garbage.

UNTIL RECENTLY, air pollution has been tolerated as being the price we pay for progress and prosperity. But many people fail to realize how much they personally contribute to this problem. As noted by a Department of Health, Welfare and Education deputy chief: "Even if he is an apartment dweller who eats in restaurants, dumps his refuse into a chute and uses public transportation, hardly ever does he consider that power plants operate to support his energy needs, incinerators and public or private dumps dispose of his refuse, factories produce the goods he demands, trucks deliver his necessities and luxuries and buses take him where he wants to go."

This should not be misconstrued to mean that the cost of air cleanliness should be passed along to the consumer. The citizen can do more by insisting that pollution be stopped at the source or by eliminating that source. An example of the first is to perfect devices that destroy unburned or partially burned hydrocarbons that otherwise escape through the exhaust pipe of the automobile.

ANOTHER IS to design better combustion motors. The greater the efficiency of the units the more completely they will utilize or consume all materials. The alternate is to eliminate the source — the internal combustion engine. This means the electric automobile or turbine-powered vehicles.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

Ulcer represents a local area in whick the wall of the stomach is being eaten away. When this erosion continues because of too much acidity or overactivity, the crater deepens until it perforates the wall of the stomach. As a result, the contents of the gastric pouch spill into the abdominal cavity. The result is a chemical peritonitis.

NO FEELING IN TOES

P.E.A. writes: Three toes on my right foot and two on my left are numb. Can anything be done about it?

REPLY

Numbness may be due to anemia, poor circulation, or neuritis. The distribution of the symptoms in your case warrants a thorough examination by a neurologist because a lesion in the spinal cord also induces these symptoms.

RIB SORENESS

K.B. writes: What causes aching ribs?

REPLY

Injury is the most common cause. Now and then arthritis affects the joints between the ribs and the breastbone in front, or the spine back. Involvement of the nerves and muscles between the ribs may be the origin of soreness in this area.

ALBUMIN IN INFANCY

Mrs. W.J. writes: Is albumin in the urine of a newborn dangerous?

REPLY

Not as a rule, as small amounts often are found in healthy infants during the first 10 days of life.

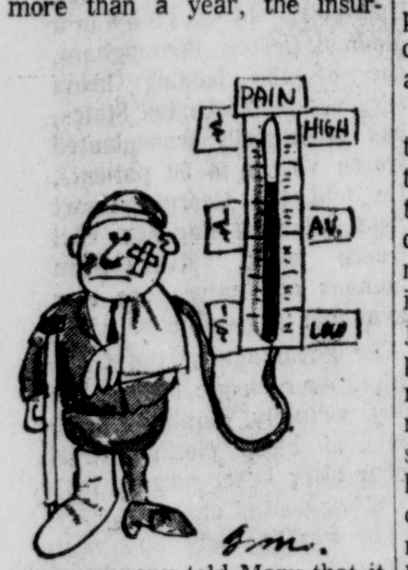
Injuries On The Job

Mary McCoy, a store clerk, hurt her back and hip when a heavy case of goods fell on her. The store carried insurance and Mary got medical care and payment for her loss of wages. When her injury lingered on for more than a year, the insurance company told Mary that it would not pay for any further treatment. Its doctor believed that she needed no more care.



Mary still complained of pains. A month later she went to several other doctors of her own choice. They all said that she had a ruptured disc which called for removal. Mary's operation was expensive, but she felt better.

Mary asked her employer's insurance carrier to pay the new medical bill. When it refused, she asked the Industrial Accident Commission to make it pay.

With some exceptions, no worker can ask his employer to pay for medical treatment, for an accident on the job, when he gets the treatment on his own.

When the employer refuses further medical care, even if based on the mistaken opinions of his own doctors, the worker can go about getting care from his own doctor. If he can show that he needed the added treatment to cure the injury, the worker can make the employer, his insurance carrier, pay.

The workmen's compensation laws require employers to insure their workers against injuries on the job or connected with their work. Medical care, payments while off work, and payments for any permanent injuries are all available to the worker whether or not he has been careless.

An employer may dispute his liability for the claimed injuries. He may also deny that the injury was connected with the work, or even deny that the person was his employee. Such disputes are argued before a special "administrative tribunal" and ruled upon by a referee.

These decisions are appealable to a higher body and, later, to the courts. The "administrative tribunal" is the Industrial Accident Commission which often names impartial medical examiners to review the worker's injuries to decide what kind of pay the worker should get. A rating is then made of permanent injuries, based upon their severity, the person's age and his past employment, and he receives payment for his permanent disability. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Average Life Of A Pakistani

KARACHI (UPI)—The average life span of a working Pakistani male is 55.5 years, according to the latest available figures on mortality conditions of the country.

The figures also revealed that 450 out of every 1,000 males may be expected to join the labor force between the ages of 10 and 14. With the retirement age based on 55, the average Pakistani male therefore has a working life duration of 41 to 45 years.

Somehow The Excuse Doesn't Hold Water

CHESTER, England (UPI)—The Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries told Arthur Stopford, 69, that he was too old to continue as chairman of the Committee for Inshore Fishermen.

A new chairman was elected. He was Charles Crowder, 77.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

In a recent issue of The Sciences it was reported that the weight of pollutants spewed into the atmosphere adds up to 142 million tons a year. This is 10 million tons more than the entire 1965 steel production of the United States.

Automobiles and trucks head the list of despoilers. Industries, power plants, and the burning of fuels to heat homes, offices, and apartments paper and lawn clippings. contribute their share. Each year every American throws away 1,800 pounds of garbage.

UNTIL RECENTLY, air pollution has been tolerated as being the price we pay for progress and prosperity. But many people fail to realize how much they personally contribute to this problem. As noted by a Department of Health, Welfare and Education deputy chief: "Even if he is an apartment dweller who eats in restaurants, dumps his refuse into a chute and uses public transportation, hardly ever does he consider that power plants operate to support his energy needs, incinerators and public or private dumps dispose of his refuse, factories produce the goods he demands, trucks deliver his necessities and luxuries and buses take him where he wants to go."

This should not be misconstrued to mean that the cost of air cleanliness should be passed along to the consumer. The citizen can do more by insisting that pollution be stopped at the source or by eliminating that source. An example of the first is to perfect devices that destroy unburned or partially burned hydrocarbons that otherwise escape through the exhaust pipe of the automobile.

ANOTHER IS to design better combustion motors. The greater the efficiency of the units the more completely they will utilize or consume all materials. The alternate is to eliminate the source — the internal combustion engine. This means the electric automobile or turbine-powered vehicles.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

Nun Beatified At St. Peter's

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Mother Fortunata, an Italian nun of the Benedictine Order who died 45 years ago, was beatified in St. Peter's Basilica yesterday.

Pope Paul VI later venerated the new blessed in the basilica. He was carried on his portable throne from the basilica's Piety Chapel to the main altar, from where he addressed a crowd of thousands.

The pontiff spoke on the life of Mother Maria Fortunata and urged those present to venerate her. Beatification is a step toward sainthood.

The second wedding anniversary is traditionally known as the Cotton Anniversary.

Nun Beatified At St. Peter's

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Mother Fortunata, an Italian nun of the Benedictine Order who died 45 years ago, was beatified in St. Peter's Basilica yesterday.

Pope Paul VI later venerated the new blessed in the basilica. He was carried on his portable throne from the basilica's Piety Chapel to the main altar, from where he addressed a crowd of thousands.

The pontiff spoke on the life of Mother Maria Fortunata and urged those present to venerate her. Beatification is a step toward sainthood.

The second wedding anniversary is traditionally known as the Cotton Anniversary.

Network Of Buoys Forecast For Oceans

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — A grid of buoys spanning the oceans would pay for itself through improved weather forecasts alone. Its coming is inevitable, according to engineers doing the planning. All that's holding it back is the lack of money and the fact that buoys that will stand up to the ocean's rigors long enough to do the job are still to be desinged.

A network might consist of around 3,000 buoys anchored at strategic locations in the world ocean. Weather and oceanographic information gathered by the buoys will most likely be relayed to data centers on shore via satellite. Oceanographers and meteorologists both agree that such a system is vital to further research.

"It's not a matter of whether to have (a network of) buoys," notes Dr. James Bush, "but when will we have them? There is no way you can forecast the weather in an area unless you can monitor the area."

Dr. Bush, president of Marine International, Inc., was chairman of the second International Buoy Technology Symposium/Exposition held recently. The meeting was sponsored by the Marine Technology Society.

No one has yet put more than a few buoys at a time out in the ocean. Nor have the buoys that have been set out had to function for more than a few months at a time between service calls by a ship.

Many of the buoys that could be considered forerunners of the national data buoy system have been built for one use by scientists who have not had the money to create long-lived systems. Often, scrap heaps have supplied their materials.

A prime reason for this, Dr. Bush points out, is the high cost of building and maintaining buoys of any size. Further, he notes, oceanographic data buoys must carry instruments whose operation is much more sensitive to the hostile ocean environment than the simple foghorn and lights of a Coast Guard navigation buoy.

"You might spend, say, $10,000 building a buoy and anchor. It might cost you twice as much to implant it in 'the sea and maintenance would cost that much again every year."

On the other hand, he says, the potential benefits of improved weather and sea state forecasts are certain to far overshadow even the vast cost of such an ambitious buoy program.

Shorter ship ocean crossing times, less time wasted by commercial fishermen looking for schools of fish and climatic predictions that could save farmers from early frosts are examples of possible benefits, Dr. Bush notes.

An assessment of the nation's need for such a buoy network and of present buoy programs sponsored by Federal agencies is being conducted by the Coast Guard for the National Council on Marine Resources and Engineering Development.

Purpose of the research is to design better equipment for longer-range communications.

Models A Hit With Sub-teens

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you are wondering what gift to get for a boy in the 9-to-13 age bracket, you can settle on model car racing and model building.

Interest in those two hobbies is almost double that in model planes, model trains or handicrafts.

The model building category covers such items as model cars, ships and boats, science and anatomical models, and personalities. While winter is the No. 1 hobby season, model building shows the most uniform degree of involvement the year around, ranging from more than 45 per cent in the spring to nearly 64 per cent in the winter, Gross said.

Scientist Using Rockets To Defect Change In Wind

(Special to the I-J)

LOS ANGELES — A young UCLA physicist is using sound waves to detect changes in temperatures and winds, with the upper atmosphere as his laboratory and Navy rockets as key tools.

His study of atmospheric pressure and energy changes may give scientists a better picture of the entire atmosphere and of how sound travels, and it may aid in predicting changes in the weather and oceans.

Dr. Uri Fehr of the UCLA Institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics works in the new field of geoacoustics, measuring certain natural phenomena on earth and its atmosphere through infrasonic waves, which are below the range of normally audible sound.

Storms, for instance, may loudly herald their coming through infrasonic waves, as do ocean waves, meteors, and possibly volcanoes before eruption.

In trying to learn the basic rules of geoacoustics, scientists face the problem of catching and pinpointing natural sound sources at just the right time and place, with instruments set up to make valid scientific measurements.

Instead of relying on nature, Dr. Fehr decided to set up his own controlled sound sources by tying in his experiments with scheduled rocket launchings at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

In future experiments, he plans to measure sound from the explosion of some 1,000 pounds of TNT, carried in the nose cone of a Sergeant rocket.

Untidy Hunters Hurt Own Game

NEW YORK (UPI)—The hunter turned litterbug is muzzling his own gun. Fields and forest lands in a number of states are being closed to hunting because of indiscriminate littering by careless nimrods, it was revealed in a recent survey of fish and game departments of the 50 states by Keep America Beautiful, Inc.

Thirteen states reported that land had been closed to hunters because of littering, and a number of others said that while they had no records it was assumed considerable acreage of private property had been posted because of litterbug activity.

Among states with records, North Dakota said 200 sites, comprising about 50,000 acres, had been closed. In Connecticut it was estimated that up to 3,500 acres a year are being closed to hunting. Some 10,000 acres have been closed in West Virginia.

Calf Turns Tables—Or Needles—On Vet

DEWSBURY, England (UPI)—The talk in this Yorkshire town is about the calf that gave the vet an injection.

Veterinarian Arthur Pomphrey was aiming his needle, filled with vaccine against undulant fever, at the calf's chest when the heifer twisted its body. The needle went into Pomphrey's finger. He suffered a swollen finger and an influenza-type fever.

Sign Protects Slow Vehicles

NEW YORK (UPI — Eight states have now passed legislation requiring or permitting the use of a "Slow Moving Vehicle" emblem (SMV) to protect motorists from rear-end collisions with slow vehicles. The triangular emblem combines a yellow-orange fluorescent center with a red reflective border on aluminum backing.

The emblems are designed for vehicles which operate at 25 miles an hour or less, such as snow removal equipment, tractors or other farm and construction vehicles. Five states — Nebraska, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio have made the emblem mandatory, and two states—Iowa and Vermont, have passed permissive legislation. California has authorized use of the emblem. Similar legislation is pending in other states.

Bare Budget Holidays Requested By Nudists

LONDON (UPI)—A nudist organization has applied to have the cost of its sun holidays to Corsica cut to the bare minimum. The Central Council for British Naturism asked the government's air transport licensing board to allow cheap charter tours to the Mediterranean island.

The council told the board many nudists wanted to travel to Corsica but there was no scheduled service. It asked for a tour fare of $131.

Coed Reporter Has Own Idea Of A Paper

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—What's a newspaper?

Monica Potts, a student reporter, asked herself that question and gave her answer in the Southwest High School newspaper "Pioneer."

A newspaper, stated Miss Potts, "is a huge mass of closely printed words produced on cheap paper."

But, she added "this huge, heavy bulk of paper, the most ignored and most noticed item in today's world, is the greatest single happening in the history of free men."

"A newspaper is the voice of sorrow, war and death," wrote Miss Potts. "It is also the voice of liberty, integrity, democracy and life. More people are affected directly by its news than by any other source in existence."

She said newspapers "form the main network of communications over the earth."

"Because of their influence, people are comforted and given hope," she said. "Here in one little newspaper is the reflection of all the peoples . . . their thoughts, opinions and actions.

"The printed word lives on forever, because it is imprinted, not just on paper, but on human lives."

Concluded Miss Potts:
